MONTANA REVISED CODES

TITLE 17—DAMAGES AND RELIEF

Chapter

5. Penal damages, 17-504.

8. Specific relief—performance of obligations, 17-807.

CHAPTER 1—RELIEF IN GENERAL

Repurchase of Stock

Forced sale of shareholder's stock pursuant to repurchase agreement and board of directors' resolution to exercise option to repurchase stock at fifty per cent of book value was not a harsh forfeiture within meaning of this section where the shareholder was allowed, as a fringe benefit to encourage participation in corporate affairs, to purchase the stock for less than one-half of book value and where he had agreed to the terms of the repurchase agreement whereby the corporation could buy back the stock at fifty per cent of book value in the event of termination of his employment. State ex rel. Howeth v. D. A. Davidson & Co., — M —, 517 P 2d 722.

CHAPTER 2—COMPENSATORY RELIEF—DAMAGES—INTEREST—EXEMPLARY DAMAGES

17-201. (8659) Person suffering detriment may recover damages.

Disability Insurance Policy

Insured was entitled to sue insurance company for actual damages for default on policy requiring it to pay car installments upon insured's disability as well as for exemplary damages since default was oppressive, malicious, or fraudulent, and in violation of statute requiring prompt payment of claim. State ex rel. Larson v. District Court, 149 M 131, 423 P 2d 598, distinguished in 157 M 40, 482 P 2d 567.

17-204. (8662) Person entitled to recover damages may recover interest, etc.

Interest on Judgment

Determination by the supreme court that the bank was liable for payment of dishonored checks (under section 87A-4-302) was based on contract law of negotiable instruments, and interest was ordered from the second day after the bank's receipt of the checks. Sun River Cattle Co. v. Miners' Bank of Montana, — M —, 525 P 2d 19.

Co., 90 M 52, 300 P 265; Ryan v. Ford Motor Co., 334 F Supp 674.

Time Interest Commences Running

Determination by the supreme court that the bank was liable for payment of dishonored checks (under section 87A-4-302) was based on contract law of negotiable instruments, and interest was ordered from the second day after the bank's receipt of the checks. Sun River Cattle Co. v. Miners' Bank of Montana, — M —, 525 P 2d 19.

Interest commenced running upon filing of complaint against surety company on bond where no demand had been made on surety until filing of complaint; such interest was due notwithstanding surety's contention that since damages were not certain until time of filing of judgment, it could not be charged with interest from time of filing of complaint. Lapke v. Hunt, 151 M 450, 443 P 2d 493.

Pre-judgment Interest

Pre-judgment interest on a wrongful death claim is forbidden. Wyant v. Dunn, 140 M 181, 368 P 2d 917; Daly v. Swift &

17-205. (8663) In actions other than contract.Conflicts

The conflicts principle requiring application of the law of the place of the tort for questions of pre-judgment interest has been followed by most courts. Ryan v. Ford Motor Co., 334 F Supp 674.

17-208. (8666) Exemplary damages, etc.Attractive Nuisance

In attractive nuisance case, parents of deceased child were not entitled to exemplary damages in absence of proof of willful disregard of duty or indifference on part of contractor which would permit inference of malice; exemplary damages are extraordinary in nature and are allowed as punishment where something more than mere negligence is alleged and proven. Gagnier v. Curran Constr. Co., 151 M 468, 443 P 2d 894.

Counterclaim

On counterclaim by debtor against bank suing on note of debtor, evidence showing that bank converted funds and property of debtor to satisfy obligations of debtor's son for which debtor was not responsible and evidence showing bona fide intent of debtor to pay note was sufficient to warrant award of exemplary damages to debtor. Security State Bank of Harlem v. Kittleson, 149 M 183, 425 P 2d 72.

Fraud in Contract

Fact that alleged trickery by carpet seller arose during the contracting for the sale and installation of the carpeting did not make it "arise from the contract" within this section; the action was in tort, independent of the contract, and exemplary damages were not barred by this section. Paulson v. Kustom Enterprises, Inc., 157 M 188, 483 P 2d 708.

Insurance Policy Default

Insured was entitled to sue insurance company for actual damages for default on policy requiring it to pay car installments upon insured's disability as well as for exemplary damages since default was oppressive, malicious, or fraudulent, and in violation of statute requiring prompt payment of claim. State ex rel. Larson v. District Court, 149 M 131, 423 P 2d 598, distinguished in 157 M 40, 482 P 2d 567.

Insurance Settlement

Where fraud of the insurer and agent in settling an automobile insurance claim by "cost of repair" and not "total loss" is alleged but no provision of the Insurance Code was violated, the insured was not entitled to exemplary damages. State ex rel. Cashen v. District Court, 157 M 40, 482 P 2d 567, distinguished in 157 M 181, 483 P 2d 709, 716.

Slander

Where homeowner's slanderous statements that builder had cheated him were made to numerous people in community over two-year period and where speaker stated that "he was going to tack his [builder's] hide to the wall," jury had basis for finding sufficient malice to justify award of punitive damages. McCusker v. Roberts, 152 M 513, 452 P 2d 408.

Water Rights Dispute

In action concerning disputed water rights plaintiff was not entitled to punitive damages under this section since defendants were not found to be guilty of oppression, fraud or malice; further, exemplary or punitive damages cannot be recovered in absence of award of actual damages. Smith v. Krutar, 153 M 325, 457 P 2d 459.

CHAPTER 3—MEASURE OF DAMAGES17-301. (8667) Measure of damages for breach of contract.*Certainty Required

Plaintiff who had to sell accounting business because of faulty computer, could not determine his damages by showing the difference between projected gross income for the year and his actual gross income. Lovely v. Burroughs Corp., — M —, 527 P 2d 557.

Contracts for Sale of Real Estate

This section was applicable to determine damages for breach of contract and tortious injury to personal and real property where action was based on provision of contract prohibiting waste; damages for waste were recoverable despite fact that section 17-307 makes no specific provision therefor since this section clearly expresses that an aggrieved party is entitled to receive compensation for the loss he sustains. Wiseman v. Holt, — M —, 517 P 2d 711.

Instructions on Damages

Where contract for erection of silo was abandoned by defendant after negligent efforts at erection ended with collapse of silo in windstorm, plaintiff was entitled to jury instructions on damages relating both to breach of contract and to negligence. Bos v. Dolajak, — M —, 534 P 2d 1258.

Sale of Land

In computing damages for sale of land constituting constructive fraud in that representations of acreage exceeded actual acreage, buyer was not entitled to damages for loss of profits based on number of cows which total ranch would support but was entitled to damages for missing acreage computed from contract value on per acre basis without distinction between deeded and leased land or fenced or open land. Hardin v. Hill, 149 M 68, 423 P 2d 309.

Silo Replacement

Where defendant constructed silo for dairy farmer in negligent manner such that wind blew it over just before completion, proper measure of damages was replacement cost of silo plus damages for loss of use less an amount for the foundation which remained usable. Bos v. Dolajak, — M —, 534 P 2d 1258.

Statutes Not Exclusive

Statutes on the measure of damages are not exclusive; damages in addition to those provided in the statutes are recoverable under this section. Wiseman v. Holt, — M —, 517 P 2d 711.

Unacceptable Installations

Proper measure of damages for faulty installation of showers in campground was the cost of reinforcing them and bringing them up to contract specifications. Haggerty v. Selsco, — M —, 534 P 2d 874.

17-302. (8668) Damages must be certain.

Profits

Where a contractor had lost his bonding capacity, and thereby future profits. because of a breach of contract by the state, and his accountants testified in detail as to his past earnings, net income, depreciation taken, etc., for 22 years, the jury's award of $78,000 was not too speculative as computed for the next 3 years, as the profits were reasonably foreseeable. Laas v. Montana State Highway Commission, 157 M 121, 483 P 2d 699.

17-307. (8673) Breach of agreement to buy real property.

Remedy Not Exclusive

This section did not provide mandatory and exclusive formulae to determine damages for breach of contract and tortious injury to personal and real property; damages for waste in action based on provision of contract prohibiting waste were properly recoverable under section 17-301 despite fact that this section did not provide specifically therefor. Wiseman v. Holt, — M —, 517 P 2d 711.

CHAPTER 4—DAMAGES FOR WRONGS

17-401. (8686) Breach of obligation other than contract.

Aggravation of Pre-existing Injury

Measure of damages in tort action includes damages for aggravation of pre-existing condition, but injured party is not entitled to recover damages which would have resulted from his previous condition even without aggravation; however, where it was reasonable to suppose that in absence of accident, intervertebral disc would have herniated within not more than two years, still injured party was entitled to damages resulting from hastening of back condition, including pain and suffering during additional period of disability reasonably caused by accident. Kegel v. United States, 289 F Supp 790.

Instructions on Damages

When contract for erection of silo was abandoned by defendant after negligent efforts at erection ended with collapse of silo in windstorm, plaintiff was entitled to jury instructions on damages relating both to breach of contract and to negligence. Bos v. Dolajak, — M —, 534 P 2d 1258.

Silo Replacement

Where defendant constructed silo for dairy farmer in negligent manner such that wind blew it over just before completion, proper measure of damages was replacement cost of silo plus damages for loss of use less an amount for the foundation which remained usable. Bos v. Dolajak, — M —, 534 P 2d 1258.

CHAPTER 5—PENAL DAMAGES

Section

17-504. Injuries inflicted in a duel—support of family of injured person.

17-504. (8697) Injuries inflicted in a duel—support of family of injured person. If any person slays or permanently disables another person in a duel in this state, the slayer must provide for the maintenance of the spouse of the person slain or permanently disabled, and for the minor children, in such manner and at such cost, either by aggregate compensation in damages to each, or by a monthly, quarterly, or annual allowance, to be determined by the court.

History: En. Sec. 4353, Civ. C. 1895; re-en. Sec. 6079, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 8697, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 11, Ch. 535, L. 1975. Cal. Civ. C. Sec. 3347.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment substituted "spouse" for "widow or wife."

CHAPTER 8—SPECIFIC RELIEF—PERFORMANCE OF OBLIGATIONS

Section

17-807. What cannot be specifically enforced.

17-801. (8714) In what cases compelled.Evidence

Court properly admitted extrinsic evidence in hearing on specific performance of contract to sell realty since contract description was general and surveyor's description was by metes and bounds, but both parties had originally agreed as to the location of the property and had signed the contract. Milkovich v. Orr, — M —, 529 P 2d 1382.

Inadequate Relief by Pecuniary Compensation

Under principle that monetary damages are presumed inadequate as remedy in contract for purchase of land, purchaser was entitled to specific performance notwithstanding seller's contention that presumption was rebutted by testimony of purchaser that he could ascertain damages if not allowed to obtain the property. Brown v. Griffin, 150 M 498, 436 P 2d 695.

Real Estate Sale

Agreement to sell real estate, giving general description of the property, which had been signed by all parties, was enforceable by specific performance since there was no question as to the location of the property and the purchasers had obtained a survey and made the down payment with the approval of the sellers' agents. Milkovich v. Orr, — M —, 529 P 2d 1382.

17-804. (8717) Distinction between real and personal property.Rebuttable Presumption

Under principle that monetary damages are presumed inadequate as remedy in contract for purchase of land, purchaser was entitled to specific performance notwithstanding seller's contention that presumption was rebutted by testimony of purchaser that he could ascertain damages if not allowed to obtain the property. Brown v. Griffin, 150 M 498, 436 P 2d 695.

17-807. (8720) What cannot be specifically enforced. The following obligations cannot be specifically enforced:

1 to 4. * * * [Same as parent volume.]

Chapter

5. Consumer reporting agencies, 18-501 to 18-521.

CHAPTER 1—DEBTOR AND CREDITOR—DEFINITIONS AND GENERAL PROVISIONS

Contingent Liability

Debtor's sale of property to pay all creditors except one did not violate statute in light of fact that excepted debt was contingent liability which debtor could reasonably anticipate would not become due and owing. White v. Nollmeyer, 151 M 387, 443 P 2d 873.

CHAPTER 4—DEBT ADJUSTERS

If after such reinvestigation such information is found to be inaccurate or can no longer be verified, the consumer reporting agency shall promptly delete the information and notify all users, of whom the consumer reporting agency has records, of the information's deletion. The users shall also delete the information.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

"General Election"

A general election is one held for the election of officers throughout the state. State ex rel. Rowe v. Kehoe, 49 M 582, 591, 144 P 162.

"Special Election"

A special election is one held to supply a vacancy in a public office, or one in which is submitted to the electors a proposition to raise money for any public improvement. State ex rel. Rowe v. Kehoe, 49 M 582, 591, 144 P 162.

"Vacancy"

The word vacancy as applied to a public office has no technical meaning, and it is not to be taken in a strict technical sense in every case. It may be said that an office is vacant when it is empty and without an incumbent who has a right to exercise its functions and take its fees or emoluments even though the vacancy is not a corporal one. "An office without an incumbent is vacant." LaBorde v. McGrath 116 M 283, 292, 149 P 2d 913.

of Montana" in former subdivision (1) (a), now (1) (b), for "twenty-one (21) years of age"; added to former subdivision (1) (a), now (1) (b), a provision for voting in federal elections by 18-year-olds; substituted "has met the residence requirements for voting provided in the constitution of the state of Montana" in former subdivision (1) (b), now (1) (c), for "must have resided in the state one (1) year"; added to former subdivision

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 40, Laws 1973 read "Section 11-716, R. C. M. 1947, is repealed."

Effective Date

Section 3 of Ch. 120, Laws 1971 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 1, 1971.

Racial Discrimination Prohibited

Congress is empowered, as it did in the Voting Rights Act Amendments of 1970, 42 U. S. C. § 1973aa, to prohibit use of literacy tests or other devices used to discriminate against voters on account of their race in all state and national elections. Oregon v. Mitchell, 400 US 112, 27 L Ed 2d 272, 91 S Ct 260.

Residence Requirements

As it did in the Voting Rights Act Amendments of 1970, 42 U. S. C. § 1973aa-1, Congress can prohibit states from disqualifying voters in elections for presidential and vice-presidential electors because they have not met state residency requirements, and can set residency requirements and provide for absentee balloting in presidential and vice-presidential elections. Oregon v. Mitchell, 400 US 112, 27 L Ed 2d 272, 91 S Ct 260.

Voting for Deceased Candidate

The casting of a ballot at an election of public officers is an affirmative, not a negative, act—an act done with intention of voting for someone; hence if it is the purpose of voters to defeat a certain candidate, that purpose can be accomplished only by voting for some person in opposition to him, and not by voting for a person who died some weeks before election with the expectation that the vote cast for him would be counted as opposed to the person sought to be defeated; one who has died is no longer a person for whom, under section 2, article IX of the constitution, a voter may cast his ballot. State ex rel. Wolff v. Guerink, 111 M 417, 426, 109 P 2d 1094, 133 ALR 304.

Sections 3 and 4, Ch. 158, Laws of 1971, purported to amend these sections. However, the purported amendments are void under the provisions of section 43-515.

23-2704. Notice and closing of registration for elections on incurring of state indebtedness other than for refunding or levy of tax. (1) If the question of state indebtedness, issuance of bonds or debentures other than for refunding, or the levy of a tax for state purposes, is submitted at an election other than a general biennial election, the registrar of each county shall publish in the official county newspaper, a notice signed by him, stating that registration will close at noon on the fortieth (40th) day prior to the date of the election unless the act providing for the submission of the question fixes a different time for the giving of notice. The notice shall be published ten (10) days or more prior to the date when registration will be closed unless the act providing for submission of the question fixes a different time for closing registration.

(2) If the question is to be submitted at a general biennial election, notice and the closing of registration shall be governed by the laws applying to general biennial elections. The provisions of section 37-107, R. C. M. 1947 apply to the printing and distribution of copies of the proposed law.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Objection Waived

The objection that a measure creates a state debt, levy, or liability, and that therefore it should have been placed upon a separate ballot, is waived if not raised before the election. State ex rel. Graham v. Board of Examiners, 125 M 419, 239 P 2d 283, 290.

23-2705. Privilege from arrest. Electors are privileged from arrest during their attendance at elections and in going to and from voting places except in cases of treason, felony, or breach of the peace.

(2) Have a pamphlet printed containing an exact copy of the proposed amendment or amendments, an exact copy of existing constitutional provisions to be revised, and the amendment or amendments in the form in which it or they will be printed on the official ballot. The printed pamphlets shall be distributed as provided in section 37-107, R. C. M. 1947.

History: En. Sec. 12, Ch. 368, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 38, L. 1973.

Compiler's Notes

In a letter to the secretary of state dated March 23, 1970, the attorney general of Montana ruled that, despite this section, the secretary of state is required to publish proposed constitutional amendments once each week for three months, as required by sec. 9, article XIX, constitution of 1889. But see secs. 8 and 9 (2), article XIV, constitution of 1972.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment changed the publication requirement in subdivision (1) from once each week for four weeks to twice each month for two months; substituted "election at which they are to be voted upon by the people" in subdivision (1) for "next general biennial election"; inserted "commonly circulated" near the end of subdivision (1); and made minor changes in phraseology.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Referendums

Legislature, by repealing section 537, R. C. M. 1935 and leaving in effect section requiring publication of proposed constitutional amendments, indicated its intent to dispense with publication prior to general election of legislative acts referred to the people by the legislature, or the governor's proclamation that such act would be voted upon at such election. Nordquist v. Ford, 112 M 278, 283, 114 P 2d 1071.

CHAPTER 29

PROCLAMATIONS AND PUBLICATIONS

Section

- 23-2901. Election proclamation by the governor—contents.
- 23-2902. Publication and posting by county commissioners.
- 23-2903. Election proclamation by county commissioners.
- 23-2904. Copies of election laws to be furnished registrar—registrar to distribute to precincts.

23-2901. Election proclamation by the governor—contents. Sixty (60) days or more before a general election, the governor shall issue an election proclamation and transmit a copy to each board of county commissioners. The proclamation shall contain:

- (1) A statement of the time of the election and the offices to be filled;
- (2) An offer of rewards stating: "There is a reward of one hundred dollars ($100) for the arrest and conviction of any person violating any of the provisions of sections 23-4701 through 23-4724, R.C.M. 1947. Rewards will be paid until the total amount expended reaches the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000).

History: En. Sec. 13, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Office Not Mentioned

The governor issued his proclamation giving notice of a general election and omitted therefrom the mention of an election of three judges for the second judicial district, and called for the election of two judges. Upon mandamus proceedings against the governor, the relator claimed that three judges should have been mentioned in the proclamation, and that he was elected and entitled to receive from the governor a commission as judge. As it failed to appear that the electors voted for more than two candidates for judgeships, the petition was dismissed. State ex rel. Breen v. Toole, 32 M 4, 8, 79 P 403.

Sufficiency of Notice

A statement in the proclamation of the governor giving notice of a general election, that among other officers there was to be elected "also a district judge, in any judicial district where a vacancy may exist," was not such a notice of the necessity of filling a vacancy by election. State ex rel. Patterson v. Lentz, 50 M 322, 343, 146 P 932.

The governor's proclamation should state the offices to be filled, especially where a state office, such as a judgeship, held by his appointee, is to be filled; but, if the people have actual notice that a judge is to be elected and indicate their choice, no insufficiency of notice, in the governor's proclamation, of a vacancy in that office, in any particular district, or other informality in the election, will suffice to defeat their will, as expressed by their votes. State ex rel. Patterson v. Lentz, 50 M 322, 343, 146 P 932.

23-2902. Publication and posting by county commissioners. When a proclamation prescribed by section 23-2901 is received, the commissioners shall have a copy published in a newspaper published in the county if a newspaper is published therein, otherwise in a newspaper of general circulation therein, and shall post a copy ten (10) days or more before the election at each polling place.

History: En. Sec. 14, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-2903. Election proclamation by county commissioners. When a special election is ordered by the commissioners, they must issue an election proclamation containing the statement contained in section 23-2901 (1). The statement must be published and posted in the same manner as a proclamation issued by the governor.

History: En. Sec. 15, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Notice Not Proclamation

The notice of election does not take the place of the election proclamation. Evers v. Hudson, 36 M 135, 154, 92 P 462.

Public Improvements

Prior section had no reference to elections held for raising money for public improvements. The power conferred in this behalf is exercised under special provisions on the subject, found in that part of the codes relating to county government. State ex rel. Rowe v. Kehoe, 49 M 582, 592, 144 P 162.

Vacancies

In case of vacancies in county offices, boards of county commissioners have the power, and it is their duty, to call and provide for the holding of special elections to fill them. State ex rel. Rowe v. Kehoe, 49 M 582, 592, 144 P 162.

23-2904. Copies of election laws to be furnished registrar—registrar to distribute to precincts. The secretary of state shall publish copies of the election laws and laws which relate to elections. He shall transmit sufficient copies to each registrar. The registrar shall furnish each election precinct in his county with two (2) copies.

History: En. Sec. 16, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

History: En. Sec. 35, Ch. 368, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 385, L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment rewrote subdivision (1) (a) which formerly read, "Close all registration for forty (40) days before any election"; substituted "Sixty days before the election" for "Twenty (20) days before the closing" at the beginning of the second paragraph of subdivision (1) (b); and made minor changes in style and phraseology.

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 385, Laws 1971 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 15, 1971.

Durational Residency Requirements

Durational residency requirements of 3 months in county and one year in state as conditions precedent to voting violate the equal protection clause of the fourteenth amendment; unreasonableness of the classification was established by the fact that the registration books in Tennessee were not closed until 30 days before the election and this was ample time to complete whatever administrative tasks were necessary to ensure the purity of the ballot box. Dunn v. Blumstein, 405 US 330, 31 L Ed 2d 274, 92 S Ct 995, distinguished in 410 US 752, 757, 36 L Ed 2d 1, 93 S Ct 1245, 1249, 463 F 2d 54, 56, 468 F 2d 1213, 1216, 341 F Supp 1187, 1191, 350 F Supp 646, 651, 388 F Supp 1139, 1143, explained in 506 F 2d 900, 902.

23-3017. Registration while registry closed preceding election. During the time when the registry is closed preceding any election, a person may register and the registrar shall keep his registry card in a separate file until the official register is again open. At that time, all cards in the temporary file shall be placed in their proper position in the official register.

History: En. Sec. 36, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3018. Name on precinct register prima facie evidence of right to vote—elector's identity—election judges' duties as to precinct register.

(1) A person shall not vote at an election mentioned in this act unless his name appears on election day in the copy of the official precinct register furnished by the registrar to the election judges. The fact that his name appears in the copy of the precinct register is prima facie evidence of his right to vote.

(2) If the election judges have good reason to believe, or if they are informed by a qualified elector that the person offering to vote is not the person registered in that name, he shall not be allowed to vote until he has proved his identity by the oath of two (2) reputable electors of the precinct in which he is registered.

(3) The election judges in each precinct at every general or special election in a precinct register certified to them by the registrar shall:

(a) Mark a cross (X) upon the line opposite the name of the elector;

(b) Require the elector to sign his name upon one of the precinct registers;

(c) Require an elector, who is not able to sign his name, to produce two (2) electors who shall make an affidavit before the election judges in a form prescribed by the secretary of state. One of the election judges shall write on the affidavit the elector's name, note his inability to sign, and the names of the electors making affidavits. The affidavits shall be returned to the registrar with the other election records.

History: En. Sec. 37, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Failure To Sign

Failure of the election judges of a precinct to require the electors to sign the registry books before voting at a primary election was the fault of the judges and not of the electors, and therefore their votes were legal and properly counted. Thompson v. Chapin, 64 M 376, 383, 209 P 1060.

23-3019. Joinder of parties in proceedings to compel registrar to enter name in precinct register. In any action or proceeding instituted in a district court to compel the registrar to enter the name of any elector in the precinct register, as many persons may be joined as plaintiffs for cause of action and as many persons as there are causes of action may be joined as defendants.

History: En. Sec. 38, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3020. Erroneous omission of name from precinct register—certificate.

(1) An elector whose name is erroneously omitted from a precinct register or other election register may secure from the registrar a certificate of the error stating the precinct in which he is entitled to vote and present the certificate to the election judges which will entitle him to vote.

(2) The certificate shall be marked "voted" by the election judges and returned by them with the precinct register.

History: En. Sec. 39, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3021. Registration by naturalized citizen. When a naturalized citizen applies for registration, he must produce a certificate of naturalization or a certified copy upon which the registrar must enter the date and county where presented. The registrar must also enter the applicant's name.

History: En. Sec. 40, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3022. Residence, rules for determining. For registration or voting, the residence of any person shall be determined by the following rules as far as they are applicable.

(1) The residence of a person is where his habitation is fixed, and to which, whenever he is absent, he has the intention of returning.

(2) A person may not gain or lose a residence while kept involuntarily at any public institution not necessarily at public expense, while confined in any public prison, or while residing on a military reservation.

(3) A person in the armed forces of the United States may not become a resident in consequence of being stationed at a military facility in the state. A person may not acquire a residence by reason of being employed or stationed at a training or other transient camp maintained by the United States within the state.

(4) A person does not lose his residence if he goes into another state, or other district of this state, for temporary purposes with the intention of returning unless he exercises the election franchise in the other state or district.

(5) A person may not gain a residence in a county if he comes in for temporary purposes without the intention of making that county his home.

(6) If a person moves to another state with the intention of making it his residence, he loses his residence in this state.

(7) If a person moves to another state with the intention of residing there for an indefinite time, he loses his residence in this state even though he intends to return to this state at some future period.

(8) The place where a person's family resides is presumed that person's place of residence. However, a person who takes up or continues a residence at a place other than where his family resides with the intention of remaining is a resident of the place where he resides.

(9) A change of residence can only be made by the act of removal joined with intent to remain in another place. There can only be one residence.

(10) The term of residence must be computed by including the day of election.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1975, once by Ch. 164 and once by Ch. 177. Neither amendatory act mentioned the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment deleted "while employed in the service of the United States or of this state" after "lose a residence" in subdivision (2); and made a minor change in punctuation.

Chapter 164, Laws of 1975, substituted references to "person's" and "person" in subdivision (8) for references to "man's" and "man"; substituted "resides" for "resided" before "with the intention of remaining" in subdivision (8); substituted "day" for "date" in subdivision (10); and made minor changes in phraseology.

Chapter 177, Laws of 1975, deleted "while a student at any institution of learning" in subdivision (2); and substituted "day" for "date" in subdivision (10).

Acts and Intent of Voter

The residence of a voter is to be determined from his acts and intent; but this fact, like any other fact involved in a civil action or proceeding, may be established by circumstantial evidence, and any declarations of the voter touching the subject, if a part of the res gestae, or any declarations in disparagement of his right to vote, if made at or before the election, may be received in evidence. Sommers v. Gould, 53 M 538, 544, 165 P 599.

Inapplicable to Licensing of Automobiles

Section prescribing the conditions determining the right to vote with respect to residence of the voter had no bearing upon the situs of one's property (an automobile) or the ownership thereof for purpose of taxation, or licensing. Valley County v. Thomas, 109 M 345, 386, 97 P 2d 345.

Presumption

Predecessor to subdivision (8) was held to be in reality a rule of evidence. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 602, 101 P 153.

Residency Requirements

lot box. Dunn v. Blumstein, 405 US 330, 31 L Ed 2d 274, 92 S Ct 995, distinguished in 410 US 752, 757, 36 L Ed 2d 1, 93 S Ct 1245, 1249; 463 F 2d 54, 56; 468 F 2d 1213, 1216; 341 F Supp 1187, 1191; 350 F Supp 646, 651; 388 F Supp 1139, 1143; explained in 506 F 2d 900, 902.

(3) A copy of the list of registered voters shall be posted at the polling place. Sufficient copies of the lists shall be retained by the registrar and furnished to an elector upon request.

(4) If no declarations of nomination have been filed forty (40) days before a primary election of city offices, the city clerk shall immediately notify the registrar in writing and the list of registered electors for the city shall not be printed.

(5) The list of registered voters prepared for a primary election may be used for the general election only if a supplemental list giving the names of electors who have registered after the first list was prepared is printed.

(6) The expense of printing this list shall be paid by the county or city in which the election is to be held.

(2) The commissioners of each county shall establish a convenient number of election precincts equalizing the number of electors in each precinct as nearly as possible.

(3) The commissioners may change the boundaries of precincts but not between January 1 and December 1 in any year during which a general biennial election will be held, except that the commissioners may change the boundaries of precincts in the year during which a general biennial election will be held when the changes are required to make precinct boundaries conform to legislative district boundaries following the adoption of reapportionment plans under article V, section 14, of the 1972 Montana constitution. where the election will be held at the session at which election judges are appointed. Copies of the order must be posted immediately in three (3) public places in the precinct."

Changing Designation

Where a board of county canvassers refused to canvass election returns from a precinct on the ground that it appeared upon the face of the returns that the election had not been held at the place designated by the board of county commissioners, and on application for writ of mandate to compel them to act, nothing was shown affirmatively by pleadings or otherwise that the judges of election at the precinct had not pursued this section giving them authority to change the place of election upon two days' notice if for any reason it cannot be held at the place appointed, it will be presumed that official duty was regularly performed by them and that they did change it, and the writ will issue commanding action. State ex rel. Moore v. Patch, 65 M 218, 225, 211 P 202.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Constitutional Convention

Legislative assembly was not empowered to provide for nomination and election of delegates to constitutional convention under article XIX, sec. 8 of the 1889 constitution solely by nonpartisan means, since this would be a substantial change from manner of election and nomination provided for under this chapter. Forty-Second Legislative Assembly v. Lennon, 156 M 416, 481 P 2d 330, distinguished in 159 M 176, 185, 496 P 2d 1120, 1125.

23-3302. Primaries in cities over certain size—procedure. In cities having a population of three thousand five hundred (3,500) or more as shown by the most recent federal or state census:

- (1) The nomination of candidates by primary election for city offices shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter;
- (2) Political parties shall file declarations of nominations for city offices with the city clerk;
- (3) The duties of the city clerk are the same as the registrar in conducting the primary elections, and the city clerk shall send notices of the primary election in the same manner as registrars send notices for nominations for county offices at primary elections;
- (4) On the fourteenth day preceding a city election, the cities shall hold primary elections;

(5) If no declarations are filed forty (40) days or more before the primary election, no primary election shall be held and the city clerk shall certify to the registrar thirty-five (35) days or more before the date of the primary election that no petitions have been filed;

(6) The council shall;

(a) establish city voting precincts and wards,

(b) appoint city judges and clerks of elections and other officers necessary for the election,

Time for Filing Acceptance by Write-in Candidate

Under prior statute requiring write-in candidate to file within ten days after "election," the term "election" meant the day of election and not the day on which the canvass of the ballots was completed, hence a candidate for house of representatives who filed acceptance 18 days after election was not entitled to a writ of mandate to compel the county clerk to include his name on the general election official ballot. State ex rel. Wulf v. McGrath, 111 M 96, 97, 106 P 2d 183.

23-3305. Deadline for filing nominating declarations—persons with whom filed. Nominating declarations shall be filed not later than 5 p. m. forty (40) days before the date of the primary election. Declarations for nomination to an office filled by election throughout the state, as judge of a district court, to an office filled by election in more than one (1) county, or as a member of the legislative assembly shall be filed with the secretary of state. Declarations for nomination to an office filled by election in one (1) county, or district or city shall be filed with the registrar or city clerk.

History: En. Sec. 60, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3306. Register of candidates—public record—disposition of pollbooks, tally sheets, ballots, etc. (1) The secretary of state, registrar, and city clerk shall keep a "Register of Candidates for Nomination at the Primary Nominating Election." The entries in the register shall contain on separate pages for each political party showing:

(a) The title of the office sought, and the name and residence of each candidate;

(b) The name of his political party;

(c) The date of receiving the declaration for nomination signed by the candidate;

(d) Other information as may aid in arranging the official ballot.

(2) Immediately after the canvass of votes of the primary election, the officer shall enter in the register the date of entry, the name of each candidate nominated, the office for which he is nominated, and the name of the party making the nomination.

(3) When filed, the registers, declarations of nomination, letters and notices, and other documents required by law are public records and open to inspection under proper regulation. Certified copies shall be available upon payment of the fee.

(4) The registrar shall keep all pollbooks, tally sheets, ballots, ballot stubs, and other documents for one (1) year, and then he shall destroy them.

History: En. Sec. 61, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3307. Arrangement of information concerning candidates—duties of secretary of state—duties of registrar or city clerk. (1) Not more than forty (40) days and not less than thirty-two (32) days before the date of the primary election, the secretary of state shall:

(a) Arrange all names and information concerning candidates contained in the valid nominating declarations;

(b) Certify the arrangement under state seal, file it in his office, and transmit a duplicate by registered mail to each registrar;

(c) Post a duplicate in a conspicuous place in his office until after the primary election.

(2) Not more than thirty (30) days, and not less than twenty (20) days before the date of the primary election, the registrar or city clerk shall:

(a) Arrange, as required by law, the names and other information concerning the candidates and parties named in the valid nominating declarations which have been certified to him or filed with him;

(c) Have colored sample ballots and the official ballots printed as required by law.

History: En. Sec. 62, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

(2) Candidates' names shall be arranged alphabetically by surnames, under the offices and under the proper party designation. The names of the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor shall be arranged by the surname of the candidate for governor. When two (2) or more persons are candidates for nomination for the same office, the registrar shall divide the ballot to provide a rotation of the names of the candidates as follows:

(a) Divide all county ballot forms into sets equal in number to the greatest number of candidates for nomination or election to any office;

(b) Arrange the sets so that candidates' names are rotated by removing one name from the top of the list for each nomination or office and place the name or number at the bottom of the list for each successive set of ballot forms; however, in printing ballots for use in any one (1) precinct, only one (1) set shall be used and they shall be identical;

(c) If an elector writes the name of a person upon a ballot, and the person's name appears as a candidate upon another ballot, the ballot shall count for the person only as a candidate of the party upon whose ticket his name is written;

(d) If a person is nominated upon more than one (1) ticket, not later than ten (10) days after the election he shall file written notification with the secretary of state, registrar, or city clerk the party under which his name is to appear upon the ballot for the general election, and, if he fails to notify the proper officers, his name shall appear under the party with whom his nominating declaration was first filed;

(e) If a person fails to be nominated upon the party ticket contained in his nominating declaration, his name shall not be printed upon any ballot with party designation;

(f) This act does not preclude an elector from having his name printed upon the ballot as an independent candidate, and no candidate shall have his name printed on more than one (1) ticket.

(3) Ballots shall be printed on white paper in the form of the Australian ballot and the candidates of each party shall be printed on a separate ticket.

(4) After preparing his ballot, the elector shall detach it from the remaining tickets and fold it so that the face is concealed and the official stamp is seen;

(a) The elector shall fold the remaining tickets, vote the marked ballot without leaving the polling place, and deposit the remaining tickets in a separate box marked as the blank ballot box;

(b) Immediately after the recount period, the election judges shall, without examination, destroy the tickets deposited in the blank ballot box.

Section 2 of Ch. 59, Laws 1971 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved February 24, 1971.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Error in Certificate

Under the law governing conventions and primary meetings, an error in the party name on the certificate of nomination rendered it void. State ex rel. Scharnikow v. Hogan, 24 M 397, 401, 62 P 683.

The inadvertent failure to include the name of a convention nominee for a certain office in the certificate of nominations renders the certificate insufficient. State ex rel. Galen v. Hays, 31 M 227, 231, 78 P 301.

Party Candidate

It is by means of the certificate of nomination that the county clerk is informed how to prepare the official ballot for the electors. The secretary of state cannot certify a candidate nominated by electors, as the candidate of a political party, for clearly he is not such a candidate and has no place in a group of candidates certified as nominated by a regular political party convention or organization, under the name of the party making such nomination. State ex rel. Woody v. Rotwitt, 18 M 502, 510, 511, 46 P 370.

Time of Filing

Prior law requiring certificates of nomination to be filed with the secretary of state not more than sixty nor less than thirty days before election was mandatory and a certificate of original nominations made at a party convention could not be filed less than thirty days before election. State ex rel. Galen v. Hays, 31 M 227, 230, 78 P 301.

23-3318.1. Determination of number of signatures required in census divisions. In the case of candidates for the Montana House of Representatives, the Montana Senate, and the Montana Constitutional Convention who may be required to run in districts embracing census enumerator divisions located in more than one county, the secretary of state shall, for those counties split along census enumerator divisions, determine the number of signatures needed for nominating petitions of independent candidates in such districts. The determination shall be based on the most recent federal census population figures for the district.

Section 2 of Ch. 6, 2nd Ex. Laws

1971 read "This act is effective on its passage and approval and shall remain in effect until such time as the procedures in section 23-3318, R. C. M. 1947, can be followed."

23-3319. Certificates of nominations to be preserved—certification of candidates' names and descriptions—statement of votes received by candidate. (1) The secretary of state, registrars, and city clerks shall preserve all certificates of nominations for one (1) year. All certificates shall be open to public inspection under rules adopted by the various offices.

(1) Every political party which received three per cent (3%) or more of the total vote cast for governor at the next preceding general election in the county, district, or state for which nominations are proposed to be made, shall nominate its candidate for public office in the county, district or state under this act.

(2) Every political party, and its regularly nominated candidates, members and officers, has the sole and exclusive right to the use of the party name. No candidate for office may use any word of the name of any other political party or organization other than that by which he is nominated.

(3) An independent or nonpartisan candidate shall not use any word of the name of any existing political party or organization in his candidacy.

(4) The names of candidates for public office nominated under this act shall be printed on the official ballots for the ensuing election as the only candidates of the respective parties for public office in the same manner as the names of the candidates nominated by other methods are required to be printed on the official ballots.

Use of Term "Independent"

Assuming (but not deciding) that an existing political party may use the term "Independent" in its party name, such use cannot deprive another candidate from employing that term in designating the character of his candidacy for the same office, and section prohibiting an independent candidate from using any word of the name of an existing political party has no application in such circumstances. State ex rel. Wheeler v. Stewart, 71 M 358, 361, 230 P 366.

23-3321. Declining nomination—vacancies before and after primary.

(1) Twenty (20) days or more before the election, a person nominated for public office may decline the nomination by a writing sent to the office with which his nominating declaration is filed. In city elections, the declination shall be made ten (10) days or more before the election.

(3) When a vacancy occurs in the office of a candidate after the primary and before the general election in any district however constituted, the vacancy shall be filled as follows:

(a) The vacancy shall be filled by a committee of three (3) members selected from each county or district by the county central committees of the county or district of the affected political party.

(b) The secretary of the committee shall transmit a certificate to the secretary of state with the information contained on the original certificate plus the cause of the vacancy, the name of the person nominated, the office to be filled, and the name of the person for whom the nomination was made.

(c) When the certificate is filed with the secretary of state accompanied by the proper filing fee he shall insert the name of the person nominated to fill the vacancy.

(d) If the secretary of state has certified the nominations to the registrars, he shall immediately certify to the registrars the name of the person nominated to fill the vacancy, the office to be filled, the party or political principle he represents, and the name of the person for whom the nominee is substituted.

(4) A vacancy in the position of candidate for governor or lieutenant governor shall not affect the candidacy of the other joint candidate.

where question was raised after election. Stackpole v. Hallahan, 16 M 40, 51, 40 P 80.

Defective Proceedings

An election will not be declared void by reason of nonprejudicial defects in the manner in which nomination was declined

Where a candidate for re-election to a county office died 24 days before election, his death known generally to electors, but his name placed on ballot and majority voted for him supposing to retain his widow, appointed to fill the vacancy, until the next general election, a write-in candidate whom they intended to defeat, receiving the highest vote cast for any living person, held, on his application for writ of mandate to compel the county canvassing board to reconvene and cause certificate of election issued to him, that write-in candidate elected and entitled to the office. State ex rel. Wolff v. Geurkink,

(4) Next shall be the words "INITIATIVES, REFERENDUMS, AND CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS," in boldface type, and listed thereunder shall be all proposed constitutional amendments and measures to be voted which do not involve the creation of any state levy, debt, or liability. redesignated the succeeding items in subdivision (1).

The 1974 amendment substituted "Public service commissioners" for "Railroad and public service commissioners" in subdivision (1)(a)(i).

Amendments

The 1973 amendment combined former subdivisions (1) (d) and (1) (e); and 23-3514. Blank space and margin. (1) Below the names of candidates for each office there must be enough blank spaces to contain as many written names of candidates as there are persons to be elected.

(2) There must be a margin on each side of at least one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) inch in width, and a reasonable space between the names, so that the voter may clearly indicate the candidate for whom he wishes to cast his ballot.

23-3515. Stub, size and contents. (1) The ballot shall be printed on the same leaf with a stub, and separated by a perforated stub.

(2) The stub shall extend the entire width of the ballot, and have instructions printed on it.

(3) Upon the face of the stub shall be printed, in type called brevier capitals, the following:

(a) "This ballot should be marked with an 'X' in the square before the names of each person or candidate for whom the elector intends to vote. The elector may write in blank spaces, or paste over another name, the name of a person for whom he wishes to vote, and vote by marking an 'X' in the square before the name."

(b) "If a ballot contains a constitutional amendment, or other question to be submitted to a vote of the people, it is voted on by marking an 'X' in the square before the amendment or question."

(4) On the front of the stub shall be printed or stamped by the registrar or other officer, the consecutive number of the ballot, beginning with number one (1) and increasing in regular numerical order to the total number of ballots required for the precinct.

History: En. Sec. 98, Ch. 368, L. 1969; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 414, L. 1975.

History: En. Sec. 99, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3517. Short-term and long-term elections for same office—order of offices on ballot. (1) If there is a short-term and a long-term election for the same office, the long-term office shall precede the short-term.

(2) Above each group of candidates for each office shall be printed the words designating the particular office in boldface capital letters and directly underneath the words, "VOTE FOR," followed by the number to be elected to such office.

(3) The ballot shall be in a form prescribed by the secretary of state.
History: En. Sec. 100, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Compiler's Notes

Sections 23-4707, 23-4711, 23-4712, 23-4713, 23-4714, and 23-4715, referred to in subdivision (4) (d), were originally numbered 94-1407, 94-1411, 94-1412, 94-1413, 94-1414, and 94-1415. For text, see bound Volume Eight under the latter numbers.

The compiler has substituted the reference to "chapter 35" for a reference to "chapter 6" in subsection (5).

23-3602. Proclamation prior to opening and closing polls. Before the polls are opened or closed that fact must be proclaimed at the place of election.

History: En. Sec. 102, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3603. Delivery of official ballots to elector. (1) The election judges must designate two (2) of their number to deliver ballots to electors.

(2) Before delivery, the election judges shall stamp the words "official ballot" on the back and near the top of the ballot. They shall also stamp other words required by section 23-3503.

(3) The election clerks shall enter on the poll lists the name of the elector and the number of the stub attached to the ballot given him.

(4) Each elector shall receive one (1) ballot from the election judges.

History: En. Sec. 103, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Stamping of Official Ballot

Where ballots had been delivered to electors by the judges of election with the official stamp apparently in the place in which the law requires it to be, although in reality it was on the stub instead of on the ballot proper, the act of the judges in removing the stamp with the stub—thus leaving the ballot without the stamp—did not render the ballot void. Harrington v. Crichton, 53 M 388, 164 P 537.

23-3604. Sufficient booths to be provided—only one person to occupy booth—may be ejected after occupying booth for unreasonable time. (1) All officers who designate polling places shall:

(a) Provide in each polling place a sufficient number of booths. The officers must furnish each booth with a door or curtain to screen the voter from observation;

(b) Furnish the booths adequately to enable the elector to prepare his ballot;

(c) Furnish at least one (1) booth for every fifty (50) electors registered in the precinct.

(2) No more than one (1) person may occupy a booth at one (1) time, and no person may occupy a booth longer than is reasonably necessary to prepare his ballot, after which the election judges may eject him.

History: En. Sec. 104, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3605. Prohibited conduct. (1) An election officer shall not do any electioneering on election day.

(2) A person shall not do any electioneering on election day, within any polling place, in any building in which an election is being held, or within two hundred (200) feet of the building where the polling place is located.

(3) A person shall not obstruct the entries to a polling place.

(4) An election officer, sheriff, constable, or other peace officer may clear the passageway, prevent any obstruction, and arrest any person obstructing the passageway to a polling place.

(5) A person shall not remove a ballot from the polling place before the closing of the polls.

(6) A person shall not show the contents of his ballot to any other person after it is marked.

(7) A person shall not solicit the elector to show the contents of his ballot; nor shall any person, except the election judge, receive from any elector a ballot prepared for voting.

(8) An elector shall not receive a ballot from any other person than one of the election judges, nor shall any person other than an election judge deliver a ballot to an elector.

(9) An elector shall not vote any ballot except one received from the election judges.

(10) An elector shall not place any mark upon his ballot by which it may be identified as the one voted by him.

(11) An elector who does not vote a ballot delivered to him shall, before leaving the polling place, return the ballot to the election judges.

Cross-References

Solicitation of votes on election day, sec. 23-4753.

Disclosing contents of ballot after marking, penalty, 23-4714.

23-3606. Method of voting. (1) On receipt of his ballot, the elector must immediately retire to one of the booths and prepare his ballot.

(2) He shall prepare his ballot by marking an "X" in the square before the name of the person or persons for whom he intends to vote.

(3) If the ballot contains a constitutional amendment, or other question to be submitted to the vote of the people, he shall mark an "X" in the applicable square indicating his vote either for or against the amendment or question.

(4) The elector may write in the blank spaces, or paste over any other name, the name of any person for whom he wishes to vote, and vote for that person by marking an "X" before the name.

(5) After preparing his ballot the elector must fold it so the face of the ballot will be concealed and the endorsements may be seen, and hand it to the election judges who shall announce the name of the elector and the printed or stamped number on the stub in a loud tone of voice. The judge must announce the voter's name and record the name in the pollbook. If the voting is in a city, the voter's residence shall also be announced and recorded in the pollbook.

(6) If the elector is entitled to vote, and if the printed or stamped number is the same as that entered on the pollbooks as the number on the stub, the judge shall receive the ballot, and remove the stub in sight of the elector depositing each ballot in the ballot box and each stub in a box for detached ballot stubs.

(7) Any elector who spoils his ballot may, on returning the spoiled ballot, receive another in place of it.

History: En. Sec. 106, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Deposit of Ballot

Act of voting is not completed until the ballot is deposited in the ballot box. Goodell v. Judith Basin County, 70 M 222, 233, 224 P 1110.

Error by Election Officer

A ballot properly marked, but from which the stub has not been detached by the ballot judge, should be counted; a voter is not to be disfranchised by the errors or wrongful acts of election officers. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 595, 101 P 153.

Marking of Ballot

In an election contest, the court properly refused to count for a candidate ballots marked as follows: (1) Where the cross was placed after the candidate's name and entirely without his party column; (2) where perpendicular lines were drawn through the names in one party column, but no cross was placed before the candidate's name; and (3) where his name was written in one party column, but no cross marked in the square before the name. In neither instance was there substantial, nor any, compliance with the provisions of predecessor section. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 595, 101 P 153.

In an election contest, the court properly refused to count a ballot for a candidate which was marked by crossing out all the names in other party columns, but which failed to show an "X" before his name. While the intention of the voter is generally a very material consideration, he must express his intention substantially as indicated by the statute. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 595, 101 P 153.

Where the crossmark was placed after the candidate's name but within his party column, the ballot was void, since the elector did not substantially comply with the requirement of prior section relative to placing the mark before the name. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 595, 101 P 153.

Any mark within the square before the candidate's name, which can be said to be a crossing of two lines, will answer the requirements of the statute that the elector must place an "X" in such square; and in the absence of anything to indicate a purpose on his part to identify his ballot by the use of a third line within the square, a defect in the mark is not sufficient to vitiate the ballot. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 595, 101 P 153, explained in 109 M 390, 393, 396, 96 P 2d 922.

Statutory provision that a ballot should be marked by an "X" in the square is directory and not mandatory, and in the absence of a further provision that unless so marked the ballot shall not be counted, a ballot upon which the elector marked all squares with a check mark (✓) instead of an "X" should have been counted for contestant, there being nothing to indicate an attempt to mark the ballot for identification purposes. Peterson v. Billings, 109 M 390, 395, 96 P 2d 922.

Voting an Affirmative Act

The casting of a ballot at an election of public officers is an affirmative, not a negative, act—an act done with intention of voting for someone; hence if it is the purpose of voters to defeat a certain candidate, that purpose can be accomplished only by voting for some person in opposition to him, and not by voting for a person who died some weeks before election with the expectation that the vote cast for him would be counted as opposed to the person sought to be defeated; one who has died is no longer a person for whom, under section 2, article IX of the constitution, a voter may cast his ballot. State ex rel. Wolff v. Geurkink, 111 M 417, 426, 109 P 2d 1094, 133 ALR 304.

23-3607. No person except election judge to put ballot or other object in a ballot box—penalty. No person, except an election judge shall put a ballot, any paper resembling a ballot, or anything other than a ballot in a ballot box. A person violating this section is guilty of a misdemeanor. An election judge who knowingly permits a violation of this act is guilty of a felony.

History: En. Sec. 107, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3608. Putting ballot in box. If the name of an elector appears in the official register of the precinct, or if the person offering to vote produces a proper registry certificate and his vote is not rejected upon a challenge, the election judge must immediately and publicly in the presence of all the judges, place the ballot in the ballot box without opening or examining it.

History: En. Sec. 108, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3609. Judges may aid disabled elector. (1) The election judges shall aid an elector, who because of physical disability or inability to read or write, needs assistance in marking his ballot.

(2) The elector shall be assisted by two (2) judges who represent different parties. The disabled elector may request that a qualified elector he designates also aid him in voting. The election judges must certify on the official register opposite the disabled elector's name that the ballot was marked with their assistance and the name of any other elector designated. Neither the judges nor a person who aided the elector may reveal information regarding the ballot.

(3) The election judges shall require the declaration of disability by the elector under oath. They are authorized to administer the oath.

(4) No elector, other than the one who is unable to vote, may divulge to anyone within the polling place the name of any candidate for whom he intends to vote, or ask or receive the assistance of any person within the polling place in the preparation of his ballot.

(5) Instead of assistance, as provided in subsection (2) of this section, the elector may request the assistance of any qualified elector whom he designates to the judges to aid him in the marking of his ballot, and the judges must certify on the official register opposite the name of such disabled elector that it was so marked with their assistance.

History: En. Sec. 109, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Evidence

Where it appeared in an election contest that a voter's ballot had been endorsed by the judges of election, as required by law, it was necessary to show that it could not thereby be identified, in order to let in, as secondary evidence, testimony as to how he voted. Lane v. Bailey, 29 M 548, 560, 75 P 191.

Need Not Certify Reason for Assistance
A ballot bearing the endorsement:

"Voted by H. and M. (judges election) for illegibility of voter," was not void on the ground that the reason given for assisting the voter was not one recognized by law, since section does not require the judges to certify the reason for assisting an elector, and the words "for illegibility of voter" were therefore surplusage; and in the absence of a showing why they gave assistance, it will be presumed that they regularly performed their official duties. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 599, 101 P 153.

23-3610. Marking precinct register book before elector votes—procedure. (1) The election judges at every primary, general or special election shall, in the precinct register book, mark a cross (X) upon the line opposite to the name of the elector.

(2) Before an elector is permitted to vote, the election judges shall require the elector to sign his name on the place designated in the precinct register.

(3) The election judges shall require an elector not able to sign his name to produce two (2) electors who shall make an affidavit before the election judges, or one (1) of them, in a form prescribed by the secretary of state.

(4) The affidavit shall be filed by the election judges, and returned to the registrar with the returns of the election. One (1) of the judges shall write the elector's name, note the fact of his inability to sign, and the names of the two (2) electors.

(5) If the elector fails or refuses to sign his name, and if unable to write fails to procure two (2) electors who will take the oath required, he shall not be allowed to vote.

(6) Immediately after the canvass of the returns, the election judges shall deliver to the registrar the official register, sealed, with the election returns and pollbook which have been used for the election.

(7) Each precinct shall keep a list of persons voting, and the name of each person who votes shall be entered in it and numbered in the order voting. This list is known as the pollbook.

History: En. Sec. 110, Ch. 368, L. 1969;
amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 254, L. 1971.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment inserted "primary" in subsection (1).

23-3611. Grounds of challenge. A person offering to vote may be orally challenged by any elector of the county, upon the following grounds:

(1) That he is not the person whose name appears on the register or checklist;

(2) That he has been adjudicated insane or is confined to a state institution;

(3) That he has voted before that day;

(4) That he has been convicted of a felony and has not been pardoned.

History: En. Sec. 111, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Cross-References

Challenges at nominating elections, sec. 23-4746.

23-3612. Proceedings on challenges for want of identity, having voted before, and conviction of felony. (1) If the challenge is on the ground that the person is not the person whose name appears on the official register, the election judges shall administer the following oath: "You do swear (or affirm) that you are the person whose name is entered on the official register and precinct list."

(2) If the challenge is on the ground that the person has voted before that day, the judges shall administer this oath: "You do swear (or affirm) that you have not before voted this day."

(3) If the challenge is on the ground that the person has been convicted of a felony, the judges shall administer the following oath: "You do swear (or affirm) that you have not been convicted of a felony."

History: En. Sec. 112, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3613. Challenges, how determined. (1) Challenges on the grounds that the person is not the person whose name appears on the official register or that the person has before voted that day are determined in favor of the person challenged by his taking the oath tendered.

(2) A challenge that the person has been convicted of a felony and not pardoned must be determined in favor of the challenged on his taking the oath tendered, unless the conviction is proved by producing an authenticated copy of the record, or by oral testimony of two (2) witnesses.

(a) If a person convicted of a felony states he was pardoned, he must exhibit his pardon or certified copy to the election judges.

(b) If the pardon is found sufficient, the election judges shall administer this oath: "You do swear (or affirm) that you have not been convicted of any felony other than that for which a pardon is now exhibited."

(c) After taking the oath, the person must be allowed to vote if otherwise qualified, unless a conviction of some other felony is proved.

History: En. Sec. 113, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3614. If a person refuses to be sworn, vote to be rejected. If a person challenged refuses to take the oath tendered, or refuses to be sworn and to answer the questions touching the matter of residence, he shall not be allowed to vote.

History: En. Sec. 114, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3615. Trial of challenges. Challenges for causes other than those specified in this chapter must be tried and determined by the election judges at the time of the challenge.

History: En. Sec. 115, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3616. Proceedings upon determination of challenges. If the challenge is determined against the person offering to vote, the ballot shall, without examination, be destroyed by the election judges in the presence of the person offering the challenge. If determined in his favor, the ballot must be deposited in the ballot box.

History: En. Sec. 116, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3617. List of challenges to be kept. The election judges shall require each election clerk to keep a list showing:

- (1) The names of all persons challenged;
- (2) The grounds of each challenge;
- (3) The determination of the election judges upon the challenge.

History: En. Sec. 117, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3618. Poll watchers—announcement of voter's name. The election judges shall permit one (1) poll watcher from each political party to station himself close to the poll lists in a location that does not interfere with election procedures. At the time that each elector signs his name, one (1) of the election judges shall pronounce the name loud enough to be heard by the poll watchers. A poll watcher who does not understand the pronunciation has the right to request that the judge repeat the name. Poll watchers shall also be permitted to observe all of the vote-counting procedures of the judges and all entries of the results of the elections.

History: En. Sec. 118, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Constitutionality

Prior Absent Voters Law was valid enactment and did not violate section 2, article IX of the state constitution, which provides that an elector “shall have resided in the state one year immediately preceding this election at which he offers to vote.” Goodell v. Judith Basin County, 70 M 222, 227, 224 P 1110.

23-3702. Forms and rules for absentee voting in school district elections. The state superintendent of public instruction shall prepare the form of application for absentee ballots and other forms necessary for school district elections and may make necessary rules to carry out the purpose of this chapter as it pertains to school districts.

(2) If the election judges find that the signatures correspond, that the affirmation is sufficient, and that the absentee elector is qualified and has not yet voted, they shall open the absentee voter's envelope and take out the ballot or ballots and, without unfolding it or permitting it to be examined, ascertain whether the stub is still attached and whether the number corresponds to the number in the certificate of the registrar or city clerk.

(9) If the rejected ballot is on a question submitted to the vote of the electors, the judges shall designate it as ballot question No. in the certificate on the envelope.

(10) A separate enclosing envelope shall be used for each absentee ballot rejected. This envelope shall be placed in the envelope in which the other ballots voted are required to be placed and shall not be opened without a court order.

(11) The registrar or clerk shall provide and deliver to the election judges suitable envelopes for enclosing rejected absentee ballots.

Voting Accomplished

Voting is accomplished not merely by marking the ballot, but by having it delivered to the election officials and deposited in the ballot box before the closing of the polls on election day, and this is equally true for absent voters. Maddox v. Board of State Canvassers, 116 M 217, 223, 149 P 2d 112.

Constitutionality

Prior voting machine law was not invalid as in contravention of section 1, article IX of the constitution of Montana which provided that all elections shall be "by ballot"; the term "ballot" being employed not to designate a piece of paper, but a method to ensure, so far as possible, the secrecy and integrity of the popular vote. State ex rel. Fenner v. Keating, 53 M 371, 377, 163 P 1156.

23-3802. Specifications of machines required. (1) A machine or machine system may not be approved unless:

- (a) An elector can vote in secrecy as he is entitled to vote by law;
- (b) An elector is prevented from voting for any candidate or upon any question more than once and is also prevented from voting for any person or on any proposition, if he is not entitled to vote;
- (c) An elector can vote a split ticket if he desires;
- (d) Every vote cast is registered and recorded.
- (2) The candidates for president and vice-president shall appear on the machine ballot. Presidential electors shall not appear on the machine.
- (3) The machine or machine system must be constructed so that it cannot be tampered with for a fraudulent purpose and must also be constructed so that during the progress of the voting no person can see or know the number of votes registered for any candidate or on any proposition.

History: En. Sec. 143, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Tampering with Machine

Act does not require a voting machine which will be proof against all tampering or manipulation, but one which, when honestly operated, will enable an elector to secretly cast his vote as he wishes to cast it and have it counted as cast, and which cannot be tampered with or manipulated in such a way that, though properly operated by the elector, it would seem to receive and record his vote without doing so. State ex rel. Fenner v. Keating, 53 M 371, 381, 163 P 1156.

23-3803. Providing voting machines — payment. (1) Commissioners and councils may provide approved voting machines as practicable.

(2) Not later than September 10, prior to a general election, the commissioners or council of a city may unite two (2) or more precincts to use a voting machine. Notice of the consolidation shall be given as provided by law for the change of election districts.

(3) Funds for voting machines may be provided by interest-bearing bonds, certificates of indebtedness, or other obligations. The term of the bonds, certificates, or other obligations may not exceed ten (10) years and they shall not be issued or sold at less than par.

History: En. Sec. 144, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3804. Preparation of machines for use. (1) The registrar or city clerk shall put the proper ballots upon each voting machine corresponding with the sample ballots. The registrars or city clerks shall also:

- (a) Set, adjust, and put the machines in order;

(b) Deliver the machines to the precincts together with necessary furniture and appliances;

(c) Place a shield painted black and marked "not in use" over the keys or levers not in use on the voting machine.

(2) In primary elections a separate row or column shall be assigned to each political party and at least one (1) row shall separate the rows assigned to the two (2) major political parties. This row shall be used for the nonpartisan judicial ballot.

(3) In general elections the ballot shall be arranged and the names of the candidates rotated to conform as nearly as possible to the requirements for paper ballots.

(4) Candidates of the two (2) major parties shall be rotated between the first two (2) horizontal rows or vertical columns, and candidates of minor parties and independent candidates shall be rotated between succeeding rows or columns.

(5) The party designation of each candidate shall appear below his name in type as large as machine design will allow.

(6) The judicial ballot shall appear in the first two (2) horizontal or vertical rows or columns as prescribed by section 23-3513.

(7) The election judges shall compare the ballots on the machine with sample ballots, ensure that all counters are set at zero and the machine is in order. They shall not thereafter permit the machine to be operated or moved except by electors voting. They shall also see that arrangements are made for voting write-in ballots on the machine, if the machine is so arranged.

History: En. Sec. 145, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3805. Write-in ballots. (1) If a voting machine allows registry or recording of votes for candidates whose names are not on the official ballot, these ballots are write-in ballots.

(2) A person whose name appears on a ballot shall not receive votes for the same office on a device for casting a write-in ballot.

History: En. Sec. 146, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3806. Placement of machines—time voter to remain in booth—election board make-up. (1) The exterior of the voting machines and every part of the polling place shall be in plain view of the election judges.

(a) The machines shall be placed so that other persons on the premises cannot see how the voter casts his vote.

(b) The election judges shall not permit any person to remain in any position that would permit him or them to see how the voter votes or has voted.

(c) A voter shall not remain within the voting machine booth or compartment longer than is reasonably necessary to vote. If he refuses to leave, the election judges shall remove him.

(2) The election board of a precinct in which a voting machine is used consists of three (3) election judges and any special board of election judges appointed to count absentee ballots. If more than one (1) machine is used, one (1) additional election judge shall be appointed for each additional machine.

History: En. Sec. 147, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3807. Registrar to instruct election judges. (1) Before each election, the registrar shall instruct all election judges in the use of the machine and their duties. He shall give to each election judge that has received instruction, and is fully qualified to conduct the election with the machine, a certificate to that effect.

(2) The registrar shall call meetings of the election judges as necessary for instruction. Election judges shall attend meetings as necessary to receive the proper instructions.

(3) An election judge shall not serve if voting machines are used unless he has received instruction, is fully qualified to perform duties in connection with the machine, and has received a certificate to that effect from the custodian. However, this shall not prevent an emergency appointment of an election judge.

History: En. Sec. 148, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3808. Publication of information concerning machines. Not more than ten (10) nor less than three (3) days before an election at which voting machines are used, the registrar or city clerk shall publish in a newspaper of general circulation in the county:

23-3809. Voting machine to be exhibited. A voting machine shall be on exhibition in the office of the registrar or city clerk where voting machines are used. The registrar or city clerk shall demonstrate the voting machine to any inquiring voter.

History: En. Sec. 150, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3810. Furnishing samples and supplies. (1) Not later than forty (40) days before an election, the secretary of state shall prepare samples of the printed matter and supplies named in this section and furnish one of each to the election officials where machines are used. (2) The registrar or city clerk shall provide supplies for each machine including:

(a) Written instructions for the election judges on testing and preparing the machines;

(b) A certificate for the election judges to certify that they have tested and prepared the machine;

(d) A certificate for party representatives to verify that they have witnessed the testing and preparation of the machines;

(e) A certificate for the deliverer of the machine to certify that he has delivered the machines to the polling places in good order;

(f) A card stating the penalty for tampering with or injuring a voting machine;

(g) Two (2) seals for sealing the voting machine;

(h) One (1) envelope with a detachable delivery receipt in which the keys to the voting machine can be sealed and delivered to the election officials having printed on it the designation and location of the election district, the number of the machine, the number on the protective counter after the machine has been prepared for the election, and the number of the seal;

(i) One (1) envelope in which keys to the voting machine can be returned after the election;

(j) Two (2) statements of canvass for election officers to report the canvass of votes and other necessary information relating to the election;

(m) Six (6) certificates that election judges have attended the instruction meeting, received instruction, and are qualified to conduct the machine election.

History: En. Sec. 151, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3811. Registry lists—provision for number of each ballot. If voting machines are used, the registry lists shall contain a column to enter the number of each ballot as indicated by the number on the machine counter. Books or blanks for making poll lists shall not be provided.

History: En. Sec. 152, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3812. Assistance to illiterate, blind or physically disabled voters. [(1)] A voter who declares he is unable to vote because he cannot read or write, is blind, or physically disabled shall be assisted as provided in section 23-3609.

(2) A person who deceives an elector voting under this section shall be punished as provided in section 23-4707, R.C.M. 1947.

History: En. Sec. 153, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Compiler's Notes

The compiler has inserted the bracketed subsection designation "(1)."

23-3813. Counting the votes. When the polls close, the election judges shall immediately lock the machine or remove the recording device and open the registering or recording compartments in the presence of any person desiring to attend. They shall ascertain the number of votes cast for each candidate, canvass, record, announce, and return the votes as provided by law.

History: En. Sec. 154, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3814. Procedure after count is ascertained. (1) After the count is ascertained, the election judges shall place the machine in full view of the public for one (1) hour so that any person may view the number of votes cast.

(2) Immediately after the hour has passed, the election judges shall seal and lock the machine. Unless used in a city primary election or ordered opened earlier by a court or the county recount board, the machine shall remain sealed and locked for twenty (20) days.

(3) If a machine has been used in a city primary election, it shall remain locked and sealed for at least five (5) days, unless opened by court order.

History: En. Sec. 155, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3815. Disposition of write-in ballots and tally sheets. (1) The election judges shall return write-in ballots in a sealed package endorsed "write-in ballots." The election judges shall indicate the precinct and county and file the package with the registrar or city clerk. Each package shall be preserved for six (6) months after the election and may be opened only upon order of a court or the county recount board. At the end of six (6) months, the package shall be destroyed by the registrar or city clerk unless a court orders otherwise.

(2) Tally sheets taken from the machine, if any, shall be returned in the same manner.

History: En. Sec. 156, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3816. Return sheets—contents. Officers who furnish tally sheets shall also furnish return blanks and certificates to the election officers. The return sheets shall:

(1) Have each candidate's name designated by the same reference character that the name bears on the ballot labels and counters and allow for writing in a vote for the candidate in figures, words, or both;

(2) Provide for the return of the vote on questions;

(3) Have a blank for indicating the precinct, ward, number and make of machine used, and other necessary information;

(4) Have a certificate to be executed before the polls open by the election judges stating that all counters except the protective counter, if any, and except as otherwise noted, stood at "000" at the beginning of the election, that all counters were examined before the election, that ballot labels were correctly placed on the machine and corresponded to the sample ballot, and other statements as the particular machine may require;

(5) Have a second certificate stating the manner of closing the polls and verifying the returns; that the returns are correct; giving the indication of the public counter, poll list, and protective counter, if any. The certificate shall specify the procedure of canvassing the vote and locking the machine and shall be signed by the election officials. The certificate and attest of the election officers shall appear on each return sheet.

History: En. Sec. 157, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3817. Experimental use of machines. Officials authorized to adopt voting machines, may provide for the experimental use at an election of a machine, approved by the secretary of state, in one (1) or more precincts without a formal adoption or purchase of the machine. The use at an election is valid for all purposes as if the machine had been formally adopted.

History: En. Sec. 158, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3818. Machine breakdowns—electors may vote by paper ballot upon request. (1) If a machine becomes unworkable or unfit for use, voting shall proceed on another available machine or as in cases where machines are not used. The registrar shall furnish each voting place with a supply of ballots and other supplies to be used in case of emergency.

(2) Where voting machines are used, an elector may request to vote by paper ballot instead of using the voting machines. The election judges shall provide the elector with a paper ballot when requested. Paper ballots shall be cast and counted by the election judges in the manner provided by law.

History: En. Sec. 159, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3819. Use of separate paper ballots for voting on certain money issues where machines do not allow proper lockout. In precincts where voting machines are used and the machines do not allow proper lockout, separate paper ballots shall be issued for money issues which do not involve the question of incurring of a state indebtedness, issuance of state bonds or debentures other than for refunding, or the levy of a tax for state purposes.

History: En. Sec. 160, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3820. Penalty for tampering with or injuring machines. Any person who tampers, disarranges, defaces, injures, or impairs a voting machine in any way, or who mutilates, injures, or destroys any ballot or any appliance used in connection with a voting machine shall be imprisoned in the state prison for a period of not more than ten (10) years, be fined not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), or both.

History: En. Sec. 161, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3821. Penalty for fraudulent returns or certificates. A person who purposely causes the vote on a machine to be incorrectly taken down as to the candidate or proposition voted on; who knowingly causes a false statement, certificate, or return of any kind to be signed or who knowingly consents to such things being done, shall be imprisoned in the state prison not more than (10) years, be fined not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), or both.

History: En. Sec. 162, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3822. Applicability of election laws in general where not in conflict with this chapter. All laws applicable to elections where voting is not done by machine, and all penalties prescribed for violations of those laws, apply to elections and precincts where voting machines are used if they are not in conflict with the provisions of sections 23-3801 through 23-3821.

CHAPTER 39

ELECTRONIC VOTING SYSTEMS

Section

- 23-3901. Purpose of act.
23-3902. Definitions.
23-3903. Use of electronic voting systems—paper ballots may be used upon request.
23-3904. Voting booths—sample ballots—arrangement of ballot information—write-in ballots—preparation and testing of devices.
23-3905. Procedure upon closing polls.
23-3906. Rules and regulations—specifications for devices and equipment.
23-3907. Applicability of election laws in general where not in conflict with this chapter.

23-3901. Purpose of act. The purpose of sections 23-3902 through 23-3907 is to authorize the use of electronic voting systems in which the voter records his votes by means of marking or punching a ballot or one or more ballot cards, which are so designed that votes may be counted by data processing machines at one or more counting places.

History: En. Sec. 164, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3902. Definitions. As used in sections 23-3903 through 23-3907, unless otherwise specified:

(1) "Automatic tabulating equipment" includes apparatus necessary to automatically examine and count votes as designated on ballots and data processing machines which can be used for counting ballots and tabulating results.

(2) "Ballot card" means a ballot which is voted by the process of punching.

(3) "Ballot labels" means the cards, paper, booklet, pages or other materials containing the names of offices and candidates and statements of measures to be voted on.

(4) "Ballot" may include ballot cards, ballot labels and paper ballots.

(5) "Counting location" means a location selected by the registrar or city clerk for the automatic processing or counting, or both, of ballots which may be in the same county or in another county.

(6) "Electronic voting system" means a system of casting votes by use of marking devices and tabulating ballots employing automatic tabulating equipment or data processing equipment.

(7) "Marking device" means either an apparatus in which ballots or ballot cards are inserted and used in connection with a punch apparatus for the piercing of ballots by the voter or any approved device for marking a paper ballot with ink or other substance which will enable the ballot to be tabulated by means of automatic tabulating equipment.

History: En. Sec. 165, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3903. Use of electronic voting systems—paper ballots may be used upon request. (1) Electronic voting systems may be used in elections, after approval as provided by law, provided that such systems enable the voter to cast a vote in secrecy for all offices and all measures on which he is entitled to vote, and that the automatic tabulating equipment may be set to reject all votes for any office or measure when the number of votes therefor exceeds the number which the voter is entitled to cast, or when the voter is not by law entitled to cast a vote for the office or measure.

(2) Electronic voting systems may be used at primary elections provided the voter can secretly select the party for which he wishes to vote, and the automatic tabulating equipment will count only votes for the candidates of one party, and will reject all votes for an office when the number of votes therefor exceeds the number which the voter is entitled to cast, and will reject all votes of a voter cast for candidates of more than one party.

(3) So far as applicable, the procedure provided for voting paper ballots shall apply.

(4) The governing body of any county or city may, after approval as provided by law, adopt, experiment with, or abandon any electronic voting system herein authorized and approved for use in the state, and may use such system in all or a part of the precincts within its boundaries, or in combination with paper ballots. It may enlarge, consolidate or alter the boundaries of the precincts where an electronic voting system is to be used.

(5) In precincts where an electronic voting system is used, an elector may request a paper ballot to cast his vote and the election judges shall supply the elector with the paper ballot when so requested. These ballots will be cast and counted by the election judges in the manner provided by law.

History: En. Sec. 166, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3904. Voting booths—sample ballots—arrangement of ballot information—write-in ballots—preparation and testing of devices. (1) In precincts where an electronic voting system is used, a sufficient number of voting booths shall be provided for the use of such systems and the booths shall be arranged in the same manner as provided for use with paper ballots.

(2) The officials charged with the duty of providing ballots, ballot cards or ballot labels for any polling place shall provide therefor sample ballots, ballot cards or ballot labels which shall be exact copies of the official ballots which are caused to be printed by them; said sample ballots shall be arranged in the form of a diagram showing the front of the marking device as it will appear after the ballots are arranged therein for voting on election day. Such sample ballots shall be posted by the election judges near the entrance of the voting booths and shall be there open to public inspection during the whole of election day.

(3) The ballot information, whether placed on the ballot or on the marking device, shall, as far as practicable, be in the order of arrangement provided for paper ballots except that such information may be in vertical or horizontal rows, or on a number of separate pages. Ballots for all questions must be provided in the same manner and must be arranged on or in the marking device in the places provided for such purpose. Any voter who spoils his ballot or ballot card or makes an error may return it to the election board and secure another.

(4) A separate write-in ballot, which may be in the form of a paper ballot, card or envelope in which the elector places his ballot card after voting shall be provided where necessary to permit electors to write in the names of persons whose names are not on the ballot.

(5) The registrar or city clerk shall cause the marking devices to be put in order, set, adjusted and made ready for voting when delivered to the election precincts. Before the opening of the polls the election judges shall compare the ballots used in the marking device with the sample ballots furnished, and see that the names, numbers and letters thereon agree, and shall certify thereto on forms provided for this purpose. The certification shall be filed with the election returns.

(6) Within five (5) days prior to the election day, the registrar or city clerk shall have the automatic tabulating equipment tested to ascertain that the equipment will correctly count the votes cast for all offices and on all measures. Public notice of the time and place of the test shall be given at least forty-eight (48) hours prior thereto by publication once in one or more daily or weekly newspapers published in the county, city, or town using such equipment if a newspaper is published therein, otherwise in a newspaper of general circulation therein. The test shall be open to representatives of the political parties, candidates, the press and the public. The test shall be conducted by processing a pre-audited group of ballots so punched or marked as to record a predetermined number of valid votes for each candidate and on each measure, and shall include for each office one or more ballots which have votes in excess of the number allowed by law in order to test the ability of the automatic tabulating equipment to reject such votes. If any error is detected, the cause therefor shall be ascertained and corrected and an errorless count shall be made before the automatic tabulating equipment is approved. The test shall be repeated immediately before the start of the official count of the ballots, in the same manner as set forth above. After the completion of the count, the programs used and ballots shall be sealed, retained and disposed of as provided for paper ballots.

History: En. Sec. 167, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3905. Procedure upon closing polls. (1) In precincts where an electronic voting system is used, as soon as the polls are closed, the election judges shall secure the marking devices against further voting. They shall thereafter open the ballot box and count the number of ballots or envelopes containing ballots that have been cast to determine that the number of ballots does not exceed the number of voters shown on the poll or registry lists. If there is an excess, this fact shall be reported in writing to the appropriate election officer in charge with the reasons therefor, if known. The total number of voters shall be entered on the tally sheets. The election judges shall thereupon count the write-in votes and prepare a return of such votes on forms provided for this purpose. If ballot cards are used, all ballots on which write-in votes have been recorded shall be serially numbered, starting with the number one, and the same number shall be placed on the ballot card of the voter. The inspectors or other appropriate precinct election officials shall compare the write-in votes with the votes cast on the ballot card and if the total number of votes for any office exceeds the number allowed by law, a notation to that effect shall be entered on the back of the ballot card and its shall be returned to the counting location in an envelope marked "defective ballots" and such invalid votes shall not be counted. So far as applicable, provisions relating to defective paper ballots shall apply.

(2) The election judges shall place all ballots that have been cast in the container provided for that purpose, which shall be sealed and delivered forthwith by the election judges to the counting location or other designated place, together with the unused, void and defective ballots and returns.

(3) All proceedings at the counting location shall be under the direction of the registrar or city clerk under the observation of at least three election judges designated by the commissioners or city council and shall be open to the public, but no persons except those employed and authorized for the purpose shall touch any ballot, ballot container or return. If any ballot is damaged or defective so that it cannot properly be counted by the automatic tabulating equipment, a true duplicate copy shall be made of the damaged ballot in the presence of witnesses and substituted for the damaged ballot. Likewise, a duplicate ballot shall be made of a defective ballot which shall not include the invalid votes. All duplicate ballots shall be clearly labeled "duplicate," shall bear a serial number which shall be recorded on the damaged or defective ballot and shall be counted in lieu of the damaged or defective ballot.

(4) The return printed by the automatic tabulating equipment, to which has been added the return of write-in and absentee votes, shall constitute the official return of each precinct or election district. Upon completion of the count the returns shall be open to the public.

History: En. Sec. 168, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3906. Rules and regulations—specifications for devices and equipment. (a) The secretary of state, state auditor and president of the Montana county clerk and recorders association shall constitute a board of election devices, which shall promulgate rules for the administration of this section, and shall approve the marking devices and automatic tabulating equipment used in electronic voting systems.

(b) No marking device or automatic tabulating equipment shall be approved unless it fulfills the following requirements:

(1) It shall permit and require voting in absolute secrecy.

(2) It shall permit each elector to vote at any election for all persons and offices for whom and for which he is lawfully entitled to vote, and no others; to vote for as many persons for an office as he is entitled to vote for; to vote for or against any question upon which he is entitled to vote; and to vote, where applicable, for all candidates of one (1) party or to vote a split ticket as he desires.

(3) It shall permit each elector, at presidential elections, by one (1) punch or mark to vote for the candidates of that party for presidential elector as a group.

(4) It shall comply with all other requirements of the election laws so far as they are applicable.

(5) No electronic voting system presently in use by any county, city or town in Montana shall be disapproved for use in such county, city or town by the board, except upon application by the governing body of said county, city or town.

History: En. Sec. 169, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-3907. Applicability of election laws in general where not in conflict with this chapter. All laws of this state applicable to elections where voting is done in another manner than by electronic voting systems and all penalties prescribed for violation of such laws, shall apply to elections and precincts where electronic voting systems are used, in so far as they are not in conflict with the provisions of sections 23-3901 through 23-3906.

History: En. Sec. 170, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

- 23-4017. Messenger may be sent for returns.
- 23-4018. Governor to issue commissions.
- 23-4019. Defect in form of returns to be disregarded.

23-4001. Votes to be publicly canvassed upon closing polls. When the polls are closed, the election judges shall immediately canvass the votes. The canvass shall be public and continue without adjournment until completed and the result is publicly declared.

History: En. Sec. 171, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4002. Method of canvass. (1) The canvass shall begin by a comparison of the pollbooks and the correction of any mistakes until they agree.

(2) The election judges shall take ballots unopened out of the box to determine whether each ballot is single.

(3) They shall count the ballots to ensure that the number of ballots corresponds with the number of names on the pollbooks.

(4) A ballot which is not endorsed by the official stamp is void and shall not be counted. A ballot or part of a ballot is void and shall not be counted if the elector's choice cannot be determined. If part of a ballot is sufficiently plain to determine the elector's intention, the election judges shall count that part.

(5) If two (2) or more ballots are folded together to look like a single ballot, they shall be laid aside until the count is complete. The election judges shall compare the count with the pollbooks and if a majority believe that the ballots folded together were voted by one (1) elector, they must be rejected; otherwise they must be counted.

(6) If the ballots exceed the number of names on the pollbooks they shall be placed in the box, and one (1) of the election judges shall publicly draw from the box and destroy unopened ballots equal to the excess. The election judges shall record in the pollbooks the number of ballots destroyed.

History: En. Sec. 172, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Determining Elector's Intention

Where, from the manner in which a ballot was marked, it was impossible to determine the elector's choice, the ballot was void under prior section, and should not have been counted in an election contest. Carwile v. Jones, 38 M 590, 598, 101 P 153.

A ballot bearing a rather indistinct "X" before contestant's name but sufficient to be discernible should have been counted for him where there was no erasure and the elector voted for no other candidate for that office; and under the rule that the elector's intention must plainly appear, where the voter marked two squares for the office of sheriff, one of which showed an extra line through the "X" indicating perhaps, that the voter changed his mind but for the fact that squares before the names of other candidates were marked similarly, the intention was not clear and the ballot should not have been counted. Peterson v. Billings, 109 M 390, 392, 96 P 2d 922.

Under prior section, and the rule that election laws must be liberally construed, a ballot showing the intersection of the "X" outside the square should have been counted for contestant, and one showing the intersection of the cross squarely on the line of the square was properly so counted for him. Peterson v. Billings, 109 M 390, 393, 96 P 2d 922.

Official Stamp on Ballot Stub

Where ballots had been delivered to electors by the judges of election with the official stamp apparently in the place in which the law requires it to be, although in reality it was on the stub instead of on the ballot proper, the act of the judges in removing the stamp with the stub, thus leaving the ballot without the official designation, did not render the ballots void, and the same should have been counted. Harrington v. Crichton, 53 M 388, 396, 164 P 537.

School Elections

The validity of contested school elections is determined by the laws of general elections, including canvassing statute. Woolsey v. Carney, 141 M 476, 378 P 2d 658.

23-4003. Counting ballots—pollbooks. (1) When the ballots and poll lists agree, the election judges shall count and determine the votes cast for each person.

(2) In counting, the ballots shall be opened singly by one (1) of the election judges and the contents read aloud to the other judges.

(3) As the ballots are read, each clerk must write on a tally sheet the name of every person voted for and the office, and keep tallies of the number of votes for each person.

(4) The tally sheets shall be compared and their correctness ascertained, and the clerks, under the supervision of the election judges, shall immediately write in the pollbooks:

- (a) The names of all persons who received votes;
- (b) The offices for which they received votes;
- (c) Total votes received by each person as shown by the tally sheets.

(5) A ballot or vote rejected by the election judges shall not be included in the count.

History: En. Sec. 173, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4004. Marking rejected ballots. A ballot rejected for illegality shall be marked by the election judges, by writing across the face "Rejected on the ground of" filling the blank with a brief statement of the reasons for the rejection. The statement shall be dated and signed by a majority of the judges.

History: En. Sec. 174, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4005. Signing and certifying pollbooks. Immediately after the votes are counted and the ballots sealed up, the pollbooks shall be signed and certified to by the election judges and clerks in a form prescribed by the secretary of state.

History: En. Sec. 175, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4006. Items to be sent to registrar by election judges—manner of sending. (1) Before they adjourn, the election judges shall enclose in a strong envelope or package, securely sealed and directed to the registrar:

- (a) The precinct registers,
- (b) The lists of persons challenged,
- (c) Both of the pollbooks,
- (d) Both of the tally sheets.

(2) The election judges shall enclose in a separate package or envelope, securely sealed and directed to the registrar, all unused ballots with the numbered stubs attached.

(3) The election judges shall enclose in a separate package or envelope, securely sealed and directed to the registrar, all ballots voted including those not counted or allowed, and all detached stubs from ballots voted. This envelope shall be endorsed on the outside "ballots voted."

(4) Each election judge shall write his name across the seal of each of the envelopes or packages. The ballot box shall be returned to the registrar.

(5) The envelopes or packages required by this section shall be delivered to one (1) of the election judges chosen by lot, unless otherwise agreed upon, before they adjourn. The judge shall deliver them to the registrar in person or by registered mail no later than 10 a. m. on the day following the election.

History: En. Sec. 176, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

One Copy To Be Returned

The law contemplates that the election board in the precinct will return to the clerk and recorder but one tally sheet and one copy of the pollbook. State ex rel. Lynch v. Batani, 103 M 353, 361, 62 P 2d 565.

23-4007. Disposition of items by registrar. (1) When the registrar receives the packages or envelopes, he shall file those containing the ballots voted and detached stubs and the unused ballots and keep them unopened for twelve (12) months. After twelve (12) months, if there is no contest begun in a court or no recount, he shall, without opening them or examining their contents, either burn the envelopes in an approved incinerator, destroy them in a mechanical shredder, or bury them in a sanitary landfill under his on-site supervision.

(2) The registrar shall file the envelopes or packages containing the precinct registers, certificates of registration, pollbooks, tally sheets, and oaths of election officers. He shall keep them unopened until the commissioners meet to canvass the returns. The commissioners shall open the envelopes or packages.

(3) Immediately after the returns are canvassed, the registrar shall file the pollbooks, election records, and the papers delivered to the commissioners.

23-4008. Disposition of items in event of contest. If there is a contest within twelve (12) months, the registrar shall keep the envelopes or packages unopened until the contest is finally determined and then destroy them. If the court has custody of the envelopes or packages as evidence, they are in the custody of the court and the registrar shall not destroy them.

History: En. Sec. 178, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4009. Commissioners as board of county canvassers—meetings—registrar as clerk of board. (1) The commissioners are ex officio a board of county canvassers and shall meet as the board of county canvassers at the usual place of meeting of the commissioners within three (3) days after each election, at 8 a. m. to canvass the returns.

(2) If one (1) or more of the commissioners cannot attend the meeting, his place shall be filled by one (1) or more county officers in this order: treasurer, assessor, sheriff, so that the board of county canvassers membership equals membership on the board of commissioners.

(3) The registrar is clerk of the board of county canvassers.

History: En. Sec. 179, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Change in Membership of Board

The members of a county board of canvassers do not necessarily embrace the same officers, but are subject to changes which depend upon circumstances, and a writ of mandate, issued to compel such board to reconvene and canvass the returns from an election precinct which they had excluded, is properly directed to the particular individuals comprising the board, describing them by name, and as constituting the board of county canvassers of election returns for a certain county of the state, the particular members of such board at the time in question being the persons against whom obedience must, if necessary, be enforced. State ex rel. Leech v. Board of Canvassers of Choteau County, 13 M 23, 29, 31 P 879.

23-4010. Canvassing returns, time of—messenger—certification that polls were not open. (1) If all returns are in at the time of the meeting, the board of county canvassers shall immediately canvass the returns.

(2) If all returns are not received, the board shall postpone the canvass from day to day until all returns are received or until there have been seven (7) postponements.

(3) If the returns from an election precinct have not been received by the registrar within seven (7) days after an election, he shall immediately send a messenger to the election judges. The messenger must obtain the returns from the judges and return them to the registrar.

(4) If it appears to the board that the polls were not open in a precinct, the board shall certify this to the registrar. The registrar shall enter the certification in the minutes and in the statement required by section 23-4012.

History: En. Sec. 180, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4011. Canvass to be public—nonessentials to be disregarded in counting returns. (1) The canvass shall be public. It shall proceed by opening the returns and determining the vote for each person and each proposition from each precinct and a declaration of the results.

(2) The returns shall not be rejected if they do not show who administered the oath to the election judges or clerks, failure to complete all the certificates in the pollbooks, or failure of any other act making up the returns that is not essential to determine for whom the votes were cast.

History: En. Sec. 181, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Rejection of Returns

A county board of canvassers has no authority to inquire into the validity of a certificate of nomination of a nominee for office, and therefore, where the election returns are genuine and properly certified, prohibition will not lie to restrain the board from canvassing such returns and counting the vote cast for such person upon the ground that the nomination was invalid. Pigott v. Board of Canvassers of Cascade County, 12 M 537, 538, 31 P 536.

The duties of a county canvassing board are ministerial, and such board has no authority to exclude the returns of an election precinct, regularly made, upon the ground that the voting was shown by affidavits to be illegal, and, having done so, may be compelled by mandamus to canvass such returns. State ex rel. Leech v. Board of Canvassers of Choteau County, 13 M 23, 30, 31 P 879. See also State ex rel. Breen v. Toole, 32 M 4, 10, 79 P 403; Poe v. Sheridan County, 52 M 279, 288, 157 P 185.

Where a county canvassing board issued a certificate of election to a candidate for the legislative assembly after unlawfully excluding the returns of a particular precinct, and then adjourned sine die, such board may be compelled by mandamus to reconvene and canvass the returns so excluded, and issue a certificate of election to the person shown by a complete canvass to be entitled thereto. State ex rel. Leech v. Board of Canvassers of Choteau County, 13 M 23, 31, 31 P 879.

Returns in the pollbook being left blank, and the certificate thereto not being properly filled in, are not grounds for rejecting returns, nor are they such irregularities as will entitle a board of canvassers to reject them. State ex rel. Leech v. Board of Canvassers of Choteau County, 13 M 23, 31, 31 P 879.

It is the duty of the board of canvassers to procure the check lists and surrendered lists before rejecting the vote of a precinct as returned by the pollbooks alone. State ex rel. Leech v. Board of Canvassers of Choteau County, 13 M 23, 31, 31 P 879.

23-4012. Statement of the result to be entered of record. As soon as the results are declared, the clerk of the board shall enter on the records:

- (1) Votes cast in the county;
- (2) Names of the persons voted for and the propositions voted upon;
- (3) Office for which each person was voted for;
- (4) Votes by precinct for each person and for and against each proposition;

(5) Votes by county for each person, and for and against each proposition.

History: En. Sec. 182, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4013. Declaration of persons elected—certifying tie. (1) The board shall declare elected the persons having the highest number of votes given for each office to be filled in a single county or subdivision of a county.

(2) If a recount shows that two (2) or more persons received an equal and sufficient number of votes for the office of state senator or state representative, the county recount board shall certify this to the governor.

History: En. Sec. 183, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Deceased Candidate Receives Majority

date whom they intended to defeat, receiving the highest vote cast for any living person, held, on his application for writ of mandate to compel the county canvassing board to reconvene and cause certificate of election issued to him, that write-in candidate elected and entitled to the office. State ex rel. Wolff v. Geurkink, 111 M 417, 426, 109 P 2d 1094, 133 ALR 304.

23-4014. Certificates issued by the clerk. (1) The clerk shall immediately deliver to each person elected a certificate of election signed by him and authenticated with the seal of the board.

(2) The certificate shall state that the official bond must be filed within thirty (30) days after notice of election or appointment and that failure to file the bond vacates the office.

(3) This certificate shall not be issued to persons elected district judge.

History: En. Sec. 184, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4015. State returns, how made and transmitted. (1) After a general or special election, the clerk shall make an abstract of the vote for members of the legislative assembly, for officers elected in the state at large, and for judicial officers other than justices of the peace.

(2) The clerk shall seal the abstract, endorse it "Election Returns," and immediately send it to the secretary of state by registered mail.

History: En. Sec. 185, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4016. State canvassers, composition and meeting of board. Within twenty (20) days after the election, or sooner if the returns are all received, the state auditor, state treasurer, and attorney general shall meet as a board of state canvassers in the office of the secretary of state and determine the vote. The secretary of state, who is secretary of the board, shall make out and file in his office a statement of the canvass and transmit a copy to the governor.

History: En. Sec. 186, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4017. Messenger may be sent for returns. If the returns from all counties have not been received five (5) days before the meeting of the board of state canvassers, the secretary of state shall immediately send a messenger to the registrar of each delinquent county. The registrar shall furnish the messenger with a certified copy of the statement required by section 23-4012.

History: En. Sec. 187, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4018. Governor to issue commissions. Upon receipt of the statement required by section 23-4016, the governor shall issue commissions to the persons elected. If the governor has been elected to succeed himself, the secretary of state shall issue the commission.

History: En. Sec. 188, Ch. 386, L. 1969.

23-4019. Defect in form of returns to be disregarded. No declaration of an election result, commission, or certificate shall be withheld because of a defect or informality in the returns of any election if it can be determined with reasonable certainty the office intended and the person elected.

23-4101. Recount of votes, order for—application, contents and time for making—hearing—determination by court. (1) Within five (5) days after the canvass of election returns, an unsuccessful candidate for any public office at a general, special, or city election may apply to the district court of the county where the election was held for an order directing the canvassing body to make a recount of the votes cast in any or all of the precincts.

(2) The application shall specify the grounds for a recount and be verified by the applicant that the matters contained in it are true to the best of the applicant's knowledge, information, and belief.

(3) Within five (5) days after filing of the application, the judge shall hear the application and determine its sufficiency.

(4) If the judge finds there is probable cause to believe that the votes cast for the applicant were not correctly counted, he shall order the board of county canvassers to assemble within five (5) days after the order is issued at a time and place fixed by the order. The board shall meet and recount the ballots as specified in the order.

History: En. Sec. 190, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Application Timely

Where the board was compelled by writ of mandate to reconvene by the supreme court and correct its findings with relation to two candidates for district judge, the application filed within five days after the corrected canvass was timely. State ex rel. Riley v. District Court, 103 M 576, 586, 64 P 2d 115.

Candidate for District Judge

Any unsuccessful candidate, including a candidate for the office of district judge, may apply to the district court for a recount. State ex rel. Riley v. District Court, 103 M 576, 580, 64 P 2d 115.

Candidates for Legislature

Recount statutes apply to candidates for the state senate and house of representatives. State ex rel. Ainsworth v. District Court, 107 M 370, 372, 86 P 2d 5.

Courts cannot try contests for seats in the legislature or decide issues involved in such contests, but mandamus lies to compel the court to perform the duty specially imposed upon it by recount statutes, the election certificate does not ensure acceptance of a candidate as a member of either house, but merely furnishes prima facie evidence that the majority of voters voted for him. State ex rel. Ainsworth v. District Court, 107 M 370, 376, 86 P 2d 5.

Function and Jurisdiction of Court

District court committed error in dismissing the application for a recount on the ground that applicant, convicted of a felony in federal court, lost his citizenship. State ex rel. Stone v. District Court, 103 M 515, 519, 63 P 2d 147.

The court could proceed in any suitable manner or mode most conformable "to the spirit" of the code in the absence of specific direction as to how proceedings shall be conducted, and was within its jurisdiction in directing canvassers' attention to sections of the codes covering points in dispute. State ex rel. Riley v. District Court, 103 M 576, 587, 64 P 2d 115. (But see State ex rel. Peterson v. District Court, 107 M 482, 488, 86 P 2d 403, below.)

A recount of ballots is not made in the presence of the district judge ordering it; in acting, the board is not required to ask the advice of the judge as to whether ballots are or are not properly marked, and he may not give such advice; the board is in duty bound to "hear all, consider all, and then decide." State ex rel. Peterson v. District Court, 107 M 482, 486, 86 P 2d 403.

The rule that district courts may not advise boards of county canvassers on questions arising on a recount of ballots as to the legality or illegality of ballots cast, etc., applies also to the supreme court on application for extraordinary relief by way of writs, and it cannot control the actions of such boards indirectly by directions or suggestions to district courts. (If State ex rel. Riley v. District Court, 103 M 576, 64 P 2d 115, be open to a contrary construction it is to that extent overruled.) State ex rel. Peterson v. District Court, 107 M 482, 488, 86 P 2d 403.

The law relating to proceedings for election recounts specifically divides the functions of the court and the canvassing board. The court determines the grounds of and necessity for a recount and orders it done. The board is entrusted with the duty of making the recount, just as the judges and clerks of election are entrusted with the duty of making the count and certifying thereto in the first place. State ex rel. Peterson v. District Court, 107 M 482, 485, 86 P 2d 403.

Grounds Sufficient

Where application for writ of supervisory control set forth that the votes were not correctly counted, such ground was sufficient to justify the court in finding that the votes "might not" have been correctly counted, and writ accordingly issued directing respondents to order the recount. State ex rel. Thomas v. District Court, 116 M 510, 511, 154 P 2d 980.

Purpose of Act

The sole purpose of the recount statutes is to determine, in a doubtful case, whether the official canvass of the vote was correct, and where the office of state senator or representative is concerned, the election certificate does not ensure one's acceptance as a member of either house, nor affect the ultimate right to the office, nor can the recount infringe upon the assembly's right to judge of the elections, returns and qualifications of its members in contravention of section 9, article V of the constitution. State ex rel. Ains- worth v. District Court, 107 M 370, 372, 86 P 2d 5.

Recount Proceeding Not Election Contest

A proceeding to obtain a recount of votes is in no sense of the word an election contest, it is absolutely independent of the law relating to contesting of elections and either or both remedies are available. State ex rel. Peterson v. District Court, 107 M 482, 484, 86 P 2d 403.

Successive Recounts

Where an unsuccessful candidate for sheriff obtained a recount and was declared elected, and his opponent, the former successful but then unsuccessful candidate also asked for and was granted a recount, on application for a writ of supervisory control, the five-day limitation commenced to run from the time the board of canvassers announced the result of the first recount, and the application coming within that time, the court had jurisdiction to grant the second recount. State ex rel. Peterson v. District Court, 107 M 482, 485, 86 P 2d 403.

Wrongful Canvass

Recount statutes do not afford a legal remedy for an alleged wrongful canvass by a county canvassing board, and therefore do not defeat the right of a citizen to compel proper performance of their duty by writ of mandate. State ex rel. Lynch v. Batani, 103 M 353, 358, 62 P 2d 565.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Constitutionality

Former chapter on recounts was held constitutional as to sufficiency of title as to due process of law. State ex rel. Riley v. District Court, 103 M 576, 584, 586, 64 P 2d 115.

23-4102. Recount limited to precincts and offices specified in order. The board of canvassers shall recount votes only in those precincts and for those offices specified in the court order.

History: En. Sec. 191, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4103. Conditions under which recount to be made. A recount shall be made under any of the following conditions.

(1) If a candidate other than for the office of district judge is defeated by a margin not exceeding one-fourth of one per cent ($\frac{1}{4}$ of 1%) of the total votes cast or by a margin not exceeding ten (10) votes, whichever is greater, he may within five (5) days after the official canvass file with the registrar a verified petition stating he believes a recount will change the result and a recount of the votes for the office or nomination should be had.

(2) If a candidate is defeated for the office of district judge or an office voted on in more than one (1) county by a margin not exceeding one-fourth of one per cent ($\frac{1}{4}$ of 1%) of the total votes cast for all candidates for the same position, he may within five (5) days after the official canvass file a petition with the secretary of state as set forth in subsection (1) of this section. The secretary of state shall immediately notify each registrar whose county includes any precincts which voted for the same office by registered mail and a recount shall be conducted in those precincts.

(3) If a question submitted to the vote of the people of the state is decided by a margin not exceeding one-fourth of one per cent ($\frac{1}{4}$ of 1%) of the total votes cast for and against the question, a petition as set forth in subsection (1) of this section may be filed with the secretary of state. This petition shall:

(a) Be signed by not less than one hundred (100) electors of the state representing at least five (5) counties of the state and be filed within five (5) days after the official canvass;

(b) The secretary of state shall immediately notify each registrar by registered mail of the filing of the petition and a recount shall be conducted in all precincts in each county.

(4) If there is a tie vote, the board making the canvass shall certify the vote to the registrar if the election took place only in one (1) county and to the secretary of state for other elections. The registrar or secretary of state shall proceed as if a petition for recount had been filed under this act. If a tie exists after the recount, the tie shall be resolved as provided by law.

History: En. Sec. 192, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Clerk of District Court

The provisions of the constitution, fixing the terms of judicial officers, are exclusive, and vacancies occur by operation of law upon the expiration of the terms designated, even where the people fail to elect their successors; hence, if, by reason of a tie vote, there is a failure to elect the successor of a clerk of a district court upon the expiration of the incumbent's term, there is a vacancy which the county commissioners are authorized to fill by appointment, State ex rel. Jones v. Foster, 39 M 583, 592, 104 P 860. See also State ex rel. Paterson v. Lentz, 50 M 322, 336, 146 P 932.

If there is a clause in the constitution providing that an officer shall hold for a definite term and until his successor is elected and qualified, and the people fail to elect his successor, there is no vacancy, and he is entitled to hold over until the people have chosen his successor in the usual way; but, in the case of judicial officers, whose terms end at the expiration of a definitely fixed period, the words "and until his successor is elected and qualified," refer to those officers only who were first elected after the adoption of the constitution; they have no application to those chosen after such first election. State ex rel. Jones v. Foster, 39 M 583, 586, 104 P 860.

County School Superintendent

Former chapter governing proceedings on tie vote did not in terms declare that a vacancy in office shall occur when there has been no election to the office by reason of a tie vote. In so far as it related to officers named in the constitution (county school superintendent) and the authority of the county commissioners to fill vacancies therein, it was invalid. State ex rel. Chenoweth v. Acton, 31 M 37, 40, 77 P 299. See State ex rel. Jones v. Foster, 39 M 583, 591, 104 P 860.

23-4104. Failure to comply with provisions for counting votes, presumption of incorrectness from. If it appears from a verified application that the election judges or clerks failed to comply with the provision of section 23-4003, that is sufficient cause for believing that the election judges and clerks did not correctly ascertain the number of votes cast for the applicant.

History: En. Sec. 193, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4105. Ordering in another judge—court not divested of jurisdiction by failure to hear application within prescribed time. (1) If the judge of the district court of the county in which the election is held is for any reason disqualified from acting, the judge or a supreme court justice shall order another district judge to hear and determine the application.

(2) The district court shall not lose jurisdiction of the case by failure to hear and determine the application within the prescribed time, but shall retain jurisdiction until the cause is finally determined and the final count is made by the board of county canvassers.

History: En. Sec. 194, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Jurisdiction Retained

The jurisdiction of the district court before which an application for a recount of the votes is filed does not cease when it orders the board to reconvene and recanvass the votes, but it retains jurisdiction of the proceeding until completion of the canvass, i. e., until the court is advised thereof. State ex rel. Riley v. District Court, 103 M 576, 587, 588, 64 P 2d 115.

23-4106. Limitation of recount to certain precincts. (1) If the application asks for a recount in more than one (1) precinct, but there are not sufficient grounds for a recount in all precincts, the court shall order a recount only in the precincts for which sufficient grounds are stated and shown.

History: En. Sec. 195, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

Compiler's Notes

As enacted, this section contained no subsection (2).

23-4107. Deposit of expense of recount—disposition—compensation of canvassing officials. (1) The court in its order shall determine the probable expense of making the recount and the applicant or applicants asking for the recount shall deposit with the board the amount determined in cash.

(2) If the recount shows that the applicant or applicants have been elected to the office, the deposit of each applicant shall be returned to him.

(3) If the recount shows that an applicant has not been elected and the expense of the recount is greater than the estimated cost, the applicant shall pay the excess, but if the expense is less than the cost the difference shall be refunded to the applicant.

(4) Members of the canvassing board and their clerks shall be compensated for their time spent in canvassing.

History: En. Sec. 196, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4108. Procedure when more than one application for recount made. If more than one (1) candidate makes application for a recount, the court may consider the applications together. The court may make separate or joint orders on the applications and apportion the expenses between the applicants.

History: En. Sec. 197, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4109. Manner of recounting ballots. The board of canvassers in recounting the ballots shall count the votes cast, at the same time, in the precincts in which a recount is ordered for the several candidates in whose behalf a recount is ordered in the following manner:

(1) The registrar shall produce, unopened, unless it is necessary for the registrar to open the package or envelope to secure election materials which have been sealed in the wrong envelope or package, the sealed package or envelope received from the election judges of the precinct, or precincts, in which a recount is ordered containing all ballots voted in the precinct or precincts;

(2) A member of the board of county canvassers shall open the sealed package or envelope in the presence of the other members, the registrar, and the applicant or applicants seeking the recount;

(3) A member of the board shall then remove the ballots from the package or envelope in the presence of the applicant or applicants seeking the recount and the candidate or candidates who received the highest number of votes by the first canvass;

(4) One (1) of the members of the board, in the presence and view of the candidates and one (1) other board member, shall read each ballot aloud. As the ballots are read, two (2) clerks shall write the votes cast for each person in each precinct at full length, on previously prepared tally sheets showing the names of the respective candidates, the office or offices for which a recount is made, and the number of each election precinct;

(5) At the completion of the recount, the tally sheets shall be compared, their correctness ascertained, and the total number of votes cast for each candidate determined;

(6) If the recount shows the votes for any applicant are more or less than the number shown upon the official returns, the clerk of the board of canvassers shall correct the original returns to state the number of votes ascertained by the recount;

(7) The board of canvassers shall direct the clerk to enter the result of the election as determined by the recount on the board records and the clerk shall make out and deliver a certificate of election which conforms to the result of the recount.

History: En. Sec. 198, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4110. Service of copy of application on candidate originally found to be elected—hearing. The candidate found to be elected as a result of the original or first canvass shall be served with a copy of the application for recount. He shall be given an opportunity to be heard and shall be permitted to be present and to be represented at any recount ordered.

History: En. Sec. 199, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4111. Sealing recounted ballots. When the recount in a precinct has been finished, the ballots shall again be sealed in the same package or envelope in the presence of the registrar and the members of the board of canvassers and shall be delivered to the registrar for custody.

History: En. Sec. 200, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4112. Certificates of election, effect of recount on. If the recount shows that the person who received the certificate of election according to section 23-4014 did not receive the highest number of votes, the registrar shall issue a new certificate to the person receiving the highest number pursuant to the recount and the first certificate is void. The person receiving the second certificate shall be elected to the office.

History: En. Sec. 201, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4113. Determining total vote cast for all candidates for an office. When an elector may vote for two (2) or more candidates for the same office, the total vote cast for all candidates for the office is the total vote cast for all candidates divided by the number of candidates officially declared nominated or elected as shown by the official returns.

History: En. Sec. 202, Ch. 368, L. 1969.

23-4114. County recount board, board of county commissioners as—absent and disqualified members—clerk. (1) The county recount board shall always consist of three (3) acting members.

(2) The county recount board is the board of county commissioners.

23-4756. (10802) Inducement to accept or decline nomination. It shall be unlawful for any person to accept, receive, or pay money or any valuable consideration for becoming or for refraining from becoming a candidate for nomination or election, or by himself or in combination with any other person or persons to become a candidate for the purpose of defeating the nomination or election of any other person, and not with a bona fide intent to obtain the office. 23-4757. (10803) Forfeiture of nomination or office for violation of law, when not worked. Where, upon the trial of any action or proceeding under the provisions of this act for the contest of the right of any person declared nominated or elected to any office, or to annul or set aside such nomination or election, or to remove a person from his office, it appears from the evidence that the offense complained of was not committed by the candidate, or with his knowledge or consent, or was committed without his sanction or connivance, and that all reasonable means for preventing the commission of such offense at such election were taken by and on behalf of the candidate, or that the offense or offenses complained of were trivial, unimportant, and limited in character, and that in all other respects his participation in the election was free from such offenses or illegal acts, or that any act or omission of the candidate arose from inadvertence or from accidental miscalculation, or from some other reasonable cause of a like nature, and in any case did not arise from any want of good faith, and under the circumstances it seems to the court to be unjust that the said candidate shall forfeit his nomination or office, or be deprived of any office of which he is the incumbent, then the nomination or election of such candidate shall not by reason of such offense or omission complained of be void, nor shall the candidate be removed from or deprived of his office.

23-4758. (10804) Punishment for violation of act. If, upon the trial of any action or proceeding under the provisions of this act, for the contesting of the right of any person declared to be nominated to an office, or elected to an office, or to annul and set aside such election, or to remove any person from his office, it shall appear that such person was guilty of any corrupt practice, illegal act, or undue influence, in or about such nomination or election, he shall be punished by being deprived of the nomination or office, as the case may be, and the vacancy therein shall be filled in the manner provided by law. The only exception to this judgment shall be that provided in the preceding section of this act. Such judgment shall not prevent the candidate or officer from being proceeded against by indictment or criminal information for any such act or acts.

History: En. Sec. 39, Init. Act, Nov. 94-1458, R. C. M. 1947; redes. 23-4758 by 1912; re-en. Sec. 10804, R. C. M. 1921; Sec. Sec. 29, Ch. 513, L. 1973.

23-4759. (10805) Time for commencing contest. Any action to contest the right of any person declared elected to an office, or to annul and set aside such election, or to remove from or deprive any person of an office of which he is the incumbent, for any offense mentioned in this act, must, unless a different time be stated, be commenced within forty days after the return day of the election at which such offense was committed, unless the ground of the action or proceeding is for the illegal payment of money or other valuable thing subsequent to the filing of the statements prescribed by this act, in which case the action or proceeding may be commenced within forty days after the discovery by the complainant of such illegal payment. A contest of the nomination or office of governor or representative or senator in congress must be commenced within twenty days after the declaration of the result of the election, but this shall not be construed to apply to any contest before the legislative assembly.

23-4760. (10806) Court having jurisdiction of proceedings. An application for filing a statement, payment of a claim, or correction of an error or false recital in a statement filed, or an action or proceeding to annul and set aside the election of any person declared elected to an office, or to remove or deprive any person of his office for an offense mentioned in this act, or any petition to excuse any person or candidate in accordance with the power of the court to excuse as provided in section 23-4757, must be made or filed in the district court of the county in which the certificate of his nomination as a candidate for the office to which he is declared nominated or elected is filed, or in which the incumbent resides.

29, Ch. 513, L. 1973), relating to the county attorney's duty with respect to violations, was repealed by Sec. 23, Ch. 480, Laws 1975.

23-4762. (10809) Declaration of result of election after rejection of illegal votes. If, in any case of a contest on the ground of illegal votes, it appears that another person than the one returned has the highest number of legal votes, after the illegal votes have been eliminated, the court must declare such person nominated or elected, as the case may be.

History: En. Sec. 44, Init. Act, Nov. 94-1463, R. C. M. 1947; redes. 23-4762 by 1912; re-en. Sec. 10809, R. C. M. 1921; Sec. 29, Ch. 513, L. 1973.

23-4763. (10810) Grounds for contest of nomination or office. Any elector of the state, or of any political or municipal division thereof, may contest the right of any person to any nomination or office for which such elector has the right to vote, for any of the following causes:

1. On the ground of deliberate, serious, and material violation of any of the provisions of this act, or of any other provision of the law relating to nominations or elections.

2. When the person whose right was contested was not, at the time of the election, eligible to such office.

3. On account of illegal votes or an erroneous or fraudulent count or canvass of votes.

23-4764. (10811) Nomination or election not to be vacated, when. Nothing in the third ground of contest specified in the preceding section is to be so construed as to authorize a nomination or election to be set aside on account of illegal votes, unless it appear, either that the candidate or nominee whose right is contested had knowledge of or connived at such illegal votes, or that the number of illegal votes given to the person whose right to the nomination or office is contested, if taken from him, would reduce the number of his legal votes below the number of votes given to some other person for the same nomination or office, after deducting therefrom the illegal votes which may be shown to have been given to such other person.

History: En. Sec. 46, Init. Act, Nov. 94-1465, R. C. M. 1947; redes. 23-4764 by 1912; re-en. Sec. 10811, R. C. M. 1921; Sec. Sec. 29, Ch. 513, L. 1973.

23-4765. (10812) Reception of illegal votes, allegations and evidence. When the reception of illegal votes is alleged as a cause of contest, it shall be sufficient to state generally that in one or more specified voting precincts illegal votes were given to the person whose nomination or election is contested, which, if taken from him, will reduce the number of his legal votes below the number of legal votes given to some other person for the same office; but no testimony shall be received of any illegal votes, unless the party contesting such election deliver to the opposite party, at least three days before such trial, a written list of the number of illegal votes, and by whom given, which he intends to prove on such trial. This provision shall not prevent the contestant from offering evidence of illegal votes not included in such statement, if he did not know and by reasonable diligence was unable to learn of such additional illegal votes, and by whom they were given, before delivering such written list.

23-4766. (10813) Contents of contest petition—amendment—bond—costs—citation—precedence. Any petition contesting the right of any person to a nomination or election shall set forth the name of every person whose election is contested, and the grounds of the contest, and shall not thereafter be amended, except by leave of the court. Before any proceeding thereon the petitioner shall give bond to the state in such sum as the court may order, not exceeding two thousand dollars, with not less than two sureties, who shall justify in the manner required of sureties on bail-bonds, conditioned to pay all costs, disbursements, and attorney's fees that may be awarded against him if he shall not prevail. If the petitioner prevails, he may recover his costs, disbursements, and reasonable attorney's fees against the contestee. But costs, disbursements, and attorney's fees, in all such cases, shall be in the discretion of the court, and in case judgment is rendered against the petitioner, it shall also be rendered against the sureties on the bond. On the filing of any such petition, the clerk shall immediately notify the judge of the court, and issue a citation to the person whose nomination or office is contested, citing them to appear and answer, not less than three nor more than seven days after the date of filing the petition, and the court shall hear said cause, and every such contest shall take precedence over all other business on the court docket, and shall be tried and disposed of with all convenient dispatch. The court shall always be deemed in session for the trial of such cases.

23-4767. (10814) Hearing of contest. The petitioner (contestant) and the contestee may appear and produce evidence at the hearing, but no person, other than the petitioner and contestee, shall be made a party to the proceedings on such petition; and no person, other than said parties and their attorneys, shall be heard thereon, except by order of the court. If more than one petition is pending, or the election of more than one person is contested, the court may, in its discretion, order the cases to be heard together, and may apportion the costs, disbursements, and attorney's fees between them, and shall finally determine all questions of law and fact, save only that the judge may, in his discretion, impanel a jury to decide on questions of fact. In the case of other nominations or elections, the court shall forthwith certify its decision to the board or official issuing certificates of nomination or election, which board or official shall thereupon issue certificates of nomination or election to the person or persons entitled thereto by such decision. If judgment of ouster against a defendant shall be rendered, said judgment shall award the nomination or office to the person receiving next the highest number of votes, unless it shall be further determined in the action, upon appropriate pleading and proof by the defendant, that some act has been done or committed which would have been ground in a similar action against such person, had he received the highest number of votes for such nomination or office, for a judgment of ouster against him; and if it shall be so determined at the trial, the nomination or office shall be by the judgment declared vacant, and shall thereupon be filled by a new election, or by appointment, as may be provided by law regarding vacancies in such nomination or office.

The petition shall be filed in the district court in the county where said corporation has its principal office, or where the violation of law is averred to have been committed. The court, upon conviction of such corporation, may impose a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars, or may declare a forfeiture of the charter and franchises of the corporation, if organized under the laws of this state, or if it be a foreign corporation, may enjoin said corporation from further transacting business in this state, or by both such fine and forfeiture, or by both such fine and injunction.

No petition shall be dismissed without the consent of the county attorney, unless the same shall be dismissed by the court. No person shall be excused from testifying or producing papers or documents on the ground that his testimony or the production of papers or documents will tend to criminate him; but no admission, evidence, or paper made or advanced or produced by such person shall be offered or used against him in any civil or criminal prosecution, or any evidence that is the direct result of such evidence or information that he may have so given, except in a prosecution for perjury committed in such testimony.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1975, once by Ch. 102 and once by Ch. 195. Neither amendatory act mentioned or included the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment substituted references to section 16-3302 for references to repealed section 32-303; raised all the salary bases in the schedule; and in the final paragraph, inserted "and county sheriffs" before "and county surveyors."

The 1971 amendment raised all the salary bases in the schedule; added the last five items in the schedule headed "Taxable Valuation of County"; and inserted "and county sheriffs" in the proviso to the final paragraph.

Chapter 391, Laws of 1973, deleted "county assessors" following "sheriffs" in both the preliminary clause and final paragraph.

Chapter 474, Laws of 1973, increased the compensation on each level of the schedule by from $460 to $790 for each item; deleted "and county sheriffs" following "county superintendent of schools" near the beginning of the proviso in the final paragraph; and added to the final paragraph the clause giving the sheriff $1,200 extra per year and the final sentence relating to county attorneys in large counties.

The 1974 amendment inserted the reference to county attorneys in the provision in the final paragraph relating to $1200 per year.

Chapter 102, Laws of 1975, increased the annual salary of the county attorney from $16,000 to $25,000; and made minor changes in phraseology.

Chapter 195, Laws of 1975, increased all salary levels contained in columns A and B from a minimum of $565 to a maximum of $3,058; and made minor changes in style.

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 195, Laws of 1975, read "One-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of the total salary increases provided for in section 1 shall be effective July 1, 1975, and the remainder of such increases shall be effective July 1, 1976."

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Constitutional Limitation

Article V, section 31 of the 1889 constitution absolutely barred increases or decreases in salary during term of office, so that county officers elected or appointed before enactment of the 1969 amendment to this section were not entitled to raises in salaries or emoluments provided thereby. Shubat v. State, 157 M 143, 484 P 2d 278; Brown v. Board of County Comrs. of Galatin County, — M —, 529 P 2d 358.

25-609. Repealed.

Repeal

Section 25-609 (Sec. 5, Ch. 150, L. 1945; Sec. 1, Ch. 177, L. 1949; Sec. 4, Ch. 222, L. 1953; Sec. 1, Ch. 98, L. 1963), relating to the annual establishment of salaries by the county commissioners, was repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 306, Laws 1973. For new law, see sec. 25-609.1. Chapter 391, Laws of 1973 purported to amend this section but was void under section 43-515.

25-609.1. Commissioners to fix salaries according to salary schedule.

The county commissioners shall, by resolution on or before July 1 of each year, fix the salaries of the county treasurer, county clerk, county assessor, county school superintendent, county sheriff, county attorney, clerk of the district court for the following fiscal year in conformity with the appropriate statutory salary schedule pertaining to each office. The salary schedule used for each office shall be the statutory schedule in effect on the first day of the following fiscal year.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 306, L. 1973.

Title of Act

An act directing county commissioners to fix salaries of certain county officers annually according to statutory schedules; repealing section 25-609, R. C. M. 1947.

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 306, Laws 1973 read
"Section 25-609, R. C. M. 1947, is repealed."

Duty of Commissioners

The commissioners have a clear legal duty to compute taxable valuation used for fixing salaries prior to July 1 of each year, although the deadline for reporting their computations to the state department of revenue is the second Monday in July. Brown v. Board of County Comrs. of Gallatin County, — M —, 529 P 2d 358.

Removal of Influence

To allow the taxable valuation to be determined either before or after the date of the fixing of these salaries would open up the possibility of exerting influence by increase or decrease of salary, and by choosing the specific date of July 1, the legislature has attempted to make all changes consistent with the start of the county fiscal year. Brown v. Board of County Comrs. of Gallatin County, — M —, 529 P 2d 358.

25-611. Effective date—existing officeholders unaffected.Compiler's Notes

sections 25-605 to 25-609, was repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 306, Laws 1973. For new law, see sec. 25-609.1.

26-103. (3652) Meetings. The members of the commission shall hold quarterly or other meetings for the transaction of business, at times and places it considers necessary and proper. The meetings shall be called by the chairman, or by a majority of the commission, and shall be held at the time and place specified in the call for the meeting. Such rental collected shall be deposited to the credit of the state general fund.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment deleted "shall within thirty (30) days after their appointment and annually thereafter meet and organize by electing from its membership a chairman" from the first sentence following "The members of the commission"; inserted "department" near the beginning of the sixth sentence; substituted "in or near Helena" for "near the capitol building in Helena" near the beginning of the sixth sentence; increased the rental rate specified in the seventh sentence from $2.00 to a maximum of $4.00 per square foot per year; deleted a next to last sentence reading "Such charge to the commission shall be in effect until such time as the commission shall provide other building or buildings"; and made minor changes in style and phraseology.

26-104. (3653) Powers and duties of commission. (1) The commission shall supervise all the wildlife, fish, game, game and nongame birds, and waterfowl, and the game, and fur-bearing animals of the state. It possesses all powers necessary to fulfill the duties prescribed by law and to bring actions in the proper courts of this state for the enforcement of the fish and game laws and the rules adopted by the commission.

(2) It shall enforce all the laws of the state respecting the protection, preservation, and propagation of fish, game, fur-bearing animals and game and nongame birds within the state.

(3) It shall have the exclusive power to spend for the protection, preservation, and propagation of fish, game, fur-bearing animals, and game and nongame birds all state funds collected or acquired for that purpose, whether arising from state appropriation, licenses, fines, gifts, or otherwise. Sec. 1, Ch. 364, L. 1973; amd. Sec. 3, Ch. 511, L. 1973.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1973, once by Ch. 364, and once by Ch. 511. Neither amendatory enactment mentioned or incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment added "provided, however, that all drawings for elk permits shall be held in the city or town which has suitable accommodations for the persons who will attend the drawing nearest to the area to be hunted but in no case shall the drawing be held in a city or town more distant than the county seat nearest to the area to be hunted" to the end of subsection (15). See 1973 amendment.

The 1971 amendment inserted "all" before "public fishing reservoirs," "public" before "lakes," and "rivers and streams" in the first paragraph of subsection (26); and inserted "the operation of motor-driven boats" and "lakes, rivers and streams" in two places in the first sentence of the second paragraph of subsection (26). See 1973 amendment.

Chapter 364, Laws of 1973 substituted the last sentence of subsection (15) for the proviso added by the 1969 amendment.

Chapter 511, Laws of 1973 substituted "fish and game account in the earmarked revenue fund" at the end of subsection (5) for "state fish and game fund"; deleted subsections (6) to (22) and (24) to (26); renumbered subsection (23) as (6); deleted "who are paid by the state of Montana" from the end of the present subsection (6); deleted a final paragraph; and made minor changes in style, phraseology and punctuation.

26-104.2. Repealed.

Repeal

Section 26-104.2 (Sec. 1, Ch. 106, L. 1971), relating to the authority of the commission to adopt rules governing the use of livestock and motor vehicles during archery season, was repealed by Sec. 58, Ch. 511, Laws 1973.

26-104.3. Fixing of general and special seasons and bag and possession limits. (1) The commission may fix seasons, bag limits, possession limits, and season limits; open or close, shorten or lengthen seasons on any species of game, bird, fish, or fur-bearing animals as defined by section 26-201, and declare areas open to the hunting of deer, antelope, and elk by bow and arrow permit holders, and designate times when only bow and arrows may be used to hunt deer, antelope, and elk in those areas. It may declare areas open to deer hunting where shotguns only may be used to hunt or kill deer. It may declare areas open to special license holders only, and issue special licenses in a limited number when it determines, after proper investigation, that such a season is necessary to assure the maintenance of an adequate supply of game birds, fish, animals, or fur-bearing animals. It may declare a special season and issue special licenses when game birds or animals or fur-bearing animals are causing damage to private property, or when written complaint of such damage has been filed with the state fish and game commission by the owner of that property. In determining to whom those licenses shall be issued, it may, when more applications are received than the number of animals to be killed, award permits to those chosen under a drawing system. The procedures used for awarding the permits from the drawing system shall be determined by the commission.

(2) The commission may adopt rules governing the use of livestock and vehicles, by archers, during special archery seasons.

(3) It may divide the state into fish and game districts, and create fish, game, or fur-bearing animal districts throughout the state. It may declare closed season for hunting, fishing, or trapping in any of those districts, and later may open those districts to hunting, fishing, or trapping.

(4) It may declare a closed season on any species of game, fish, game birds, or fur-bearing animals threatened with undue depletion from any cause. It may close any area or district of any stream, public lake, or public water, or portions thereof, to hunting, trapping, or fishing for limited periods of time, when necessary to protect a recently stocked area, district, water, spawning waters, spawn-taking waters, or spawn-taking stations; or to prevent the undue depletion of fish, game and fur-bearing animals, and game and nongame birds. It later may open the area or district upon consent of a majority of the property owners affected.

(5) It may declare certain fishing waters closed to fishing except by persons under thirteen (13) years of age. The purpose of this subsection is to provide suitable fishing waters for the exclusive use and enjoyment of juveniles under thirteen (13) years of age, at times and in areas the commission in its discretion considers advisable and consistent with its policies relating to fishing.

History: En. 26-104.3 by Sec. 4, Ch. 511, L. 1973.

Drawing for Licenses

The literal language of former subsection (15) of sec. 26-104 did not require that the application process to receive a permit to hunt elk be fulfilled by one personally present at the drawing; rather it merely required that the drawing be held at a particular town. State ex rel. Jones v. District Court, 158 M 67, 488 P 2d 1141.

Seasons on Indian Reservation

Conviction of non-Indian for killing two bull elk on Crow Indian Reservation during season closed by state fish and game laws was not in conflict with act of Congress providing penalty for trespass to possessory rights of reservation Indians nor in conflict with Montana Enabling Act providing that Indian lands shall remain under the absolute jurisdiction and control of Congress of United States. State ex rel. Nepstad v. Danielson, 149 M 438, 427 P 2d 689.

26-104.4. Acquisition, importation, and propagation of fish, game, game birds, and fur-bearing animals—introduction and propagation of waterfowl food. The commission may:

(1) Acquire by gift, purchase, capture, or otherwise any fish, game, game birds, or animals, for propagation, experimental, or scientific purposes.

(2) Provide for the importation of game birds and game and fur-bearing animals and for the protection, propagation, and distribution of imported or native birds and animals.

(3) Use fish and game funds necessary for the construction, maintenance, operation, upkeep, and repair of fish hatcheries, game farms or other property or means and appliances for the protection and propagation of fish, game and fur-bearing animals, or game or nongame birds. It may appropriate moneys from the funds at its disposal for the extermination or eradication of predatory animals that destroy fish, game, or fur-bearing animals, or game or nongame birds.

(4) Spend fish and game funds necessary to introduce and propagate wild waterfowl food and for that purpose may secure expert advice as to what kinds of waterfowl foods are adapted to the climate, soil, and waters of this state.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Fish Ladder Construction

Mandamus to compel fish pond licensee, in compliance with a statute, to construct fish ladder on diversion dam installed seven years before with approval of fish and game commission would be denied on theory that individuals who have put water to beneficial use should not have their rights arbitrarily diluted under claim of sovereign right. Paradise Rainbows v. Fish and Game Commission, 148 M 412, 421 P 2d 717.

26-104.6. Acquisition and sale of lands or waters by commission.

(1) The commission may acquire by purchase, condemnation, lease, agreement, gift, or devise, and may acquire easements upon lands or waters for the purposes listed in this subsection. The commission may acquire, develop, operate, and maintain acquired lands or waters:

- (a) For fish hatcheries, nursery ponds, or game farms;
- (b) As lands or water suitable for game, bird, fish, or fur-bearing animal restoration, propagation, or protection;
- (c) For public hunting, fishing, or trapping areas;
- (d) To capture, propagate, transport, buy, sell, or exchange any game, bird, fish, fish eggs, or fur-bearing animals needed for propagation or stocking purposes, or to exercise control measures of undesirable species;
- (e) To extend and consolidate by exchange, lands or waters suitable for these purposes.

(2) The commission may dispose of lands and waters acquired by it on those terms after that public notice, and without regard to other laws which provide for sale or disposal of state lands, and with or without reservation, as it considers necessary and advisable. Notice of sale describing the lands or waters to be disposed of shall be published once a week for three (3) successive weeks in a newspaper with general circulation printed and published in the county where the lands or waters are situated, or if no newspaper is published in that county then in any newspaper with general circulation in that county. The notice shall advertise for cash bids to be presented to the commission or the director within thirty (30) days from the date of the first publication. Each bid must be accompanied by a cashier's check or cash deposit in an amount equal to ten per cent (10%) of the amount bid. The highest bid shall be accepted upon payment of the balance due within ten (10) days after mailing notice by registered mail to the highest bidder. If that bidder defaults on payment of the balance due, then the next highest bidders shall be similarly notified in succession until a sale is completed. Deposits shall be returned to the unsuccessful bidders except bidders defaulting after notification. The commission shall reserve the right to reject any bids which do not equal or exceed the full market value of the lands and waters as determined by the commission. The commission shall convey the lands and waters by deed without cove-

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 82-1918, R. C. M. 1947, the commission is authorized to utilize the installment contract method to facilitate the acquisition of wildlife management areas, in which game and nongame fur-bearing animals, and game and nongame birds may breed and replenish, and areas which provide access to fishing sites for the public. In no case may the total cost of such installment contracts exceed the cost of purchases authorized by commission and appropriated by the legislature.

The purpose of this provision is to establish small refuges rather than large preserves or rather than close large areas to hunting or trapping.

(3) The commission may designate and protect certain areas as resting, feeding, and breeding grounds for migratory birds, in which hunting and molestation are forbidden. The purpose of this provision is not to interfere unduly with the hunting of waterfowl, but to provide havens in which they can rest, feed, and breed without molestation.

(4) After a petition has been duly filed with the secretary of the commission requesting that an area be set aside as a game refuge, the secretary shall immediately publish a notice in a paper of general circulation in the county in which the area is located. Areas regulated pursuant to the authority contained in this section must be areas which are legally accessible to the public. These rules are subject to review and approval by the department of health and environmental sciences as to public health and sanitation before becoming effective. Copies of the rules shall show that endorsement.

Tagging Game Killed by Another

Tagging of game animal that someone else has killed or so far brought under control that one can walk up to it and cut its throat is not method of acquiring ownership contemplated by statute authorizing licensed hunter to pursue, hunt, shoot and kill game animal and then to possess carcass with result that person tagging illegally killed elk is not entitled to possession. State ex rel. Visser v. State Fish and Game Commission, 150 M 525, 437 P 2d 373.

26-202.2. Special licenses—tagging of carcasses of game animals. (1) Special licenses authorized to be issued under the general powers of the department of fish and game may be issued only to persons holding valid big game licenses for the current year, which have been obtained by the applicant prior to the time of filing of application for a special license.

(2) Any person who has obtained a grizzly bear, moose, mountain goat, or mountain sheep license shall not be eligible to apply for another such license for the next succeeding seven (7) years, if such person has killed or taken an animal of the species for which such special license was issued. Any person, who has obtained a grizzly bear, moose, mountain goat or mountain sheep license but did not kill or take an animal of the species for which such special license was issued, shall be eligible to apply for another such license in any succeeding year if he returns his unused special license to the department of fish and game before or at the time application is made. It is further provided that any person who has received a special license for elk shall not be eligible to receive a second special license for this species of game animal during any license year. However, in the event the number of applications received is not equal to the number of game species desired to be killed by the department reapplication may be made by those valid license holders of the current year who may fall within these limitations. It is further provided that any person who has killed or taken a game animal, except a deer during the current license year, shall not be permitted to receive a special license under this act to hunt or kill a second game animal of the same species.

(3) Tagging of carcasses of game animals. Every license issued by the department authorizing the holder thereof to pursue, shoot, kill, capture, take or possess game animals, whether issued to a resident or a nonresident, shall provide such tags, coupons, or markers, as the department shall prescribe, and when any person should take or kill any game animal under such license, such person shall immediately thereafter cut out, from the tag, coupon or other marker, the date the animal was killed or taken and attach the tag, coupon or other marker to said animal, completely filled out with the name of the license holder, his address, and any other information requested on such tag, coupon or other marker, and such tag, coupon or other marker shall be kept attached to said carcass so long as any considerable portion of the carcass remains unconsumed, and when the proper tag, coupon or other marker is attached to said game animal so killed, the same may be possessed, used, stored and transported. Any person who should kill any game animal by authority of any license issued for the killing of such game animal, and shall fail or neglect to cut out day and month of kill or provide such other information as is required and attach his tag, coupon or other marker so provided with the license issued, to the carcass of said game animal or portion thereof, or any person who shall fail to keep said tag, coupon or other marker attached to said game animal or portion thereof while the same is possessed by him shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished as provided for by law in section 26-324.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1973, once by Ch. 167 and once by Ch. 195. Neither amendatory act mentioned or incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

The 1971 amendment inserted "grizzly bear" in the first and second sentences of subsection (2).

Chapter 167, Laws of 1973, deleted references to bison or buffalo licenses from

(2) (a) No game birds or game or fur-bearing animals shall be killed, taken or shot at from any aircraft, nor shall any aircraft be used for the purpose of concentrating, pursuing, driving, rallying or stirring up any game or migratory birds, game or fur-bearing animals, nor shall any powerboat, sailboat, or any boat under sail or any floating device towed by a powerboat, sailboat, or any boat under sail be used for the purpose of killing, capturing, taking, pursuing, concentrating, driving or stirring up any upland game birds, or game or fur-bearing animals.

(b) * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(3) No person shall take into a field or forest, or have in his possession while out hunting, any device or mechanism devised to silence, or muffle or minimize the report of any firearms, whether such device or mechanism be operated from or attached to any firearm.

(4) * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(5) No person shall chase with dogs any of the game or fur-bearing animals as defined by the fish and game laws of this state; provided, however, that livestock owners, employees of the state fish and game commission and of the federal fish and wildlife service may use dogs in pursuit of stock-killing bears, and stock-killing mountain lions, or other means of taking stock-killing bears and stock-killing mountain lions except the use of the dead fall; providing, however, that traps used in capturing bear shall be inspected twice each day, which inspection shall be twelve (12) hours apart; and provided further, that a person may take game birds during the open season thereon with the aid of a dog or dogs and any person or association organized for the protection of game, may run field trials at any time upon obtaining written permission from the state fish and game director.

(6) * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(7) Game fish shall be taken only by angling, that is by hook and single line in hand or single rod in hand, or within immediate control; this does not prevent, however, the snagging of paddlefish, coho (silver salmon), and kokanee (sockeye salmon) when the commission shall declare an open season when paddlefish, coho (silver salmon), and kokanee (sockeye salmon) may be taken by snagging, the taking of paddlefish with long bow and arrow when the commission shall declare an open season when paddlefish may be taken by long bow and arrow, the taking of walleyed pike, sauger, northern pike and nongame fish with spear or gig when the commission shall declare an open season for taking walleyed pike, sauger, northern pike and nongame fish with spear or gig, nor the use of landing net or gaff to land a game fish after the same has been hooked by angling as above specified, nor does it prevent the taking of minnows other than game fish variety by the use or aid of a net not to exceed twelve (12) feet in length and four (4) feet in width, in such waters as may be designated by the commission.

(8) No person, while hunting game animals or game birds shall use a motor-driven vehicle on any other than an established road or trail, unless he has reduced a big game animal to possession and cannot easily retrieve said big game animal, in which case a motor-driven vehicle may be used to retrieve the big game animal, except in areas where more restrictive regulations apply or where the landowner has not granted such permission, provided that after such retrieval, such motor-driven vehicle is again returned to an established road or trail by the shortest possible route. For purposes of safety and allowing normal travel, a motor-driven vehicle may be parked on the roadside or directly adjacent to said road or trail. (5) The supervisors shall review the proposed project and affirm, overrule, or modify the individual team recommendations, and notify the applicant and team members within sixty (60) days of the date of application, of their decision.

(6) When a member of the team disagrees with the supervisors' action, he may ask, within five (5) days of receipt of the supervisors' decision, that an arbitration panel, as provided in section 26-1515 be appointed to hear the dispute and make a final written decision thereon.

(7) Upon written notice, with any recommendation or alternative plan, by the supervisors to the applicant, the applicant, within fifteen (15) days, shall notify the supervisors in writing if he wishes to proceed with the project in accordance with the recommendations or alternative plans. (3) A team, called together as described in section 26-1514 (3), shall make an on-site inspection and individual written reports to the supervisors within thirty (30) days giving their observations and opinions on the emergency project.

(4) If the same or a similar emergency occurs to the same applicant more than once within any five (5) year period, the supervisors shall request the team members to include in their reports a determination of the validity of the emergency action and to ascertain the feasibility of a more permanent solution to that emergency action.

(5) The supervisors shall determine the feasibility of a more permanent solution and shall recommend, within thirty (30) days, that the person put the solution into effect within a reasonable period of time, as determined by the supervisors. Title of Act

An act to provide that salmonid fish and eggs imported into Montana be certified free of certain diseases, and providing an effective date.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "a written certification is provided" near the end of the first sentence for "are accompanied by a written certification"; deleted "protozoan myxosoma cerebralis, the causative agent of so-called 'whirling disease,' and such other" near the end of the first sentence; and substituted the last sentence for a sentence reading "If a copy of a current inspection report, certifying that the hatchery of origin is free of protozoan myxosoma cerebralis, and such other infectious organisms as the state fish and game commission may direct, is not attached to each shipment from such hatchery, then each shipment must be inspected and certified."

26-1702. Infectious organisms dead — certification unnecessary. Nothing in this act shall restrict the importation and transportation of dead salmonid fish or eggs when such fish or eggs have been processed or prepared in a manner whereby such infectious organisms as the state fish and game commission may specify, have been killed. Salmon caught and brought directly into North America and transported into Montana for processing or sale, or any salmonid caught wild in North America shall be exempt from the requirement for certification.

 - (a) the destruction, drastic modification, or severe curtailment of its habitat, or
 - (b) its overutilization for scientific, commercial or sporting purposes, or 26-1803. Legislative policy. The legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(1) that it is the policy of this state to manage certain nongame wildlife for human enjoyment, for scientific purposes, and to ensure their perpetuation as members of ecosystems;

(2) that species or subspecies of wildlife indigenous to this state which may be found to be endangered within the state should be protected in order to maintain and to the extent possible enhance their numbers;

(3) that the state should assist in the protection of species or subspecies of wildlife which are deemed to be endangered elsewhere by prohibiting the taking, possession, transportation, exportation, processing, sale or offer for sale or shipment within this state of species or subspecies of wildlife unless such actions will assist in preserving or propagating the species or subspecies.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 461, L. 1973.

26-1804. Investigations by department—regulations—unlawful acts.

(1) The department shall conduct investigations on nongame wildlife in order to develop information relating to population, distribution, habitat needs, limiting factors, and other biological and ecological data to determine management measures necessary for their continued ability to sustain themselves successfully. On the basis of such determinations the department shall issue management regulations. Such regulations shall set forth species or subspecies of nongame wildlife which the department deems in need of management pursuant to this section, giving their common and scientific names by species and subspecies. The department shall conduct ongoing investigations of nongame wildlife. The commission may from time to time amend such regulations on the approval of the legislature by adding or deleting therefrom species or subspecies of nongame wildlife.

(2) The commission shall by such regulations establish proposed limitations relating to taking, possession, transportation, exportation, processing, sale or offer for sale, or shipment as may be deemed necessary to manage such nongame wildlife. The commission may make such changes in the proposed regulations as are consistent with effective management of nongame wildlife as designated by the legislature.

(3) Except as provided in regulations issued by the commission, it shall be unlawful for any person to take, possess, transport, export, sell or offer for sale nongame wildlife deemed by the commission to be in need of management pursuant to this section. Subject to the same exception, it shall further be unlawful for any common or contract carrier knowingly to transport or receive for shipment nongame wildlife deemed by the commission to be in need of management pursuant to this section.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 461, L. 1973.

26-1805. List of endangered species—issuance—review—unlawful to take species on state or federal list. (1) On the basis of investigations on nongame wildlife provided for in section 4 [26-1804] and other available scientific and commercial data, and after consultation with other state wildlife agencies, appropriate federal agencies, and other interested persons and organizations, but not later than one (1) year after the effective date of this act, the commission shall recommend to the legislature a list of those species and subspecies of wildlife indigenous to the state which are determined to be endangered within this state, giving their common and scientific names by species and subspecies.

(2) The department shall conduct a review of the state list of endangered species within not more than two (2) years from its effective date and every two (2) years thereafter and the commission shall request the legislature to amend the list by such additions or deletions as are deemed appropriate and at such times as are deemed appropriate.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, it shall be unlawful for any person to take, possess, transport, export, sell or offer for sale and for any common or contract carrier knowingly to transport or receive for shipment any species or subspecies of wildlife appearing on any of the following lists:

(a) the list of wildlife indigenous to the state determined to be endangered within the state pursuant to subsection (1);

(b) any species or subspecies of fish and wildlife included by the commission and appearing on the United States' list of endangered native fish and wildlife as it appears on the effective date of this chapter (part 17 of title 50, Code of Federal Regulations, appendix D); and the United States' list of endangered foreign fish and wildlife (part 17 of title 50, Code of Federal Regulations, appendix A), as such list may be modified hereafter; provided, that any species or subspecies of wildlife appearing on any of the foregoing lists which enters the state from another state or from a point outside the territorial limits of the United States and which is transported across the state destined for a point beyond the state may be so entered and transported without restriction in accordance with the terms of any federal permit or permit issued under the laws or regulations of another state.

(4) In the event the United States' list of endangered native fish and wildlife is modified subsequent to the effective date of this chapter by additions or deletions, such modifications whether or not involving species or subspecies indigenous to the state may be accepted as binding under subsection (3) if, after the type of scientific determination described in subsection (1), the commission recommends and the legislature accepts such modification for the state.

History: En. Sec. 5, Ch. 461, L. 1973.

26-1806. Establishment of programs by director—review by governor—taking of species for educational and scientific purpose—other provisions for removal. (1) The director shall establish such programs, including acquisition of land or aquatic habitat, as are deemed necessary for management of nongame and endangered wildlife. The commission shall establish such policies as are necessary to carry out the purpose of this section.

(2) In carrying out programs authorized by this section, the commission may enter into agreements with federal agencies, political subdivisions of the state, or with private persons for administration and management of any area established under this section or utilized for management of nongame or endangered wildlife.

(3) The governor shall review other programs administered by him and, to the extent practicable, utilize such programs in furtherance of the purposes of this section. (5) Upon good cause shown, and where necessary to alleviate damage to property or to protect human health, endangered species may be removed, captured or destroyed but only pursuant to permit issued by the director and, where possible, by or under the supervision of an agent of the department; provided, that endangered species may be removed, captured or destroyed without permit by any person in emergency situations involving an immediate threat to human life. Provisions for removal, capture or destruction of nongame wildlife for the purposes set forth above shall be set forth in regulations issued by the commission pursuant to subsection (1) of section 4 [26-1804 (1)].

History: En. Sec. 6, Ch. 461, L. 1973.

26-1807. Issuance of regulations. The commission shall issue such regulations as are necessary to carry out the purposes of this act.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 461, L. 1973.

(2) Upon a first conviction for a violation under this chapter, the court may fine the defendant not to exceed two hundred fifty dollars ($250). Upon a second such conviction, the defendant may be fined not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500) or be imprisoned in the county jail for any term not to exceed thirty (30) days, or both. Upon subsequent such convictions, the defendant shall be fined not less than five hundred dollars ($500) or more than one thousand dollars ($1,000), and in addition may be imprisoned in the county jail for any term not to exceed six (6) months.

(3) Any officer employed and authorized by the director or any peace officer of the state or of any municipality or county within the state shall have authority to enforce the provisions of this act.

(4) Wildlife seized under the provisions of this act shall be held by an officer or agent of the department pending disposition of court proceedings, and thereafter be forfeited to the state for disposition as the director may deem appropriate; provided, that, prior to forfeiture, the director may direct the transfer of wildlife so seized to a qualified zoological, educational, or scientific institution for safekeeping. The commission is authorized to issue regulations to implement this subsection.

History: En. Sec. 8, Ch. 461, L. 1973; Amendments
amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 359, L. 1975.

26-1809. Construction of act—severability. (1) None of the provisions of this act shall be construed to apply retroactively or to prohibit importation into the state of wildlife which may be lawfully imported into the United States or lawfully taken or removed from another state or to prohibit entry into the state or possession, transportation, exportation, processing, sale or offer for sale or shipment of any wildlife whose species or subspecies is deemed to be threatened with statewide extinction in this state but not in the state where originally taken if the person engaging therein demonstrates by substantial evidence that such wildlife was lawfully taken or removed from such state; provided, that this subsection shall not be construed to permit the possession, transportation, exportation, processing, sale or offer for sale or shipment within this state of wildlife on the United States' list of endangered native fish and wildlife, as amended and accepted in accordance with subsection (4) of section 5 [26-1805 (4)], except as permitted in the provision by subsection (3) of section 5 [26-1805 (3)] and subsection (4) of section 6 [26-1806 (4)].

However, the protection of man and his essential needs—water, air, food, animals, vegetation, pollinating insects, and shelter from pesticides which are potentially dangerous—is in the public interest now and in the future. Therefore, it is deemed necessary to provide for the control of pesticides.

27-217. Registration. (1) Every pesticide distributed, sold, or offered for sale within this state or delivered for transportation or transported in intrastate commerce or between points within this state, shall be registered with the department of agriculture. The registration shall be renewed annually by the manufacturer or formulator of the pesticide. The department of agriculture shall register all approved pesticides and those registered are subject to registration fees and all other provisions of this act. All registrations of pesticides expire on December 31 following the date of issuance, unless otherwise terminated.

(2) The applicant for registration shall file with the department of agriculture a statement including:

(a) The name and address of the applicant and the name and address of the person whose name will appear on the label, if other than the registrant;

(b) A complete copy of the label of the pesticide, the United States environmental protection agency registration number, if the pesticide is so registered, and a statement of all claims to be made for it including directions for use;

(c) The trade and chemical name of the pesticide;

(d) If requested by the department of agriculture, a full description of tests made and the results upon which the claims are based. In the case of renewal of registration, a statement shall be required only with respect to information which is different from that furnished when the pesticide was registered or last reregistered.

(3) Any pesticide imported into this state, which is subject to the provisions of any federal act providing for the registration of pesticides and which has been registered under the provisions of a federal act, shall be registered in the state. However, the state may restrict the use and application of the pesticide by type of applicator, time, and place and may establish special registrations of pesticides as outlined in subsection (9) of this section and section 27-234 (3). The annual registration fee must also be paid and registration information required by the department of agriculture must be provided.

(4) The applicant shall pay an annual fee of ten dollars ($10) for each pesticide registered. Fees collected shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the general fund.

(5) The department of agriculture may require the submission of the complete formula and certified analytical standards of any pesticide. If it appears to the department of agriculture that the composition of the article warrants the proposed claims for it and if the article and its labeling and other material required to be submitted comply with the requirements of section 27-218, it shall register the article.

(6) If it does not appear to the department of agriculture that the article warrants the proposed claims for it or if the article and its labeling and other material required to be submitted do not comply with this chapter, it shall notify the applicant of the manner in which the articles, labeling, or other material required to be submitted fails to comply with the act so as to afford the applicant an opportunity to make the necessary corrections. If upon receipt of the notice, the applicant does not make the corrections, the department of agriculture may refuse to register the article. The department of agriculture in accordance with the procedures specified by the department of agriculture, may suspend or cancel the registration of a pesticide whenever it does not appear that the article or its labeling comply with this act. When an application for registration is refused or the department of agriculture proposes to suspend or cancel a registration, the registrant may appeal to the department of agriculture as provided for in section 27-236.

(7) The department of agriculture shall review all registered pesticides at least every two (2) years.

(8) Registration is not required in the case of a pesticide shipped from one plant in this state to another plant in this state by the same person.

(9) (a) The departments of health and environmental sciences, agriculture, and fish and game shall review all applications for registration of a pesticide or device submitted to the department of agriculture. The department of agriculture shall provide the departments of health and environmental sciences and fish and game with a complete copy of the application, related correspondence and a statement of the department of agriculture's proposed action on the application. The departments of health and environmental sciences and fish and game shall approve or disapprove the application within three (3) days after the receipt of the application. If the departments of health and environmental sciences, agriculture, and fish and game are in agreement with the proposed registration, the department of agriculture shall proceed with its registration.

(b) The department of agriculture shall establish a time and place for an interagency conference for the purposes of resolving the registration of any pesticide or device. If two (2) of the departments approve the proposed registration, the department of agriculture shall proceed with the registration.

(c) The registrant applying for registration shall be notified as to proposed changes in registration. If the departments cannot resolve the proposed registration following the interagency conference, the registrant may request a joint administrative hearing before the departments of agriculture, health and environmental sciences, and fish and game.

(d) Following the interagency conference, and if requested, the administrative hearing, if the proposed registration of a pesticide or device has not been resolved, the department of agriculture shall appoint an advisory council as outlined in section 27-240 to resolve by majority vote the registration of any pesticide. The advisory council's recommendations on the registration shall be accepted by the departments and implemented by the department of agriculture.

The department of agriculture may allow a change in the labeling or formula of a pesticide within a registration period without requiring reregistration of the product when such change does not adversely affect the product for its intended use and if proper application therefor is made.

(b) Any pesticide, unless it is in the registrant's or the manufacturer's unbroken immediate container, and there is affixed to such container and to the outside container or wrapper of the retail package, if there be one, through which the required information on the immediate container cannot be clearly read, a label bearing:

(iii) A statement of an antidote for the pesticide.

(d) The pesticides commonly known as standard lead arsenate, basic lead arsenate, calcium arsenate, magnesium arsenate, zinc arsenate, zinc arsenite, sodium fluoride, sodium fluosilicate, and barium fluosilicate unless they have been distinctly colored or discolored as provided by regulations issued in accordance with this act, or any other white powder pesticide which the department of agriculture, after investigation of and after public hearing on the necessity for such action for the protection of the public health and the environment and the feasibility of such coloration or discoloration, shall, by regulations, require to be distinctly colored or discolored, unless it has been so colored or discolored. The department of agriculture may exempt any pesticide to the extent that it is intended for a particular use from the coloring or discoloring required or authorized by this section if it determines that such coloring or discoloring for such use is not necessary for the protection of the public health and the environment.

(e) Any pesticide which is adulterated or misbranded, or any device which is misbranded.

(2) It shall be unlawful for any person to:

(a) Detach, alter, deface, or destroy, in whole or in part, any label or labeling provided for in this act or regulations promulgated hereunder, or to add any substance to, or take any substance from, a pesticide in a manner that may defeat the purpose of this act.

(2) The methods of sampling and analysis shall be those adopted by the department of agriculture from sources such as the Journal of the Association of Official Analytical Chemists.

History: En. Sec. 7, Ch. 403, L. 1971.

When such agent has found that an article so detained or embargoed is not adulterated or misbranded, he shall remove the tag or other marking.

(3) If the court finds that a detained or embargoed article is in violation of section 8 (1) [subdivision (1) of this section], such article shall after entry of the decree be destroyed at the expense of the claimant thereof, under the supervision of such agent, and all court costs and fees and storage and other proper expenses shall be assessed against the claimant of such pesticide or device or his agent; provided that when the adulteration or misbranding can be corrected by proper labeling or processing of the article, the court, after entry of the decree and after such costs, fees, and expenses have been paid and a good and sufficient bond, conditioned that such pesticide or device shall be so labeled or processed, has been executed, may by order direct that such article be delivered to the claimant thereof for such labeling or processing under the supervision of an agent of the department of agriculture. The expense of such supervision shall be paid by claimant. The article shall be returned to the claimant of the pesticide or device on the representation to the court by the department of agriculture that the article is no longer in violation of this act, and that the expenses of such supervision have been paid.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1975, once by Ch. 267 and once by Ch. 431. Neither amendatory act mentioned nor included the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

Chapter 431, Laws of 1975 substituted references to the department of livestock

If the hearing or hearings make it evident to the department that the establishment of the proposed natural marketing area is in the public interest, the department shall establish the natural marketing area.

(3) The department may from time to time adjust the boundaries of natural marketing areas, if after a hearing upon notice of at least thirty (30) days to all interested parties it finds the adjustment to be in the public interest.

27-407. Establishment of minimum prices. (1) The board shall fix minimum producer, wholesaler, jobber, and retail prices for class I milk, and minimum producer prices only for class II and class III milk in all areas of the state, by adopting rules in a manner prescribed by the Montana Administrative Procedure Act.

(2) The board shall establish such prices by means of flexible formulas which shall be devised so that they bring about such automatic changes in all minimum prices as are justified on the basis of changes in production costs and supply, processing and distribution costs, and retailing costs.

(3) The board shall consider the balance between production and consumption of milk, the costs of production and distribution, and prices in adjacent and neighboring areas and states, so that minimum prices which are fair and equitable to producers, distributors, jobbers, retailers, and consumers may result.

(4) The board shall, when publishing notice of proposed rule making under authority of this section, set forth the specific factors which shall be taken into consideration in establishing the formulas and in particular in determining costs of production and distribution and of the actual dollars and cents costs of production and distribution which preliminary studies and investigations of auditors or accountants in its employment indicate will or should be shown at the hearing, so that all interested parties will have opportunity to be heard and to question or rebut such considerations as a matter of record.

(5) Such specific factors may include, but shall not be limited to, the following items:

(a) Current and prospective supplies of milk in relation to current and prospective demands for such milk for all purposes;

(b) The ability and willingness of consumers to purchase, which shall include among other things, per capita disposable income statistics, consumer price indices, and wholesale price indices;

(c) The cost factors in producing milk, which shall include among other things the prices paid by farmers generally (as used in parity calculations of the United States Department of Agriculture), prices paid by farmers for dairy feed in particular and farm wage rates in this state;

(d) The alternative opportunities, both farm and nonfarm, open to milk producers, which shall include among other things, prices received by farmers for all products other than milk, prices received by farmers for beef cattle, and the percentage of unemployment in the state and nation as determined by appropriate state and federal agencies;

(e) The prices of butter-nonfat dry milk, and cheese;

(f) The cost factors in distributing milk, which shall include among other things the prices paid by distributors for equipment of all types required to process and market milk and prevailing wage rates in this state;

(g) The cost factors in jobbing milk, which shall include among other things raw product and ingredient costs, carton or other packaging cost, processing cost and that part of general administrative costs of the supplying distributor which may properly be allocated to the handling of milk to the point at which such milk is at the supplying distributor's dock, equipment of all types required to market milk and prevailing wage rates in the state

(h) The need, if any, for freight or transportation charges to be deducted by distributors from producer prices for bulk milk;

(i) A reasonable return on necessary investment to all ordinarily efficient and economical milk dealers.

(6) If the board at any time proposes to base all or any part of any official order establishing or revising any milk pricing formulas upon facts within its own knowledge, as distinguished from evidence which may be presented to it by the consuming public or the milk industry, the board shall, when publishing notice of proposed rule making under authority of this section, cause notice to be given to the consuming public and the milk industry of the specific facts within its own knowledge which it will consider, so that all interested parties will have opportunity to be heard and to question or rebut such facts as a matter of record.

(7) The board, after consideration of the evidence produced, shall make written findings and conclusions and shall fix by official rule:

(a) The formula whereby minimum producer prices for milk in classes I, II, and III shall be computed.

(b) The formula whereby minimum wholesale prices for milk in class I shall be computed.

(c) The formula whereby minimum jobber prices for milk in class I shall be computed.

(d) The formula whereby minimum retail prices for milk in class I shall be computed.

(8) This section shall not be construed as requiring the board to promulgate any specific number of formulas, but shall be construed liberally so that the board may adopt any reasonable method of expression to accomplish the objective set forth in (a), (b), (c), and (d) above. If the evidence presented to the board at any public hearing for the establishment or revision of milk pricing formulas is found by the board to require the establishment of separate and varying wholesale prices for any particular uses, the board shall designate the reasons therefor and establish such separate formulas.

(9) Each rule establishing or revising any milk pricing formulas shall classify milk by forms, classes, grades or uses as the board may deem advisable and shall specify the minimum prices therefor.

(10) The milk produced in one natural marketing area and sold in another natural marketing area shall be paid for by a distributor or dealer in accordance with the pricing order of the area where produced at the price therein specified of the class or use in which it is ultimately used or sold.

(11) No allowance for freight, other than freight for transportation of milk from the farm to plant, shall be charged to a producer by a distributor or dealer unless it is found and ordered by the board, after notice and hearing in the manner hereinbefore specified, that such an additional freight allowance is necessary to permit the movement of milk in the public interest.

(12) All milk purchased within a natural marketing area by a distributor shall be purchased on a uniform basis. The basis to be used shall be established by the board after the producers and the distributors of the area have been consulted.

(13) The board may amend any official rule in the same manner provided herein for the original establishment of milk pricing formulas; provided, further, the board may in its discretion, when it determines the need exists, notice and hold state-wide public hearings affecting establishment or revision of milk pricing formulas in all market areas of the state.

(14) Upon petition of a distributor or a majority of his producers, the board shall hold a hearing to receive and consider evidence regarding the advisability and need for a base or quota plan as a method of payment by that distributor of producer prices; and if the board finds that the evidence adduced at such hearing warrants the establishment of a base or quota plan, the board shall proceed by official order to establish the same.

(15) Upon petition by any producer, producer-distributor or distributor in any marketing area, the board shall hold a hearing to receive and consider evidence regarding the advisability and need for an area-wide or state-wide pooling arrangement as a method of payment of producer prices, provided that at such hearing the board shall among other things specifically receive and consider evidence concerning production and marketing practices which have historically prevailed in the area concerned or state-wide, as the case may be; and if the board finds that the evidence adduced at such hearing warrants the establishment of such an area-wide or state-wide pooling arrangement, the board shall proceed by official order to establish the same, but such official order shall be of no force or effect until it is approved in a referendum conducted by the board among affected producers, producer-distributors, and distributors.

(16) The requirements hereinabove set forth concerning notices of hearings for the establishment of milk pricing formulas shall apply to any hearings regarding base or quota plans or area-wide or state-wide pooling arrangements, or abandonment thereof.

The annual fee for the license from the department is two dollars ($2), and is due before July 1, and shall be deposited by the department to the credit of the general fund.

(2) In addition to the annual license fee, the department shall, in each year, before April 1, for the purpose of securing funds to administer and enforce this chapter, levy an assessment upon producers, producer-distributors, and distributors as follows:

The amount of the assessment shall be computed by applying the fee designated by the department to the volume of milk sold in the preceding calendar quarter.

(5) Failure of a producer, producer-distributor, or distributor to pay an assessment when due is a violation of this chapter and his license under this chapter automatically terminates and is void. A license so terminated shall be reinstated by the department upon payment of a delinquency fee equal to thirty per cent (30%) of the assessment which was due.

(6) All assessments required by this chapter shall be deposited by the department in the earmarked revenue fund. All costs of administering this chapter, including the salaries of employees and assistants, per diem and expenses of board members, and all other disbursements necessary to carry out the purpose of this chapter, shall be paid out of control board moneys in that fund.

27-424. Additional remedies. The department may begin any proceeding at law or in equity as may appear necessary to enforce compliance with this chapter or to enforce compliance with an order or rule of the board or department adopted under this chapter or to obtain a judicial interpretation of any of them. In addition to any other remedy, the department may apply to the district court of the district where the action arises, for relief by injunction, mandamus, or any other appropriate remedy in equity without being compelled to allege or prove that an adequate remedy at law does not otherwise exist. The department may not be required to post bond in an action to which it is a party whether upon appeal or otherwise. All legal actions may be brought by or against the board or department in the name of the department of business regulation and it is not necessary in an action to which the department is a party that the action be brought by or against this state or relation of the department. The department may sue by its own attorney and it may also call upon a county attorney to represent it in the district court of his county, or the attorney general to represent it on appeal to the supreme court, or it may associate its own attorney with either in any court.

the former milk control board, was repealed by Sec. 176, Ch. 431, Laws 1975.

27-426. Bonds required of distributors—amounts—forms and conditions. (1) A distributor before purchasing milk from a producer shall deliver to the department a surety bond of not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000), executed by the distributor as principal and by a surety company authorized to do business in this state as surety. The bond shall be on a form approved by the department and shall be conditioned upon the payment, in the manner required by this chapter, of all amounts due to producers for milk purchased by the distributor during the license year. The bond shall be to the state in favor of every producer of milk. In case of failure by a distributor to pay a producer for milk in the manner required by this chapter, the department shall proceed immediately to ascertain the names and addresses of all producers-creditors of that distributor, together with the amounts due them and shall request all those producer-creditors to file a verified statement of their respective claims. The department shall then sue on the bond on behalf of the producer-creditors. Upon suing on the bond, the department may require the filing of a new bond; and immediately upon a recovery in an action upon the bond, the distributor shall file a new bond. Upon failure to file a new bond within ten (10) days in either case, the failure is grounds for the revocation or suspension of the license of the distributor. If recovery on the bond is not sufficient to pay all of the claims as finally determined by the court, the amount recovered shall be divided pro rata among the producer-creditors.

(2) The minimum bond of one thousand dollars ($1,000) shall be required of distributors purchasing an average daily quantity of milk of less than one hundred (100) gallons; distributors purchasing an average

(3) If a distributor increases his purchases of milk during the license year to exceed the amount for which he is bonded, he shall immediately post the additional bond required to comply with this section.

(4) The department may require a distributor to furnish a bond in addition to those specified in this section, if, after notice and hearing and upon good cause shown, it determines the additional bond is required to assure payment of all amounts due or to become due to producers.

(5) Failure of a distributor who purchases milk from producers to post a bond required by this section is a violation of this chapter.

Accrual of Cause of Action

Three-year statute of limitations provided under section 93-2607 did not bar action on milk distributor's bond where distributor had pursued administrative and court proceedings in intervening three-year period and surety had knowledge of earlier proceedings since cause of action did not accrue until plaintiff had right of action and plaintiff had no right of action until administrative remedies had been exhausted. *Montana Milk Control Board v. (1) If the owner does not appear upon the public records as the holder of the legal title to the land or timber, he is nevertheless primarily responsible for the performance of the acts and duties imposed upon him by this chapter. Where the owner of the timber is not the owner of the land, the primary responsibility for the performance of the acts and duties imposed by this chapter is upon the owner of the timber.

(2) Create organized forest fire protection districts. Before a district is created the board shall hold a hearing in any county in which the proposed district or a part thereof is included and the department shall give notice of the hearing at least twenty (20) days in advance thereof to all owners to be affected by the proposed district. (3) Adopt and enforce through the department reasonable rules for the purpose of enforcing and accomplishing the provisions and purposes of this chapter; however, these rules may not conflict with the powers of the board of land commissioners.

28-109. Duty of owner of classified forest land. (1) An owner of forest land classified as such by the board shall protect against the starting or existence, and suppress the spread, of fire on that land during the full period of each forest fire season. This protection and suppression shall be in conformity with reasonable rules and standards for adequate fire protection adopted by the board. If the owner does not provide for the protection and suppression, the department may provide it, at a cost to the landowner of not more than sixteen cents (16¢) per acre per year for Class I land and not more than five cents (5¢) per acre per year for Class II land; in the event thereof, the owner of the land shall pay to the county treasurer of the county in which the land is situated the charge for the same approved by the department, in accordance with

This section was amended twice in 1974, once by Ch. 252 and once by Ch. 253. Neither amendatory act mentioned nor incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

(2) On or before the second Tuesday in August of each year, the department shall determine the names of all owners who have failed to provide the forest fire protection for their lands required by this chapter, together with the description of the lands and their acreage, and calculate the total amount due to the department from each owner for forest fire protection, which amount may not exceed the maximum specified in section 28-109.

(3) The department shall certify in writing to the county assessor of each county the names of these owners of forest lands in his county, together with a description of their lands and a statement of the amount found to be due and owing by each of the owners to the department for forest fire protection.

All sums collected shall be promptly transmitted to the state treasurer, who shall deposit them in the federal and private grant clearance fund for distribution in accordance with section 28-124.

29-101. Definition of terms.

NOTE.—Uniform State Law. In addition to the states listed in the note in the parent volume the following also have adopted the Uniform Fraudulent Conveyance Act: Idaho, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma, and Virgin Islands.

29-104. Conveyances by insolvent.

Insolvency as Matter of Law

Debtor was insolvent as a matter of law at time he conveyed his ranch property to his children where his total liabilities exceeded his total assets by over $7,000, including in that computation an $11,000 debt to the Federal Land Bank on which debtor remained principal debtor despite a purported assumption of the obligation by his son. Baker Nat. Bank v. Lestar, 153 M 45, 453 P 2d 774.

29-105. Conveyances by persons in business.

Joinder of Actions

A creditor may join with his cause of action alleging indebtedness a second cause of action alleging that debtor's giving of mortgages and conveyance of certain property was without fair consideration and made him insolvent, and a third cause of action alleging that after executing the mortgages, he had unreasonably small capital in his business. Cahill-Mooney Constr. Co. v. Ayres, 140 M 464, 373 P 2d 703, 709.

29-109. Rights of creditors whose claims have matured.

Money Judgment

The right to seek a money judgment is merely collateral to the primary right to set aside the conveyance. Cahill-Mooney Constr. Co. v. Ayres, 140 M 464, 373 P 2d 703, 705.

Sufficiency of Evidence

Finding of district court that transferor of property had no intent to defraud creditors was supported by substantial evidence of: a substantial cash payment to transferor; application of entire proceeds to transferor's debts; lack of secrecy in transaction; application of wife's interest in part of property transferred to husband's debts; sale of fractional interest in mother's estate to brother also holding fractional interest therein, who presumably would be willing to pay more than stranger; and apparent existence of sufficient remaining assets with which to discharge transferor's remaining indebtedness. White v. Nollmeyer, 151 M 387, 443 P 2d 873.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment substituted "chief" for "supervisor" in the first paragraph and inserted "or willfully * * * motor vehicle" in subdivision (2).

31-147. Authority of board to suspend license or driving privilege or issue probationary license. (a) The board is hereby authorized to suspend the license or driving privilege of an operator or chauffeur without preliminary hearing upon a showing by its records or other sufficient evidence that the licensee:

1. Has been involved as a driver in any accident resulting in the death or personal injury of another or serious property damage;

2. Has been convicted with such frequency of serious offenses against traffic regulations governing the movement of vehicles as to indicate a disrespect for traffic laws and a disregard for the safety of other persons on the highways;

3. Is an habitually reckless or negligent driver of a motor vehicle;

4. Is incompetent to drive a motor vehicle;

5. Has permitted an unlawful or fraudulent use of such license as specified in section 31-153;

6. Has committed an offense in another state which if committed in this state would be grounds for suspension or revocation; or

7. Has falsified his date of birth on his application for a driver's license.

(b). * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(c) Upon suspending the license of any person or upon placing such person on probation, as hereinbefore in this section authorized, the board shall immediately notify the licensee in writing and upon his request shall afford him an opportunity for a hearing as early as practical within not to exceed twenty (20) days after receipt of such request in the county wherein the licensee resides unless the board and the licensee agree that such hearing may be held in some other county. Upon such hearing the chief or his duly authorized agent may administer oaths and may issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of relevant books and papers and may require a re-examination of the licensee. Upon such hearing the board shall either rescind its order of suspension or probation, or, good cause appearing therefor, may affirm, reduce or extend the period of probation or suspension of such license.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment deleted former subdivision (a)(1) authorizing suspension for "offense for which mandatory revocation of license is required upon conviction," designated former subdivisions (a)(2) to (a)(8) as (a)(1) to (a)(7), added "as specified in section 31-153" to subdivision (a)(5), and substituted "chief" for "supervisor" in subsection (c).

Suspension of License Not Punishment

The purpose and nature of the suspension of a driver's license is for the protection of the unsuspecting public and does not constitute "punishment" as understood within the meaning of the law, so that highway patrol board can take into consideration past driving violations before a previous suspension of a driver's license in suspending his license again. In re France, 147 M 283, 411 P 2d 732.

31-149. Period of suspension or revocation. (a) The board shall not suspend or revoke a driver's license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways for a period of more than one (1) year, except as permitted under sections 31-148, 31-155, 53-424 and 53-430, R. C. M. 1947.

(b) Any person whose license or privilege to drive a motor vehicle on the public highways has been suspended or revoked shall not be entitled to have such license or privilege renewed or restored unless the revocation was for a cause which has been removed, except that after the expiration of the period of such revocation or suspension, such person may make application for a new license as provided by law, but the board shall not then issue a new license unless and until it is satisfied after investigation of character, habits, and driving ability of such person that it will be safe to grant the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways. Provided, however, when any person is convicted or forfeits bail or collateral not vacated for the offense of operating or being in actual physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or narcotic drug, or knowingly or willingly under the influence of any other drug to a degree which renders him incapable of safely driving a motor vehicle or a combination thereof, the board shall, upon receiving a report of such conviction or forfeiture of bail or collateral not vacated, suspend or revoke the license or driving privilege of such person for a period of sixty (60) days. Upon receiving a report of a conviction or forfeiture of bail or collateral for a subsequent such offense, within five (5) years thereof, the board shall suspend or revoke the license or driving privilege of such person for a period of one (1) year.

(c) The revocation period for all revocations made mandatory by section 31-146, R. C. M. 1947, shall be one (1) year, except as provided in subsection (b) of this section.

Compiler's Notes

Section 53-424 referred to in subsection (a) was repealed by Sec. 4, Ch. 184, Laws 1974.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment inserted "or knowingly * * * a motor vehicle" after "narcotic drug" in subsection (b) and added subsection (c).

31-163. Driver license compact enacted—text. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Driver License Compact."

ARTICLE I—FINDINGS AND DECLARATION OF POLICY

(a) The party states find that:

(1) The safety of their streets and highways is materially affected by the degree of compliance with state laws and local ordinances relating to the operation of motor vehicles.

(2) Violation of such a law or ordinance is evidence that the violator engages in conduct which is likely to endanger the safety of persons and property.

(3) The continuance in force of a license to drive is predicated upon compliance with laws and ordinances relating to the operation of motor vehicles, in whichever jurisdiction the vehicle is operated.

(b) It is the policy of each of the party states to:

(1) Promote compliance with the laws, ordinances, and administrative rules and regulations relating to the operation of motor vehicles by their operators in each of the jurisdictions where such operators drive motor vehicles.

(2) Make the reciprocal recognition of licenses to drive and eligibility therefor more just and equitable by considering the over-all compliance with motor vehicle laws, ordinances and administrative rules and regulations as a condition precedent to the continuance or issuance of any license by reason of which the licensee is authorized or permitted to operate a motor vehicle in any of the party states.

ARTICLE II—DEFINITIONS

As used in this compact:

(a) "State" means a state, territory or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(b) "Home state" means the state which has issued and has the power to suspend or revoke the use of the license or permit to operate a motor vehicle.

(c) "Conviction" means a conviction of any offense related to the use or operation of a motor vehicle which is prohibited by state law, municipal ordinance or administrative rule or regulation, or a forfeiture of bail, bond or other security deposited to secure appearance by a person charged with having committed any such offense, and which conviction or forfeiture is required to be reported to the licensing authority.

ARTICLE III—REPORTS OF CONVICTION

The licensing authority of a party state shall report each conviction of a person from another party state occurring within its jurisdiction to the licensing authority of the home state of the licensee. Such report shall clearly identify the person convicted; describe the violation specifying the section of the statute, code or ordinance violated; identify the court in which action was taken; indicate whether a plea of guilty or not guilty was entered, or the conviction was a result of the forfeiture of bail, bond or other security; and shall include any special findings made in connection therewith.

ARTICLE IV—EFFECT OF CONVICTION

(a) The licensing authority in the home state, for the purposes of suspension, revocation or limitation of the license to operate a motor vehicle, shall give the same effect to the conduct reported, pursuant to Article III of this compact, as it would if such conduct had occurred in the home state, in the case of convictions for:

(1) Manslaughter or negligent homicide resulting from the operation of a motor vehicle;

(2) Driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor or a narcotic drug, or under the influence of any other drug to a degree which renders the driver incapable of safely driving a motor vehicle;

(3) Any felony in the commission of which a motor vehicle is used;

(4) Failure to stop and render aid in the event of a motor vehicle accident resulting in the death or personal injury of another.

(b) As to other convictions, reported pursuant to Article III, the licensing authority in the home state shall give such effect to the conduct as is provided by the laws of the home state.

(c) If the laws of a party state do not provide for offenses or violations denominated or described in precisely the words employed in subdivision (a) of this article, such party state shall construe the denominations and descriptions appearing in subdivision (a) hereof as being applicable to and identifying those offenses or violations of a substantially similar nature, and the laws of such party state shall contain such provisions as may be necessary to ensure that full force and effect is given to this article.

ARTICLE V—APPLICATIONS FOR NEW LICENSES

Upon application for a license to drive, the licensing authority in a party state shall ascertain whether the applicant has ever held, or is the holder of a license to drive issued by any other party state. The licensing authority in the state where application is made shall not issue a license to drive to the applicant if:

(1) The applicant has held such a license, but the same has been suspended by reason, in whole or in part, of a violation and if such suspension period has not terminated.

(2) The applicant has held such a license, but the same has been revoked by reason, in whole or in part, of a violation and if such revocation has not terminated, except that after the expiration of one year from the date the license was revoked, such person may make application for a new license if permitted by law. The licensing authority may refuse to issue a license to any such applicant if, after investigation, the licensing authority determines that it will not be safe to grant to such person the privilege of driving a motor vehicle on the public highways.

(3) The applicant is the holder of a license to drive issued by another party state and currently in force unless the applicant surrenders such license.

ARTICLE VI—APPLICABILITY OF OTHER LAWS

Except as expressly required by provisions of this compact, nothing contained herein shall be construed to affect the right of any party state to apply any of its other laws relating to licenses to drive to any person or circumstance, nor to invalidate or prevent any driver license agreement or other co-operative arrangement between a party state and a nonparty state.

ARTICLE VII—COMPACT ADMINISTRATOR AND INTERCHANGE OF INFORMATION

(a) The head of the licensing authority of each party state shall be the administrator of this compact for his state. The administrators, acting jointly, shall have the power to formulate all necessary and proper procedures for the exchange of information under this compact.

(b) The administrator of each party state shall furnish to the administrator of each other party state any information or documents reasonably necessary to facilitate the administration of this compact.

ARTICLE VIII—ENTRY INTO FORCE AND WITHDRAWAL

(a) This compact shall enter into force and become effective as to any state when it has enacted the same into law.

(b) Any party state may withdraw from this compact by enacting a statute repealing the same, but no such withdrawal shall take effect until six (6) months after the executive head of the withdrawing state has given notice of the withdrawal to the executive heads of all other party states. No withdrawal shall affect the validity or applicability by the licensing authorities of states remaining party to the compact of any report of conviction occurring prior to the withdrawal.

ARTICLE IX—CONSTRUCTION AND SEVERABILITY

This compact shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate the purposes thereof. The provisions of this compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any party state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state party thereto, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters.

Upon a finding adverse to the defendant, the clerk of the court wherein the hearing is held, shall file with the bureau a copy of the court's order together with the defendant's license. If the proceeding is dismissed, the clerk of the court wherein the hearing is held, shall file with the bureau a copy of the court's order dismissing the proceeding, which order shall state the ground, or grounds, upon which the dismissal was based, and shall specify the court findings on the conviction points which have been accrued by the defendant.

31-188. When defendant certified for trial. For the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this act, in any case in which the defendant is charged with operating a motor vehicle while his license to do so is suspended or revoked, or is charged with driving without a license, the court, before hearing such charge, shall ascertain whether the defendant has been adjudged an habitual traffic offender and by reason of that judgment is prohibited from operating a motor vehicle in this state. If the court determines that the defendant has been so adjudged and that that judgment remains in effect, the court shall certify the case to the district court of its jurisdiction for trial.

History: En. 32-1123.4 by Sec. 15, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

32-1123.5. Length. (1) A single truck or any self-propelled vehicle, unladen or with load, may not have an overall length, inclusive of front and rear bumpers, in excess of forty (40) feet.

(2) A single bus, unladen or with load, may not have an overall length, inclusive of front and rear bumpers, in excess of forty (40) feet.

(3) A combination of truck and trailer, tractor and semitrailer, tractor-semitrailer-full trailer, or tractor-semitrailer-semitrailer converted to a trailer by use of a dolly equipped with a fifth wheel, may not have an overall length, inclusive of front and rear bumpers, in excess of sixty (60) feet. If the combination consists of more than two (2) units, the rear units of the combination shall be equipped with breakaway brakes.

(4) A motor vehicle may not tow more than one (1) motor vehicle, and a motor vehicle may not draw more than two (2) motor vehicles attached to it by the dual saddle-mount method, that is by mounting the front wheels of one (1) vehicle on the bed of another, leaving only the rear wheels of the vehicle in contact with the roadway, nor may this combination have an overall length, inclusive of front and rear bumpers, in excess of sixty (60) feet.

(5) A passenger vehicle or truck of less than two thousand (2,000) pounds "manufacturers' rated capacity" may not tow more than one (1) trailer or semitrailer, nor may this combination have an overall length, inclusive of front and rear bumpers, in excess of sixty (60) feet.

The 1975 amendment inserted "or any self-propelled vehicle" in subsection (1); and increased the maximum length from 35 feet to 40 feet.

32-1123.6. Permissible loads. (1) An axle may not carry a load in excess of eighteen thousand (18,000) pounds. An axle load is defined as the total load transmitted to the road by all wheels whose centers are included between two (2) parallel transverse vertical planes forty (40) inches apart, extending across the full width of the vehicle.

(2) (a) The gross weight of a group of axles of a vehicle or combination of vehicles, if the distance between first and last axles of a group of axles is eighteen (18) feet or less, and the gross weight of a vehicle if the distance between the first and last axles of all the axles of the vehicle is eighteen (18) feet or less, may not exceed that set forth in the following table of weights:

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Mandatory Nature of Penalty

Once court determined that defendant was driving logging truck upon highways of state when gross weight exceeded maximum gross weight allowed by statute by some 28,000 pounds, court had no choice but to levy additional fine of $1,000 under penalty section of chapter; penalty is in addition to the other penalties provided by statute, is obligatory upon judge, is not violation of double jeopardy provision of constitution and does not violate statute providing that when action is punishable under different provisions of code, punishment may be had under only one of them. State ex rel. Oleson v. District Court, Eleventh Judicial Dist., 151 M 12, 438 P 2d 560.

32-1123.7. Special permits. The department of highways may, based on evaluation of safety, highway capacity, and economics of highway maintenance and vehicle operation, authorize by special permit at a fee of ten dollars (\$10), specifying highway routings, the operation of a vehicle having two (2) but not more than nine (9) axles if the maximum single axle load is twenty thousand (20,000) pounds and if no two (2) consecutive axles more than forty (40) inches or less than ninety-six (96) inches apart carry a load in excess of thirty-four thousand (34,000) pounds. For purposes of this section, axles forty (40) inches or less apart are considered as a single axle. The maximum gross weight allowed on a vehicle or combination so authorized by this special permit shall be determined by the formula $W \text{ equals } 500 (LN/N \text{ minus } 1 \text{ plus } 12N \text{ plus } 36)$ in which W equals gross weight, L equals wheel base in feet, and N equals number of axles. However, the maximum allowable gross weight on a group of axles may not exceed the following values:

2 axles	40,000 pounds
3 axles	60,000 pounds
4 axles	80,000 pounds
5 axles	85,500 pounds
6 axles	90,000 pounds
7 axles	105,500 pounds
8 axles	105,500 pounds
9 axles	105,500 pounds

This section does not apply to highways which are a part of the national system of interstate and defense highways (as referred to in section 127 of Title 23, United States Code) when application of this section would prevent this state from receiving federal funds for highway purposes.

History: En. 32-1123.7 by Sec. 18, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

32-1123.8. Measuring distance between axles. The distance between axles shall be measured to the nearest foot. When a fractional measurement is exactly one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) foot, the next larger whole number shall be used.

History: En. 32-1123.8 by Sec. 19, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

32-1123.9. Reduction under special circumstances. The maximum axle and axle group loads stated in section 32-1123.6 are subject to reasonable reduction in the discretion of the department during periods when road subgrades have been weakened by water saturation or other causes.

History: En. 32-1123.9 by Sec. 20, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

32-1123.10. Operation without special permits. The operation of vehicles or combinations of vehicles having dimensions or weights in excess of the maximum limits specified in sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.9 is permitted only if authorized by special permit issued by the department of highways or its agents, or the highway patrol.

History: En. 32-1123.10 by Sec. 21, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Special Permit Valid Under Federal Aid Highway Act

The Montana state highway commission on July 1, 1956 had the authority under section 32-1123 to issue special permits for overweight vehicles. Since this statute has been re-enacted into law each time other provisions of the section were changed, continuous authority has been provided for the issuance of the special permits, and the state highway commission has the present power to issue permits without jeopardizing the right of the state of Montana to receive federal funds for highway purposes. State ex rel. Dick Irvin, Inc. v. Anderson, — M —, 525 P 2d 564.

32-1123.11. Federal law. Sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.10 do not authorize, without a permit issued as provided by law, the operation of a combination of vehicles having a gross weight, axle load or size in excess of that authorized in those sections, or the operation of a combination of vehicles on the national system of interstate and defense highways having a gross weight or size in excess of that permitted by law in this state before July 1, 1956, or by federal law or regulation in excess thereof, which is adopted. If federal law allows establishment of size and weight limits in excess of those permitted in those sections, without penalty or denial of federal funds for highway purposes, the department of highways may, by permit designating highway routing, authorize the movement on highways under its jurisdiction of vehicles or combinations of vehicles of a size or weight in excess of the limits provided for in those sections, but within the limits necessary to qualify for federal aid highway funds.

32-1123.12. Authority of local authorities. A local authority may not alter the limitations provided in sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.11, or substitute other limitations or requirements, except as provided in section 32-1128.

History: En. 32-1123.12 by Sec. 23, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

32-1124. Violation, a misdemeanor. (1) It is a misdemeanor for a person, firm, or corporation to violate any provision of sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.11.

(2) However, the operator of a vehicle which is loaded at a location where no scale exists may move the vehicle over the highways to the first open state scale without violating those sections and incurring the penalties provided by section 32-1125. The origin of movement shall be at such a distance from a scale that the operator could not have been reasonably expected to check the weight of the vehicle during the loading. The operator shall exhibit shipping papers or other written evidence of the location at which the vehicle was loaded. The operator shall move the vehicle toward its destination over the most direct highway route and stop at the first open state scale, permanent or portable. The load must be adjusted or reduced to conform to the size and weight limitations of the vehicle before the vehicle is moved from the point of weighing.

In addition, a person, firm or corporation convicted of operating a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state with weight upon a wheel, axle or group of axles or upon more than one (1) of them greater than the maximum permitted by sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.11, shall be fined in addition to other penalties provided by law for the offense, the following amounts:

(a) Fifteen dollars ($15) for any excess weight up to and including two thousand (2,000) pounds.

(l) One thousand dollars ($1,000) for any excess weight more than twenty-five thousand (25,000) pounds.

(2) A complaint filed and a summons or notice to appear issued pertaining to a violation of the gross weight regulations in sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.11, shall specify the amount of the overweight, which the defendant is alleged to have had upon the vehicle or combination of vehicles.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment inserted "convicted of violating sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.11" in the first sentence of subsection (1); deleted "excepting as provided below" from the first sentence of subsection (1); substituted "sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.11" for "section 32-1123 and acts amendatory thereto" in the second sentence of subsection (1) and for "this act" in subsection (2); and made minor changes in phraseology, punctuation and style.

32-1126. (1751.5) Officers may weigh vehicles and require removal of excessive loads—badges and uniforms of highway employees. (1) A peace officer, officer of the highway patrol, or employee of the department may weigh any vehicle regulated by sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.11, either by means of portable or stationary scales, and may require that the vehicle be driven to the nearest scales if those scales are within two (2) miles. That person may then require the driver to unload immediately that portion of the load necessary to decrease the weight of the vehicle to conform to the maximum allowable weights specified in sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.11.

(2) Commodities and material unloaded as required by this section shall be cared for and removed from the highway right of way by the owner or operator of the vehicle at the risk of that owner or operator. The removal shall be within a reasonable time designated by the person who has compelled the unloading.

(3) The department may establish, maintain, and operate, either intermittently or on a continuous schedule, weigh stations and require vehicles, except passenger cars and pickup trucks under eight thousand (8,000) pounds G.V.W., to enter for the purpose of weighing and inspection for compliance with all laws pertaining to their operation and safety requirements.

(4) An employee of the department engaged in the enforcement of this section shall wear and prominently display an identification badge or

Amendments

The 1971 amendment deleted "having reason to believe that the weight of a vehicle and load is unlawful" after "highway commission" near the beginning of the section; substituted "any vehicle as provided in section 32-1123, R. C. M. 1947" for "the same" near the middle of the first paragraph; and inserted the present third paragraph.

The 1974 amendment substituted "department" for "state highway commission" throughout the section; substituted references to sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.11 for section 32-1123 in subsection (1); and made minor changes in phraseology, punctuation and style.

32-1127. (1751.6) Repealed.

L. 1965; Sec. 1, Ch. 83, L. 1969; Sec. 1, Ch. 334, L. 1971), relating to permits for excess size and weight, was repealed by Sec. 209, Ch. 316, Laws of 1974.

32-1127.1. Permits for excess size and weight. (1) The department of highways, and local authorities in their respective jurisdictions, may, in their discretion, upon application in writing and with good cause shown, issue a special permit in writing, authorizing the applicant to operate or move a vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, object, or other thing of a size or weight exceeding the maximum specified in sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.11 upon a highway under the jurisdiction of and for the maintenance of which the body granting the permit is responsible; however, only the department has the discretion to issue permits for movement of a vehicle or combination of vehicles carrying built-up or reducible loads in excess of nine (9) feet in width or exceeding the length, height, or weight specified in sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.11. This permit shall be issued in the public interest; a carrier receiving this permit must have public liability and property damage insurance for the protection of the traveling public as a whole. A permit may not be issued for a period of time greater than the license period provided in Title 53 or Title 32, including grace periods allowed by those titles. Owners of vehicles licensed in other jurisdictions may, at the discretion of the department, purchase permits to expire with their registration. A license required by the state governs the issuance of a special permit. The department may issue oversize permits to dealers in implements of husbandry and self-propelled machinery which may be transferred from unit to unit by the dealer for the fees set forth in section 32-1127.3. These oversize permits expire on December 31 of each year with no grace period. For the purposes of this section, a dealer in implements of husbandry or self-propelled machinery must be a resident of the state. A post-office box number is not a permanent address under this section.

(2) The applicant for a special permit shall specifically describe the powered vehicle or towing vehicle and generally describe the type of vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, object, or other thing to be operated or moved and the particular state highways over which the vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, object, or other thing is to be moved and whether the permit is required for a single trip or for continuous operation.

History: En. 32-1127.1 by Sec. 27, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Special Permit Valid Under Federal Aid Highway Act

The Montana state highway commission on July 1, 1956, had authority under section 32-1123 to issue special permits for overweight vehicles. Since this statute has been re-enacted into law each time other provisions of the section were changed, continuous authority has been provided for the issuance of the special permits, and the state highway commission has the present power to issue permits without jeopardizing the right of the state of Montana to receive federal funds for highway purposes. State ex rel. Dick Irvin, Inc. v. Anderson, — M —, 525 P 2d 564.

32-1127.2. Special permits—discretion of issuer—conditions. The department or local authority may issue or withhold a special permit at its discretion, or, if the permit is issued, limit the number of trips, or establish seasonal or other time limitations within which the vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, object, or other thing described may be operated on the public highways indicated, or otherwise limit or prescribe conditions of operation of the vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, object, or other thing when necessary to assure against damage to the road foundation, surfaces or structures or safety of traffic, and may require an undertaking or other security considered necessary to compensate for injury to a roadway or road structure. During harvest no permit may be denied to oversize harvest or harvest-related agricultural machinery solely on the grounds that the travel takes place on a Saturday or Sunday.

History: En. 32-1127.2 by Sec. 28, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

32-1127.3. Special permits—fees. The following fees, in addition to the regular license and gross vehicle weight fees, shall be paid for all movements under special permits on the public highways under the jurisdiction of the department:

Six dollars ($6) for each permit issued in excess of the size and weight specified in sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.11. Term or blanket permits may not be issued for overwidth vehicles, combination of vehicles, load or other thing in excess of fifteen (15) feet, overlength vehicles, combination of vehicles, load, object or other thing in excess of eighty-five (85) feet, and overheight vehicles, combination of vehicles, load, or other thing in excess of thirteen and one-half (13½) feet or of a limit determined by the department. A vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, or other thing in excess of these dimensions is limited to trip permits.

History: En. 32-1127.3 by Sec. 29, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

32-1127.4. Self-propelled vehicles. A self-propelled vehicle used only for the purpose of moving haystacks on a commercial basis is subject to sections 32-1127.1 through 32-1127.9 except as follows:

(1) The vehicle, loaded or unloaded, may not exceed fifty-five (55) feet in length nor twenty (20) feet in width.

(2) A single load may not be moved on the vehicle a distance greater than seventy-five (75) miles from the point of origin on public roads.

(3) When the vehicle is hauling a load, it shall be accompanied by two (2) pilot cars. Each car shall be equipped with a flashing warning light, a red flag, and a sign with the words "wide load" written on it. One (1) car shall precede the vehicle by not less than one hundred (100) yards nor more than one-quarter ($\frac{1}{4}$) mile, and one (1) shall follow the vehicle at a distance not less than one hundred (100) yards nor more than one-quarter ($\frac{1}{4}$) mile. The following pilot car shall be in radio contact with the vehicle at all times.

(4) The speed of the vehicle shall be reasonable and proper but not in excess of thirty-five (35) miles per hour.

(5) The vehicle shall be operated only between the hours of sunrise and sunset.

(6) The vehicle may not be operated on an interstate or controlled-access highway.

(7) A term or blanket permit may be issued for the vehicle.

History: En. 32-1127.4 by Sec. 30, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

32-1127.5. Other fees—exemption. A fee of six dollars ($6) shall be paid for each overweight permit issued, but a permit may not be issued for a period of time greater than the license period provided in Title 53 or Title 32, including grace periods allowed by those titles. Owners of vehicles licensed in other jurisdictions may, at the discretion of the department, purchase permits to expire with their registration. A license required by the state governs the issuance of a special permit. In addition to the permit fee, there shall be charged for single trip permits: five dollars ($5) for distances to and including one hundred (100) miles; fifteen dollars ($15) for distances from one hundred one (101) to one hundred ninety-nine (199) miles; and twenty-five dollars ($25) for distances over two hundred (200) miles traveled, for the excess load over the gross allowable load or the sum of the excess axle loads, whichever is greater.

History: En. 32-1127.5 by Sec. 31, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

32-1127.6. Permits issued to governmental entities. Permits issued to the United States government, states, counties, cities and their political subdivisions, shall be issued without fee for a term beginning with the date of issuance and expiring December 31.

History: En. 32-1127.6 by Sec. 32, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

32-1127.7. Special permits—misrepresentations and violations. A person who knowingly and willfully misrepresents the size or weight of a vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, object, or other thing in obtaining a special permit, or who does not follow the requirements and conditions of the special permit, or who operates a vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, object or other thing, the gross weight of which is in excess of the maximum for which that vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, object, or other thing may be eligible for license, without first obtaining a special permit, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

History: En. 32-1127.7 by Sec. 33, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

32-1127.8. Display of permit. A special permit issued under section 32-1127.1 shall be carried in the vehicle or combination of vehicles to which it refers and shall be open to inspection by any peace officer, officer of the highway patrol, or employee of the department.

History: En. 32-1127.8 by Sec. 34, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

32-1127.9. Confiscation—action by commission. A peace officer, officer of the highway patrol, or employee of the department who finds a person operating a vehicle, combination of vehicles, load, object, or other thing in violation of the conditions of a special permit may confiscate the permit and forward it to the highway commission. The commission may return it to the permittee or revoke, cancel, or suspend it without refund. The commission shall keep a record of all action taken upon confiscated permits, and if a permit is returned to the permittee, the action taken by the commission shall be endorsed on it. A permittee whose permit is suspended or revoked may, upon request, receive a hearing before the commission or person designated by the commission. The commission, after the hearing, may reinstate the permit or revise its previous action.

History: En. 32-1127.9 by Sec. 35, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

32-1127.10. Deposit of fees. All fees collected under sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1127.9 shall be forwarded to the state treasurer for deposit in the state highway account in the earmarked revenue fund.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 139, L. 1971.

Title of Act

An act to make Montana traffic laws applicable to forest development roads except as additional or conflicting rules may be designated by the United States forest service for portions thereof designated as special service roads, and to confer law enforcement jurisdiction upon the Montana highway patrol and sheriffs of this state to enforce the traffic laws.

32-2124.4. State laws applicable on forest development roads—enforcement. Forest development roads in the state of Montana, whether or not they meet the definition of a public highway by the laws of this state, are subject to the traffic laws of this state and the Montana highway patrol and county sheriffs of this state shall have jurisdiction thereon to investigate accidents and enforce the Montana traffic laws.

(c) The exemptions herein granted to a police vehicle or authorized emergency vehicle shall apply only when such vehicles are making use of audible and visual signals meeting the requirements of section 32-21-132, except that an authorized emergency vehicle operated as a police vehicle need not be equipped with or display a red light visible from in front of the vehicle.

(d) The foregoing provisions shall not relieve the driver of a police vehicle or authorized emergency vehicle from the duty to drive with due regard for the safety of all persons, nor shall such provisions protect the driver from the consequences of his reckless disregard for the safety of others.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department of highways" for "state highway commission" and "department" for "commission"; and made minor changes in phraseology.

Lack of Uniformity

Where plaintiff attempted to pass defendant's truck 250 feet from unmarked intersection, and was struck by defendant's truck as it started to make a left-hand turn, in reconciling this section with section 32-2156, which prohibits driving to the left of the center line 100 feet from intersection, it was not error on the judge's part to refuse to instruct jury on the latter section. Graveley v. Springer, 145 M 486, 402 P 2d 41.

Manual as Evidence

In action for wrongful death of driver of state highway truck killed while sanding road in snowstorm, it was error to admit into evidence Manual on Uniform Traffic Control Devices adopted by highway commission where manual required that appropriate signs be erected warning public of road work but did not specifically designate who was to erect them. Williams v. Maley, 150 M 261, 434 P 2d 398.

(d) The erection or maintenance of a sign, marker, emblem or traffic-control device on a state highway except a controlled access highway or controlled access facility, is subject to the rules, regulations, and specifications the department adopts and publishes in the interest of public safety and convenience.

(e) The erection of a sign, emblem, marker or traffic-control device in violation of this section is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars ($25) nor more than three hundred dollars ($300).

(f) An unauthorized sign, emblem, marker or traffic-control device or portion thereof encroaching into, over, or upon a right of way of a state highway, or controlled access highway is a public nuisance, and the department may remove it or cause it to be removed without notice and without liability for the removal.

Whenever traffic is controlled by traffic-control signals exhibiting the words "Go," "Caution," or "Stop," or exhibiting different colored lights successively one at a time, or with arrows, the following colors only shall be used and said terms and lights shall indicate and apply to drivers of vehicles and pedestrians as follows:

(a) and (b) * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(c) Red Alone or "Stop":

1. Vehicular traffic facing the signal shall stop before entering the crosswalk on the near side of the intersection or, if none, then before entering the intersection and shall remain standing until green or "Go" is shown alone or until a right turn can safely be made and in making such turn vehicular traffic must yield the right of way to pedestrians lawfully within the crosswalk and to other traffic lawfully using the intersection. Amendments

The 1963 amendment inserted a former subdivision (e) deleted by the 1974 amendment.

The 1974 amendment added "or until a right turn * * * is shown alone" to the end of subdivision (c)(1); and deleted former subdivision (e) which read "Red with Traffic Sign Legend—Right Turn on

No pedestrian facing such signal and legend shall enter the roadway until the green or 'Go' is shown alone"; and designated former subdivision (f) as (e).

32-2142. Persons under the influence of intoxicating liquor or of drugs. (a) * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(b) In any criminal prosecution for a violation of paragraph (a) of this section relating to driving a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, the amount of alcohol in the defendant's blood at the time alleged as shown by chemical analysis of the defendant's blood, urine, breath or other bodily substance, shall give rise to the following presumptions:

1. If there was at that time 0.05 per cent or less by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood it shall be presumed that the defendant was not under the influence of intoxicating liquor:

2. If there was at that time in excess of 0.05 per cent but less than 0.10 per cent by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood, such fact shall not give rise to any presumption that the defendant was or was not under the influence of intoxicating liquor, but such fact may be considered with other competent evidence in determining the guilt or innocence of the defendant:

3. If there was at that time 0.10 per cent or more by weight of alcohol in the defendant's blood, it shall be presumed that the defendant was under the influence of intoxicating liquor:

4. Per cent by weight of alcohol in the blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per one hundred (100) cubic centimeters of blood:

Amendments

The 1971 amendment reduced the percentage of alcohol required for presumption of intoxication, as specified in subdivisions 2 and 3 of subsection (b), from .15 per cent to .10 per cent; substituted "grams of alcohol per one hundred (100) cubic centimeters of blood" at the end of subdivision 4 for "milligrams of alcohol per one hundred (100) milligrams of blood"; and made minor changes in punctuation.

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 132, Laws 1971 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 1, 1971.

Double Jeopardy

Conviction under this section did not bar subsequent prosecution for involuntary manslaughter arising out of the same incident because proof of involuntary manslaughter requires proof of an additional fact. State v. McDonald, 158 M 307, 491 P 2d 711.

Improperly Conducted Test

Although it was improper to admit results of blood test showing that deceased's blood contained 0.15% alcohol by weight where testimony disclosed that tube used to collect blood sample had previously contained formalin and formaldehyde which could have resulted in higher than actual alcohol content result, error was not reversible in view of other testimony concerning deceased's state of intoxication. Benner v. B. F. Goodrich Co., 150 M 97, 430 P 2d 648.

Jurisdiction of Justice of Peace

Since the driving of a vehicle on a highway while under the influence of intoxicating liquor is a misdemeanor under this section, it falls within the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace under section 93-410. Wilson v. Brodie, 148 M 235, 419 P 2d 306, 308.

Search of Automobile

After a person has been removed from a car and arrested for driving while under the influence, search of the person's automobile is reasonable. State v. Turner, — M —, 523 P 2d 1386.

32-2142.1. Chemical blood, breath, or urine tests. (a) Any person who operates a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state shall be deemed to have given consent, subject to the provisions of section 32-2142, R. C. M., 1947, to a chemical test of his blood, breath, or urine for the purpose of determining the alcoholic content of his blood if arrested by a peace officer for driving or in actual physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The test shall be administered at the direction of a peace officer having reasonable grounds to believe the person to have been driving or in actual physical control of a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The arresting officer may designate which one of the aforesaid tests shall be administered.

(b) Any person who is unconscious or who is otherwise in a condition rendering him incapable of refusal, shall be deemed not to have withdrawn the consent provided by paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) If a person under arrest refuses upon the request of a peace officer to submit to a chemical test designated by the arresting officer as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, none shall be given, but the Montana highway patrol board, upon the receipt of a sworn report of the peace officer that he had reasonable grounds to believe the arrested person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and that the person had refused to submit to the test upon the request of the peace officer, shall suspend the license or driving privilege of such person on the highways of this state for a period of sixty (60) days. Like refusal by a nonresident shall be subject to suspension by the board in like manner. All such suspensions are subject to review as hereinafter provided.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 131, L. 1971.

Title of Act

An act to provide for an intoxication test and consent thereto, for persons arrested for driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, providing for suspension upon refusal of operator to submit to test, providing for an appeal of license suspension.

Arrest Required

Motion to suppress was properly granted to defendant whose blood alcohol content was determined without his knowledge while he was in the hospital and was not under arrest and was not incapable of refusal. State v. Mangels, — M —, 531 P 2d 1313.

Incapable of Refusal

Although defendant was hospitalized after wreck for abrasions and contusions and confusion, he was not incapable of refusal, and evidence of blood alcohol content, taken without his knowledge and without making an arrest, was not admissible. State v. Mangels, — M —, 531 P 2d 1313.

32-2142.2. Right of appeal to court. (a) Any person whose license or privilege to drive has been suspended, as hereinbefore authorized, the board shall immediately notify such person in writing and such person shall have the right to file a petition within thirty (30) days thereafter for a hearing in the matter in the district court in the county wherein such person shall reside and such court is hereby vested with jurisdiction and it shall be its duty to set the matter for hearing upon thirty (30) days' written notice to the county attorney of the county wherein the appeal is filed and such county attorney shall represent the state, and thereupon the court shall take testimony and examine into the facts of the case, except that the issues shall be limited to whether a peace officer had reasonable grounds to believe the person had been driving or was in actual physical control of a vehicle upon the public highways while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, whether the person was placed under arrest and whether such person refused to submit to the test. The court shall thereupon determine whether the petitioner is entitled to a license or is subject to suspension as heretofore provided.

(b) Upon the trial of any criminal action or proceeding arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving or in actual physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, evidence of the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time of the act alleged as shown by a chemical analysis of his blood, breath, or urine is admissible.

(c) If the person under arrest refused to submit to the test as hereinabove provided, proof of refusal shall be admissible in any criminal action or proceeding arising out of acts alleged to have been committed while the person was driving or in actual physical control of a motor vehicle upon the public highways while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

(d) The provisions of this act do not limit the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing on the question of whether the person was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 131, L. 1971.

32-2142.3. Administration of tests. (a) Only a physician or registered nurse acting at the request of a peace officer may withdraw blood for the purpose of determining the alcoholic content therein. This limitation shall not apply to the taking of breath or urine specimens.

(b) The person tested may, at his own expense, have a physician or registered nurse, of his own choosing administer a test, in addition to any administered at the direction of a peace officer, for the purpose of determining the amount of alcohol in his blood at the time alleged as shown by chemical analysis of his blood, breath or urine. The failure or inability to obtain an additional test by a person shall not preclude the admissibility in evidence of the test taken at the direction of a peace officer.

(c) Upon the request of the person tested full information concerning the test taken at the direction of the peace officer shall be made available to him or his attorney.

(d) No physician or registered nurse shall incur any civil or criminal liability as a result of the proper administering of a blood test when requested in writing by a peace officer to administer such a test.

(e) If the test given under the preceding section is a chemical test of urine, the person tested shall be given such privacy in the taking of the urine specimen as will insure the accuracy of the specimen and, at the same time, maintain the dignity of the individual involved.

(f) The Montana highway patrol board in co-operation with the state board of health or any other appropriate agency, shall adopt uniform standards for the giving of blood alcohol tests and may require certification of training to administer such tests as deemed necessary.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 131, L. 1971.

application and to this end the provisions of this act are declared to be severable."

Separability Clause

Section 4 of Ch. 131, Laws 1971 read "If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or

Repealing Clause

Section 5 of Ch. 131, Laws 1971 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

32-2143.1. Permission of authorities to hold speed contest. No race or contest for speed shall be held and no person shall engage in or aid or abet in any motor vehicle speed contest or exhibition of speed on a public highway or street without written permission of the authorities of the state, county or city having jurisdiction and unless the same is fully and efficiently patrolled for the entire distance over which such race or contest for speed is to be held.

History: En. Sec. 1, Ch. 100, L. 1967.

Title of Act

An act prohibiting speed contests and "drag racing" on the public highways or streets unless written permission is granted by the authorities having jurisdiction over such highways or streets; fixing penalty for violation of act.

32-2143.2. Penalty for unauthorized drag racing. Any person convicted for violation of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) or more than five hundred dollars ($500) or by imprisonment in the county or city jail for not more than six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

History: En. Sec. 2, Ch. 100, L. 1967.

32-2144. Speed restrictions—basic rule. (a) A person operating or driving a vehicle of any character on a public highway of this state shall drive it in a careful and prudent manner, and at a rate of speed no greater than is reasonable and proper under the conditions existing at the point of operation, taking into account the amount and character of traffic, condition of brakes, weight of vehicle, grade and width of highway, condition of surface, and freedom of obstruction to view ahead, and he shall drive it so as not to unduly or unreasonably endanger the life, limb, property, or other rights of a person entitled to the use of the street or highway.

(b) Where no special hazard exists that requires lower speed for compliance with paragraph (a) of this section, the speed of a vehicle not in excess of the limits specified in this section or established as authorized in sections 32-2145, 32-2146, 32-2147, and 32-2149 is lawful, but a speed in excess of those limits is unlawful:

1. Twenty-five (25) miles per hour in an urban district;
2. Thirty-five (35) miles per hour on a highway under construction or repair;
3. Fifty-five (55) miles per hour in other locations during the nighttime, except that the nighttime speed limit on completed sections of interstate highways is sixty-five (65) miles per hour.

"Daytime" means from a half ($\frac{1}{2}$) hour before sunrise to a half ($\frac{1}{2}$) hour after sunset. "Nighttime" means at any other hour.

The speed limits set forth in this section may be altered by the highway commission as authorized in sections 32-2145, 32-2146, and 32-2149.

(c) The driver of a vehicle shall, consistent with paragraph (a), drive at an appropriate reduced speed when approaching and crossing an intersection or railway grade crossing, when approaching and going around a curve, when approaching a hill crest, when traveling upon a narrow or winding roadway, and when a special hazard exists with respect to pedestrians or other traffic or by reason of weather or highway condition.

Amendments

The 1967 amendment added the exception concerning interstate highways at the end of the first paragraph of subdivision 3 of subsection (b).

The 1974 amendment substituted "as authorized in sections 32-2145, 32-2146, 32-2147, and 32-2149" in subsection (b) for "as hereinafter authorized"; deleted "however, the Montana highway commission shall have the authority to establish reduced night speed limits on curves and other dangerous locations as set forth in section 32-2145, R. C. M.

1947" from subdivision (b)(3); inserted "by the highway commission" after "may be altered" in the last paragraph of subdivision (b)(3); added "and 32-2149" to the end of the last paragraph in subdivision (b)(3); and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation.

Assured Clear Distance

Operator of disabled vehicle stalled on the highway was not bound to foresee or anticipate that other vehicles approaching the scene would come over the crest of a hill too fast to stop within their assured clear distance ahead, and in an action by persons injured in resulting collision, trial court should have directed verdict for defendant owner of the disabled vehicle on the ground of independent intervening cause. Halsey v. Uithof, — M —, 532 P 2d 686.

Ordinary Negligence

This section refers to ordinary, prudent driving standards, and therefore is a standard for ordinary negligence and not gross negligence required for recovery by guest in action against driver. Hoffman v. Herzog, 158 M 296, 491 P 2d 713.

Snow Conditions

Mere showing of a collision killing a horse in open range country, an icy road condition and existence of uninterpreted skid marks failed to show violation of subdivision (a) of this section. Fries v. Shaughnessy, 159 M 307, 496 P 2d 1159.

32-2144.1. Declaration of speed limits—exception to the basic rule.

The attorney general shall declare by proclamation filed with the secretary of state a speed limit for all motor vehicles on all public streets and highways in the state whenever the establishment of such a speed limit by the state is required by federal law as a condition to the state's continuing eligibility to receive funds authorized by the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1973 and all acts amendatory thereto or any other federal statute. Such speed limit may not be less than that required by federal law, and the attorney general shall by further proclamation, change the speed limit adopted pursuant to this act to comply with federal law. Any proclamation issued pursuant to this act becomes effective at midnight of the day upon which it is filed with the secretary of state. A speed limit imposed pursuant to this act is an exception to the basic rule requirements of section 32-2144 and a speed in excess of the speed limit established pursuant to this act is unlawful notwithstanding any provision of that section.

History: En. 32-2144.1 by Sec. 1, Ch. 60, L. 1974.

Title of Act

An act directing the attorney general to declare by order a speed limit as required by federal law on all public streets and highways in the state except in those areas where a speed limit lower than that required by federal law is presently applicable; and providing an effective date.

32-2144.2. Not applicable to certain streets and highways. The provisions of this act shall not apply to those public streets and highways for which a speed limit lower than that required by federal law was applicable on the effective date of this act under any other state, county, municipal or other local law, ordinance, regulation or order.

History: En. 32-2144.2 by Sec. 2, Ch. 60, L. 1974.

32-2144.3. Termination of declaration. The attorney general shall terminate by proclamation any speed limit proclaimed under this act whenever such a speed limit is no longer required by federal law as a condition to the state's continuing eligibility to receive funds authorized by the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1973 and all acts amendatory thereto or from any other federal statute.

History: En. 32-2144.3 by Sec. 3, Ch. 60, L. 1974.

32-2144.4. Subject to Administrative Procedure Act. The establishment of a speed limit pursuant to section 1 of this act [32-2144.1] shall not be subject to the provisions and requirements of the Montana Administrative Procedure Act, section 82-4201, R. C. M. 1947, et seq.

History: En. 32-2144.4 by Sec. 4, Ch. 60, L. 1974.

32-2144.5. Lower speed limits. Nothing in this act shall prohibit any state, county, municipal or other local official, board, or body which has authority to enact laws relating to motor vehicle speed limits from establishing speed limits lower than that required by federal law on any public streets or highways as permitted by law on the effective date of this act.

History: En. 32-2144.5 by Sec. 5, Ch. 60, L. 1974.

32-2144.6. Enforcement. (1) A person violating the speed limit imposed pursuant to section 32-2144.1 is guilty of the offense of unnecessary waste of a resource currently in short supply and upon conviction shall be fined five dollars ($5) and no jail sentence may be imposed. Bond for this offense shall be five dollars ($5).

For the purpose of this section only, the fees of the justice court shall be four dollars ($4) to be remitted as set forth in section 25-311.

(2) No violation of this act shall be recorded or charged against the driver's record of a person convicted of violating this act and no insurance company shall hold a violation of this act against the insured and there shall be no increase in premiums due to a violation of this act.

History: En. 32-2144.6 by Sec. 6, Ch. 60, L. 1974; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 248, L. 1974; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 6, L. 1975.

Compiler's Notes

Section 6 of Ch. 60, Laws 1974, contained a subsection (2) which was deleted by Sec. 1, Ch. 248, Laws 1974. The subsection was added by the 1975 amendment.

Amendments

Chapter 248, Laws 1974, inserted "[32-2144.1]" in the first sentence of subsection (1); added the second paragraph of subsection (1); and deleted a subsection (2). See Compiler's Notes and 1975 amendment note.

The 1975 amendment substituted "section 32-2144.1" near the beginning of the section for "section 1 of this act [32-2144.1]"; substituted "shall be fined five dollars ($5)" for "shall be fined not to exceed five dollars ($5)" in subsection (1); substituted "this section" for "this act" in the second paragraph of subsection (1); added subsection (2), as deleted by chapter 248, Laws of 1974; and made minor changes in phraseology and style.

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 248, Laws 1974 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 21, 1974.

32-2144.7. Existing statutes not affected. This act in no way affects traffic control statutes and violation of existing statutes shall be prosecuted solely as provided therein.

History: En. 32-2144.7 by Sec. 7, Ch. 60, 1974.

Effective Date

Section 8 of Ch. 60, Laws 1974 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 2, 1974.

32-2145. Establishment of special speed zones. (1) If the department of highways determines upon the basis of an engineering and traffic investigation that a speed limit set by section 32-2144 is greater or less than is reasonable or safe under the conditions found to exist at an intersection, curve, dangerous location, or any other part of a highway under its jurisdiction, the commission may set a reasonable and safe special speed limit at that part.

(2) The department shall erect and maintain appropriate signs giving notice of these special limits. When they are erected, the limits are effective at that part at all times, or at other times the commission sets.

(3) The authority of the commission under this section includes the authority to set reduced nighttime speed limits on curves and other dangerous locations.

(4) This section does not authorize the commission to set a statewide speed limit.

History: En. Sec. 42, Ch. 263, L. 1955; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 204, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 178, L. 1961; amd. Sec. 56, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment rewrote this section. For prior version, see parent volume.

32-2146. When local authorities may and shall alter limits. (a) If a local authority in its jurisdiction determines on the basis of an engineering and traffic investigation that the speed permitted under this act is greater or less than is reasonable and safe under the conditions found to exist upon a highway or part of a highway, the local authority may set a reasonable and safe limit thereon which:

1. Decreases the limit at intersection; or
2. Increases the limit within an urban district, but not to more than fifty-five (55) miles per hour during the nighttime; or
3. Decreases the limit outside an urban district, but not to less than thirty-five (35) miles per hour.

(b) A local authority in its jurisdiction shall determine by an engineering and traffic investigation the proper speed for all arterial streets and shall set a reasonable and safe limit thereon which may be greater or less than the speed permitted under this act for an urban district.

(c) An altered limit established as authorized under this section is effective at all times or at other times determined by the authority when appropriate signs giving notice of the altered limit are erected upon the highway.

(d) The commission has exclusive jurisdiction to set special speed limits on all federal-aid highways or extensions thereof in all municipalities or urban areas. The commission shall set these limits in accordance with section 32-2145.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment substituted a new subsection (d) for a subsection reading "Any alteration of speed limits on state highways or extensions thereof in a municipality by local authorities shall not be effective until such alteration has been approved by the commission."

The 1974 amendment deleted "or during hours of darkness" after "at all times" in subsection (c); inserted "by the authority" after "determined" in subsection (c); substituted reference to section 32-2145 in subsection (d) for reference to section 32-2144; and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation.

32-2147. Minimum speed regulations. (a) A person may not drive a motor vehicle at a speed slow enough to impede or block the normal and reasonable movement of traffic except when reduced speed is necessary for safe operation or in compliance with law.

On a two-lane highway where passing is unsafe because of traffic in the opposite direction or other conditions, a slow-moving vehicle, including a passenger vehicle, behind which four (4) or more vehicles are formed in line, shall turn off the roadway at the nearest place designated as a turnout by signs erected by the authority having jurisdiction over the highway, or wherever sufficient area for a safe turnout exists, in order to permit the vehicles following it to proceed. As used in this section a slow-moving vehicle is one which is proceeding at a rate of speed less than the normal flow of traffic at the particular time and place. The department of highways is authorized to designate and construct such turnouts and to erect signs at appropriate places advising motorists of this statute.

(b) If the department of highways or local authorities within their respective jurisdictions determine on the basis of an engineering and traffic investigation that slow speeds on any part of a highway consistently impede the normal and reasonable movement of traffic, the commission or the local authority may set a minimum speed limit below which a person may not drive a vehicle except when necessary for safe operation or in compliance with law.

after its passage and approval. Approved March 20, 1973.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment deleted from subsection (a) a second paragraph relating to police directions to slow drivers; and added the present second and third paragraphs to subsection (a).

The 1974 amendment substituted "department of highways" for "board" at the beginning of subsection (b); substituted "commission" for "board" near the middle of subsection (b); and made minor changes in phraseology.

Section 2 of Ch. 387, Laws 1973 provided the act should be in effect from and

Instructions

Where plaintiff's son was killed when car in which he was riding struck rear of defendant's truck which had just turned onto highway, it was reversible error for court to instruct jury on slow speed statute (this section) without requiring that plaintiff show truck had been on road sufficient time to attain a normal speed. Hageman v. Townsend, 144 M 510, 398 P 2d 612.

Purpose

The purpose of this section is rooted in the recognition that the slow driver may be the cause of fatal highway accidents as well as the fast driver. Hageman v. Townsend, 144 M 510, 398 P 2d 612.

32-2148. Special speed limitations on trucks, truck-tractors, motor-driven cycles and vehicles towing house trailers. (a) No person shall operate any truck or truck-tractor the gross weight of which exceeds eight thousand (8,000) pounds at a speed greater than sixty-five (65) miles per hour on those completed sections of interstate and four-lane divided highways, and sixty (60) miles per hour on those completed sections of primary and secondary highways; provided, however, that truck nighttime speed limit shall not exceed that of automobiles as stated in section 32-2144, R. C. M. 1947.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment substituted "sixty-five (65) miles per hour * * * as stated in section 32-2144, R. C. M. 1947" for "fifty (50) miles per hour" at the end of subsection (a).

32-2149. Special speed limitations. (a) A person may not drive a vehicle equipped with solid rubber or cushion tires at a speed greater than ten (10) miles per hour.

(b) A person may not drive a vehicle over a bridge or other elevated structure constituting a part of a highway at a speed which is greater than the maximum speed which can be maintained with safety to the bridge or structure, when the structure is signposted as provided in this section.

(c) The department of highways upon request from a local authority may, or upon its own initiative shall, conduct an investigation of a bridge or other elevated structure constituting a part of a highway, and if it finds on investigation that the structure cannot safely withstand vehicles traveling at the speed otherwise permissible under this act, the commission shall set the maximum speed of vehicles which the structure can withstand, and the department shall erect and maintain suitable signs stating the maximum speed at a distance of not less than one hundred (100) feet before each end of the structure.

(d) Upon the trial of a person charged with a violation of this section, proof of the setting of the maximum speed by the commission and the existence of the signs is conclusive evidence of the maximum speed which can be maintained with safety to the bridge or structure.

History: En. Sec. 46, Ch. 263, L. 1955; amd. Sec. 59, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department of highways" for "board" at the beginning of subsection (c); substituted

"commission" for "board" before "shall set" in subsection (c) and in subsection (d); inserted "department" before "shall erect and maintain" in subsection (c); and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation.

32-2150.3. Erection of signs. (a) No operator of a motor vehicle may be arrested under this act unless signs have been placed at or near the state line on the primary highway system, outside towns or cities having over two thousand five hundred (2,500) population, and outside county seats on the primary highways to indicate the legal rate of speed.

(b) * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(c) Signs giving notice that the speed of vehicles may be measured by radiomicro waves or other electrical device shall be placed as required for speed signs in subsection (a) above, provided, however, that the absence of such signs shall not, in itself, invalidate an otherwise proper arrest.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 120, L. 1959; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 205, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment deleted "radar" before "signs" in the caption; deleted "and that the speed of vehicles may be measured by radiomicro waves or other electrical device" from the end of subsection (a) after "legal rate of speed"; and added subsection (c).

32-2151. Drive on right side of roadway—exceptions.

Application

Defendant's proposed instruction in automobile accident case placing duty upon plaintiff to drive on right side of roadway at all times and under all conditions, and which made plaintiff absolutely negligent as matter of law if she failed to do so, was not entirely correct statement of law and therefore properly refused since this section and section 32-2153 provide exceptions to rule that one must drive upon right side of roadway. Lamb v. Page, 153 M 171, 455 P 2d 337.

Backing over Center-line

Where the evidence conclusively established that defendant's tractor-trailer was backed over the highway center-line into decedent's traffic lane, defendant's driver was negligent as a matter of law. Hurly v. Star Transfer Co., 141 M 176, 376 P 2d 504, 507.

References

Williams v. Wallace, 143 M 11, 386 P 2d 744.

32-2152. Passing vehicles proceeding in opposite directions.

Assumption of Risk

Plaintiff who was legally attempting to pass a logging truck in a clear passing lane with no oncoming traffic and who could not anticipate that the truck would turn left, did not assume any risk. Beebe v. Johnson, — M —, 526 P 2d 128.

32-2153. Overtaking a vehicle on the left.

Audible Signal

Finding of contributory negligence was proper under the "but for" test, since driver making left turn might have been warned in time "but for" the failure of the plaintiff to sound his horn sufficiently in advance of passing. Sedlacek v. Ahrens, — M —, 530 P 2d 424.

Duty of Overtaking Vehicle

Undisputed evidence that defendant waited until he was 20 to 25 feet behind plaintiff's vehicle, which was traveling at 55 m.p.h., before moving to the left to pass on an interstate with divided lanes and a clear passing lane, showed that defendant was negligent in following too closely under the conditions, and summary judgment for plaintiff on issue of liability was proper even though there was evidence that defendant's power steering failed when he tried to move to left. Farris v. Clark, 158 M 33, 487 P 2d 1307.

32-2156. Further limitations on driving to left of center, etc.

Contributory Negligence

Plaintiff driving to the left side of the roadway while within one hundred feet of or traversing an intersection in attempting to pass truck was guilty of contributory negligence in collision with truck attempting to make a left turn. Rader v. Nicholls, 140 M 459, 373 P 2d 312, 313.

Where plaintiff attempted to pass defendant's truck 250 feet from unmarked intersection, and was struck by defendant's truck as it started to make a left-hand turn, in reconciling this section with section 32-2133, which provides for a uniform system of traffic control devices, it was not error on the judge's part to refuse to instruct the jury on the provisions of this section. Graveley v. Springer, 145 M 486, 402 P 2d 41.

Intersection

An intersection is formed when two publicly maintained ways join at any angle. Rader v. Nicholls, 140 M 459, 373 P 2d 312, 313.

Reliance on Markings

Defendant, who attempted to pass plaintiff's truck within one hundred feet of intersection, in violation of this section, was not negligent per se, since defendant was entitled to rely on the broken white center line, which indicated that passing could be done lawfully at the point where the accident occurred. Faucette v. Christensen, 145 M 28, 400 P 2d 883, distinguished in 159 M 461, 498 P 2d 1204, 1206.

Turning Vehicle

Plaintiff traveling at slow rate of speed on highway and indicating left turn with automatic signal, then turning left onto country road, was exercising proper care in turning, and driver, who struck plaintiff while attempting to pass while plaintiff was turning was negligent and proximate cause of accident, even though area may not have been an intersection within the meaning of this section and even though highway markings did not prohibit passing. Gammel v. Dees, 159 M 461, 498 P 2d 1204.

32-2157. No-passing zones. (a) The department of highways may determine those portions of a highway where overtaking and passing or driving to the left of the roadway would be especially hazardous, and it may by appropriate signs or markings on the roadway indicate the beginning and end of these zones. When the signs or markings are in place and clearly visible to an ordinarily observant person, every driver of a vehicle shall obey the directions of those signs.

(b) Where signs or markings are in place to define a no-passing zone as set forth in paragraph (a) a driver may not drive on the left side of the roadway within the no-passing zone or on the left side of a pavement striping designed to mark the no-passing zone throughout its length.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department of highways" for "commission" in subsection (a); and made minor changes in phraseology.

Duty of Other Driver

This section does not absolve a driver intending to turn left from the obligation under section 32-2167 of making certain that the turn can be made with reasonable safety so that plaintiff was contributorily negligent in failing to look to the rear before turning even though defendant was passing him in a no-passing zone. Bellon v. Heinz, 347 F 2d 4.

32-2158. One-way roadways and rotary traffic islands. (a) The department of highways may designate a highway or a separate roadway under its jurisdiction for one-way traffic and shall erect appropriate signs giving notice of that designation.

(b) Upon a roadway designated and signposted for one-way traffic a vehicle may be driven only in the direction designated.

(c) A vehicle passing around a rotary traffic island may be driven only to the right of such island.

History: En. Sec. 55, Ch. 263, L. 1955; amd. Sec. 61, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department of highways" for "commission" in subsection (a); and made minor changes in phraseology.

32-2159. Driving on roadways laned for traffic.Backing over Center-line

Where the evidence conclusively established that defendant's tractor-trailer was backed over the highway center-line into decendent's traffic lane, defendant's driver was negligent as a matter of law. Hurly v. Star Transfer Co., 141 M 176, 376 P 2d 504, 507.

32-2160. Following too closely.Preparing to Overtake

Undisputed evidence that defendant, rapidly approaching from behind, waited until he was 20 to 25 feet from plaintiff's vehicle, which was traveling at 55 m.p.h., before moving to the left to pass on an interstate with divided lanes and a clear passing lane, showed that defendant was negligent in following too closely under the conditions, and summary judgment for plaintiff on issue of liability was proper even though there was evidence that defendant's power steering failed when he tried to move to left. Farris v. Clark, 158 M 33, 487 P 2d 1307.

32-2163. Restrictions on use of controlled access roadway. (1) The department of highways may by rule and local authorities may by ordinance prohibit the use of a controlled access highway under their respective jurisdictions by pedestrians, bicycles or other nonmotorized traffic or by a person operating a motor-driven cycle.

(2) The department or the local authority which adopts the prohibitory regulation shall erect and maintain official signs on the controlled access roadway on which these regulations are applicable. It is unlawful for a person to violate the restrictions stated on those signs.

History: En. Sec. 60, Ch. 263, L. 1955; amd. Sec. 62, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment rewrote subsection (1) (for prior version, see parent volume); substituted "department" for "commission" in subsection (2); and made minor changes in phraseology, punctuation and style.

tion (1) (for prior version, see parent volume); substituted "department" for "commission" in subsection (2); and made minor changes in phraseology, punctuation and style.

32-2166. Starting parked vehicle.Four Way Stops

The vehicle approaching from the right that would otherwise have the right of way loses the preference on approaching a four way stop because it is required to stop; where two drivers approached a four way stop, neither had a statutory right of way or "preferred" or "favored" driver status and both were required to exercise ordinary care as they proceeded into or through the intersection. Elliott v. Hansen, — M —, 519 P 2d 411.

"Preferred" Driver Status

Where two vehicles collided at four-way stop, one vehicle traveling south to north and other vehicle traveling east to west, both drivers had duty to make full stop before entering intersection and to exercise ordinary care to determine whether it was safe to proceed through intersection, but neither driver had "preferred" driver status. Elliott v. Hansen, — M —, 519 P 2d 411.

32-2167. Turning movements and required signals.Duty To Look to Rear

Since there is no exception to this section for unlawful passing, plaintiff had the affirmative duty to look to the rear, as well as forward, and was contributorily negligent in not looking to the rear before making a left-hand turn, since he could not rely on the presumption that he would not be passed in a no-passing zone. Belton v. Heinzig, 347 F 2d 4.

Conflicting testimony as to whether or not the driver of a truck looked to the rear before making a left turn, and as to whether or not his turn-signal lights were operating was a question for the jury to decide, and they could have properly concluded from the evidence that the plaintiff's car was in the passing lane prior to the time the defendant's truck turned left across the center line. Beebe v. Johnson, — M —, 526 P 2d 128.

Knowledge of Safety Not Required

This section requires that a person making a turning movement take reasonable precautions under the circumstances, but it does not require that such person know with absolute certainty that the turning movement can be made with safety. Holland v. Konda, 142 M 536, 385 P 2d 272, 6 ALR 3d 824.

Passing Laws Not Applicable

In action for negligence in making left turn near the crest of a hill, it was error to instruct jury on inapplicable laws prohibiting anyone from driving on left side of road, especially when the instruction was combined with an instruction that statutory violations are negligence as a matter of law. Rude v. Neal, — M —, 530 P 2d 428.

32-2170. Vehicle approaching or entering intersection. (a) When two (2) vehicles enter or approach an intersection from different highways at approximately the same time, the driver of the vehicle on the left shall yield the right of way to the vehicle on the right.

(b) The right of way rule declared in paragraph (a) is modified at through highways and otherwise as hereinafter stated in this article.

History: En. Sec. 67, Ch. 263, L. 1955; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 175, L. 1965.

Amendments

The 1965 amendment deleted a former paragraph (a), for text of which see parent volume; appropriately redesignated the remaining paragraphs; inserted "or approach" after "enter" near the beginning of present paragraph (a); and deleted from present paragraph (b) a reference to former paragraph (a).

Repealing Clause

Section 2 of Ch. 175, Laws 1965 repealed all acts and parts of acts in conflict therewith.

Four Way Stops

Hansen*, — M —, 519 P 2d 411.

32-2171. Vehicle turning left at intersection.

Additional Duties

This section does not purport to catalogue all the rights and duties of a driver intending to turn left and does not negate the existence of an additional duty to maintain a proper lookout for vehicles approaching from the rear, even where plaintiff was making a left turn in a no-passing zone. Bellon v. Heinzig, 347 F 2d 4.

Amendment

The 1965 amendment inserted "or public approach ramp."

32-2174. Vehicles approaching "Yield" sign. When the intersection is designated by the department of highways, or the local authority having jurisdiction, as a "Yield" intersection, the driver of a vehicle approaching the "Yield" sign shall slow to a speed of not more than fifteen (15) miles per hour and yield right of way to all vehicles approaching from the right or left on the intersecting roads, or streets, which are so close as to constitute an immediate hazard. If a driver is involved in a collision at an intersection or interferes with the movement of other vehicles after driving past a "Yield" sign, such collision or interference shall be deemed evidence of the driver's failure to yield right of way.

Chapter 179, Laws of 1974, added the provisions pertaining to decibel noise limits to subsection (2).

Chapter 273, Laws of 1974, added subsections (3) and (4).

32-21-108. Coasting prohibited.

Emergency Action

Violation of this section by traveling on a downgrade with the clutch manually disengaged was not negligence per se where violation was involuntary in an emergency due to circumstances beyond driver's control. Duchesneau v. Silver Bow County, 158 M 369, 492 P 2d 926.

32-21-112.1. Riding in house trailers. No person or persons may occupy a house trailer while it is being moved upon a public highway unless the trailer is of a semitrailer design where some part of its own weight and that of its cargo rests upon, or is carried by, its towing unit through the use of a fifth-wheel type trailer hitch, mounted on no less than a one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) ton rated truck.

History: Sec. 109.1, Ch. 263, L. 1955 as added by Sec. 1, Ch. 167, L. 1957; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 21, L. 1975.

Amendments

The 1975 amendment added "unless the trailer is of a semitrailer design * * * one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) ton rated truck"; and made a minor change in phraseology.

32-21-113. Shooting from or across highway.—No person shall shoot any firearm from or across the roadway of any state or federal highway, or county road.

History: En. Sec. 110, Ch. 263, L. 1955; amd. Sec. 1, Ch. 25, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment added "or county road" at the end of the section.

32-21-114. Scope and effect of regulations.

Military Personnel

Noncommissioned officer acting under direct order to engage in emergency snow removal project related to threatened flood and who was operating a tilt deck trailer upon a public highway without proper lights was immune from prosecution under this section. State of Montana, County of Fergus, Township of Lewistown v. Christopher, 345 F Supp 60.

32-21-118. Tail lamps.

County Road Grader

Statute requiring that tail lamps be not more than 72 inches from ground did not apply to county road grader on which two red tail lamps had been mounted ten feet from ground; motorist suing county for injury sustained when auto struck road grader from rear was not entitled to instruction that statute had been violated and that county was therefore negligent as matter of law. Bernhard v. Lincoln County, 150 M 557, 437 P 2d 377.

32-21-122. Additional equipment required on certain vehicles. In addition to other equipment required in this act the following vehicles shall be equipped as herein stated under the conditions stated in section 32-21-121.

(a) to (e) * * * [Same as parent volume.]

(f) On every trailer, semitrailer, or pole trailer weighing three thousand (3,000) pounds gross or less:

On the front, a steel chain or cable which shall be securely fastened to the towing unit with the minimum diameter of any portion of such chains or cables being one-fourth ($\frac{1}{4}$) of one inch.

On the rear, two (2) reflectors, one (1) on each side. If any trailer or semitrailer is so loaded or is of such dimensions as to obscure the stop light on the towing vehicle, then such vehicle shall also be equipped with one (1) stop light.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment inserted the second paragraph in subdivision (f) relating to steel chains or cables on the front of trailers.

32-21-130. Lamps on other vehicles and equipment—emblem to be used on certain slow-moving vehicles—slow-moving vehicles to permit overtaking vehicles to pass. (a) Every vehicle, including animal-drawn vehicles and vehicles referred to in section 32-21-114 (c), not specifically required by the provisions of sections 32-21-114 to 32-21-153 to be equipped with lamps or other lighting devices, shall at all times specified in section 32-21-115 be equipped with at least one (1) lamp displaying a white light visible from a distance of not less than five hundred (500) feet to the front of said vehicle, and shall also be equipped with two (2) lamps displaying red light visible from a distance of not less than five hundred (500) feet to the rear of said vehicle, or as an alternative, one (1) lamp displaying a red light visible from a distance of not less than five hundred (500) feet to the rear and two (2) red reflectors visible for distances of one hundred (100) to six hundred (600) feet to the rear when illuminated by the upper beams of head lamps.

(b) It shall be unlawful, after January 1, 1970, for any person to operate on the roadway of any state highway, farm, rural or county roads and city streets of this state any slow-moving vehicle or equipment, any animal-drawn vehicle, or any other machinery designed for use at speeds less than twenty-five (25) miles per hour, including all road construction or maintenance machinery, except when engaged in actual construction or maintenance work either guarded by a flagman or clearly visible warning signs, which normally travels or is normally used at a speed of less than twenty-five (25) miles per hour unless there is displayed on the rear thereof an emblem as described in and displayed as provided in subsection (c) of this section. The requirement of such emblem shall be in addition to any lighting devices required by law.

(c) The emblem required by subsection (b) of this section shall be of substantial construction, and shall be a based-down equilateral triangle of fluorescent yellow-orange film or equivalent quality paint with a base of fourteen (14) inches and an altitude of twelve (12) inches. Such triangle shall be bordered with reflective red strips having a minimum width of one and three-fourths ($1\frac{3}{4}$) inches, with the vertices of the overall triangle truncated such that the remaining altitude shall be a minimum of fourteen (14) inches. Such emblem shall be mounted on the rear of such vehicle near the horizontal geometric center of the vehicle at a height of three (3) to five (5) feet above the roadway, and shall be maintained in a clean, reflective condition.

(d) Any person violating the provisions of this section shall be subject to penalty as provided for in section 32-21-157.

(e) In addition to the foregoing requirements, on a highway that has only two lanes for traffic moving in opposite directions, when an overtaking vehicle being operated in conformity with section 32-21-144, R. C. M. 1947, does not have a clear lane for passing as required by section 32-21-155 and section 32-21-156, R. C. M. 1947, the driver of a slower-moving, overtaken vehicle shall, at the first opportunity, whenever sufficient area for a safe turnout exists, move the overtaken vehicle off the main-traveled portion of the highway until the overtaking vehicle is safely clear of the overtaken vehicle.

32-21-132. Audible and visual signals on vehicles. (a) A police vehicle shall be equipped with a siren capable of giving an audible signal and may, but need not, be equipped with alternately flashing or rotating red or blue lights as specified herein. The use of signal equipment described herein shall impose upon the drivers of other vehicles, the obligation to yield right of way and/or to stop and to proceed past such signal or light only with caution and at a speed which is no greater than is reasonable and proper under the conditions existing at the point of operation.

32-21-143. Repealed.

Repeal

This section (Sec. 140, Ch. 263, L. 1955; Sec. 1, Ch. 81, L. 1957) relating to brakes required on vehicles, was repealed by Sec. 5, Ch. 139, Laws 1965.

32-21-143.1. Brake equipment required. Every motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer and pole trailer, and any combination of such vehicles operating upon a highway within this state shall be equipped with brakes in compliance with the requirements of this chapter.

(a) Service brakes—adequacy. Every such vehicle and combination of vehicles, except special mobile equipment as defined in sections 32-2102 (h) and 53-639, R. C. M., 1947, shall be equipped with service brakes complying with the performance requirements of section 2 [32-21-143.2] of this act and adequate to control the movement of and to stop and hold such vehicle under all conditions of loading, and on any grade incident to its operation.

(b) Parking brakes—adequacy. Every such vehicle and combination of vehicles, except motorcycles and motor-driven cycles, shall be equipped with parking brakes adequate to hold the vehicle on any grade on which it is operated, under all conditions of loading, on a surface free from snow, ice or loose material. The parking brakes shall be capable of being applied in conformance with the foregoing requirements by the driver's muscular effort or by spring action or by equivalent means. Their operation may be assisted by the service brakes or other source of power provided that failure of the service brake actuation system or other power assisting mechanism will not prevent the parking brakes from being applied in conformance with the foregoing requirements. The parking brakes shall be so designed that when once applied they shall remain applied with the required effectiveness despite exhaustion of any source of energy or leakage of any kind. The same brake drums, brake shoes and lining assemblies, brake shoe anchors and mechanical brake shoe actuation mechanism normally associated with the wheel brake assemblies may be used for both the service brakes and the parking brakes. If the means of applying the parking brakes and the service brakes are connected in any way, they shall be so constructed that failure of any one part shall not leave the vehicle without operative brakes.

(c) Brakes on all wheels. Every vehicle shall be equipped with brakes acting on all wheels except:

1. Trailers, semitrailers, pole trailers of a gross weight not exceeding three thousand (3,000) pounds, provided that:

a. The total weight on and including the wheels of the trailer or trailers shall not exceed forty per cent (40%) of the gross weight of the towing vehicle when connected to the trailer or trailers, and

b. The combination of vehicles, consisting of the towing vehicle and its total towed load, is capable of complying with the performance requirements of section 2 [32-21-143.2] of this act.

2. Any vehicle being towed in driveaway or towaway operations, provided the combination of vehicles is capable of complying with the performance requirements of section 2 [32-21-143.2] of this act.

3. Trucks and truck-tractors having three (3) or more axles need not have brakes on the front wheels, except that when such vehicles are equipped with at least two steerable axles, the wheels of one steerable axle need not have brakes. However, such trucks and truck-tractors must be capable of complying with the performance requirements of section 2 [32-21-143.2] of this act.

4. Special mobile equipment as defined in section 32-2102 (h) and 53-639, R. C. M., 1947.

5. The wheel of a sidecar attached to a motorcycle or to a motor-driven cycle, or the front wheel of a motor-driven cycle need not be equipped with brakes, provided that such motorcycle or motor-driven cycle is capable of complying with the performance requirements of section 2 [32-21-143.2] of this act.

(d) Automatic trailer brake application upon breakaway. Every trailer, semitrailer and pole trailer equipped with air or vacuum actuated brakes and every trailer, semitrailer and pole trailer with a gross weight in excess of three thousand (3,000) pounds, manufactured or assembled after January 1, 1966, shall be equipped with brakes acting on all wheels and of such character as to be applied automatically and promptly, and remain applied for at least fifteen (15) minutes, upon breakaway from the towing vehicle.

(e) Tractor brakes protected. Every motor vehicle manufactured or assembled after January 1, 1966, and used to tow a trailer, semitrailer or pole trailer equipped with brakes, shall be equipped with means for providing that in case of breakaway of the towed vehicle, the towing vehicle will be capable of being stopped by the use of its service brakes.

(f) Trailer air reservoirs safeguarded. Air brake systems installed on trailers manufactured or assembled after January 1, 1966, shall be so designed that the supply reservoir used to provide air for the brakes shall be safeguarded against backflow of air from the reservoir through the supply line.

(g) Two means of emergency brake operation. 1. Air brakes. After January 1, 1966, every towing vehicle, when used to tow another vehicle equipped with air controlled brakes, in other than driveaway or towaway operations, shall be equipped with two (2) means for emergency application of the trailer brakes. One of these means shall apply the brakes automatically in the event of a reduction of the towing vehicle air supply to a fixed pressure which shall be not lower than twenty (20) pounds per square inch nor higher than forty-five (45) pounds per square inch. The other means shall be a manually controlled device for applying and releasing the brakes, readily operable by a person seated in the driving seat, and its emergency position or method of operation shall be clearly indicated. In no instance may the manual means be so arranged as to permit its use to prevent operation of the automatic means. The automatic and the manual means required by this section may be, but are not required to be, separate.

2. Vacuum brakes. After January 1, 1966, every towing vehicle used to tow other vehicles equipped with vacuum brakes, in operations other than driveaway or towaway operations, shall have, in addition to the single control device required by subsection (h), a second control device which can be used to operate the brakes on towed vehicles in emergencies. The second control shall be independent of brake air, hydraulic, and other pressure, and independent of other controls, unless the braking system be so arranged that failure of the pressure upon which the second control depends will cause the towed vehicle brakes to be applied automatically. The second control is not required to provide modulated braking.

(h) Single control to operate all brakes. After January 1, 1966, every motor vehicle, trailer, semitrailer and pole trailer, and every combination of such vehicles, except motorcycles and motor-driven cycles, equipped with brakes shall have the braking system so arranged that one control device can be used to operate all service brakes. This requirement does not prohibit vehicles from being equipped with an additional control device to be used to operate brakes on the towed vehicles. This regulation does not apply to driveaway or towaway operations unless the brakes on the individual vehicles are designed to be operated by a single control on the towing vehicle.

(i) Reservoir capacity and check valve. 1. Air brakes. Every bus, truck or truck-tractor with air operated brakes shall be equipped with at least one reservoir sufficient to insure that, when fully charged to the maximum pressure as regulated by the air compressor governor cut-out setting, a full service brake application may be made without lowering such reservoir pressure by more than twenty per cent (20%). Each reservoir shall be provided with means for readily draining accumulated oil or water.

2. Vacuum brakes. After January 1, 1966, every truck with three (3) or more axles equipped with vacuum assistor type brakes and every truck-tractor and truck used for towing a vehicle equipped with vacuum brakes shall be equipped with a reserve capacity or a vacuum reservoir sufficient to insure that, with the reserve capacity or reservoir fully charged and with the engine stopped, a full service brake application may be made without depleting the vacuum supply by more than forty per cent (40%).

3. Reservoir safeguarded. All motor vehicles, trailers, semitrailers and pole trailers, when equipped with air or vacuum reservoirs or reserve capacity as required by this section, shall have such reservoirs or reserve capacity so safeguarded by a check valve or equivalent device that in the event of failure or leakage in its connection to the source of compressed air or vacuum, the stored air or vacuum shall not be depleted by the leak or failure.

(j) Warning devices. 1. Air brakes. Every bus, truck or truck-tractor using compressed air for the operation of its own brakes or the brakes on any towed vehicle, shall be provided with a warning signal, other than a pressure gauge, readily audible or visible to the driver, which will operate at any time the air reservoir pressure of the vehicle is below fifty per cent (50%) of the air compressor governor cut-out pressure. In addition, each such vehicle shall be equipped with a pressure gauge visible to the driver, which indicates in pounds per square inch the pressure available for braking.

2. Vacuum brakes. After January 1, 1966, every truck-tractor and truck used for towing a vehicle equipped with vacuum operated brakes and every truck with three (3) or more axles using vacuum in the operation of its brakes, except those in driveaway or towaway operations, shall be equipped with a warning signal, other than a gauge indicating vacuum, readily audible or visible to the driver, which will operate at any time the vacuum in the vehicle's supply reservoir or reserve capacity is less than eight (8) inches of mercury.

3. Combination of warning devices. When a vehicle required to be equipped with a warning device is equipped with both air and vacuum power for the operation of its own brakes or the brakes on a towed vehicle, the warning devices may be, but are not required to be, combined into a single device which will serve both purposes. A gauge or gauges indicating pressure or vacuum shall not be deemed to be an adequate means of satisfying this requirement.

cifying exceptions thereto; requiring vehicles to be equipped with both service and parking brakes; establishing performance ability of brakes; defining hydraulic brake fluid; authorizing patrol board to adopt brake fluid standards and specifications; prohibiting the sale of brake fluid which does not meet specifications; repealing section 32-21-143, R. C. M., 1947, and all acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Double Jeopardy

Conviction under former section 32-21-143 did not bar prosecution for involuntary manslaughter arising out of the same accident in subsequent action, because proof of the latter requires proof of an additional fact. State v. McDonald, 158 M 307, 491 P 2d 711.

32-21-143.2. Performance ability of brakes. Every motor vehicle and combination of vehicles, at all times and under all conditions of loading, upon application of the service brake, shall be capable of:

32-21-143.3. Maintenance of brakes. All brakes shall be maintained in good working order and shall be so adjusted as to operate as equally as practicable with respect to the wheels on opposite sides of the vehicle.

History: En. Sec. 3, Ch. 139, L. 1965.

32-21-143.4. Hydraulic brake fluid. (a) The term "hydraulic brake fluid" as used in this section shall mean the liquid medium through which force is transmitted to the brakes in the hydraulic brake system of a vehicle.

(b) Hydraulic brake fluid shall be distributed and serviced with due regard for the safety of the occupants of the vehicle and the public.

(c) The Montana highway patrol board shall, after public hearing following due notice, adopt and enforce regulations for the administration of this section and shall adopt and publish standards and specifications for hydraulic brake fluid which shall correlate with, and so far as practicable conform to, the then current standards and specifications of the society of automotive engineers applicable to such fluid.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 139, L. 1965. "Repealing section 32-21-143, R. C. M. 1947, and all acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith."

Repealing Clause

Section 5 of Ch. 139, Laws 1965 read

32-21-144. Brakes on motor-driven cycles.

Compiler's Notes

Section 32-21-143, referred to in subsection (a) in the parent volume, was repealed by Sec. 5, Ch. 139, Laws 1965.

32-21-149. Restrictions as to tire equipment. (a) A solid rubber tire on a vehicle shall have rubber on its entire traction surface at least one (1) inch thick above the edge of the flange of the entire periphery.

(b) A person may not operate or move on a highway a motor vehicle, trailer, or semitrailer having a metal tire in contact with the roadway.

(c) A tire on a vehicle moved on a highway may not have on its periphery a block, stud, flange, cleat, or spike or other protuberance of a material other than rubber which projects beyond the tread of the traction surface of the tire, except that it is permissible to use farm machinery with tires having protuberances which will not injure the highway. It is also permissible to use tire chains of reasonable proportions or pneumatic tires, the traction surfaces of which have been embedded with material such as wood, wire, plastic or metal, which may not protrude more than one-sixteenth (1/16) of an inch beyond the tire tread, upon a vehicle when required for safety because of snow, ice, or other conditions tending to cause a vehicle to skid. The use of pneumatic tires embedded as provided in this section is permitted only between the first day of October and the last day of May of each year, except that one (1) of those tires may be used for a spare in case of tire failure. School buses equipped with such embedded pneumatic tires may operate from August 15 through the following June 15.

(d) The department of highways and local authorities in their respective jurisdictions may in their discretion issue special permits authorizing the operation upon a highway of farm tractors or other farm machinery, or of traction engines or tractors having movable tracks with transverse corrugations upon the periphery of the movable tracks, the operation of which upon the highway would otherwise be prohibited under this act.

Amendments

The 1967 amendment inserted "the" before "roadway" in subsection (b); and inserted "or pneumatic tires, the traction surfaces of which have been embedded with material such as wood, wire, plastic or metal" after "proportions" in subsection (c).

The 1971 amendment inserted "which shall in no instance protrude more than one-sixteenth (1/16) of an inch beyond the tire tread" near the end of the first sentence of subsection (c); added the second sentence to subsection (c); and added subsection (e).

The 1973 amendment added the last sentence to subsection (c).

The 1974 amendment substituted "department of highways" for "commission" in subsection (d); substituted "this section" for "this act" in subsection (e); and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation.

(a) It shall be unlawful for any person to move, or permit to be moved, any truck, bus, truck-tractor, trailer or semitrailer, as defined in sections 32-2102 to 32-2105, R. C. M. 1947, inclusive, upon the public highways without having first equipped the rearmost wheels or set of wheels of such vehicle with fenders, splash aprons or flaps. Such fenders, splash aprons or flaps shall be designed, constructed and attached to the vehicle in such manner so as to arrest and deflect dirt, mud, water, rocks and other substances which may be picked up by the rear wheels of such vehicle and thrown into the air, as follows:

(1) If the vehicle is equipped with fenders the same shall extend in full width from a point above and forward of the center of the tire or tires over and to the rear thereof.

(2) If the vehicle is equipped with splash aprons or flaps the same shall extend downward in full width from a point not lower than halfway between the center of the tire or tires and the top of said tire or tires and to the rear thereof.

(3) If the vehicle is in excess of eight thousand (8,000) pounds gross vehicle weight, such fenders, splash aprons or flaps shall extend downward to a point that is not more than ten (10) inches above the surface of the highway when the vehicle is empty.

(4) If the vehicle is eight thousand (8,000) pounds, or less, gross vehicle weight, such fenders, splash aprons or flaps shall extend downward to a point that is not more than twenty (20) inches above the surface of the highway when the vehicle is empty.

(b) Fenders, splash aprons or flaps, as used in paragraph (a) of this section shall be deemed to be of sufficient size and construction as to comply with the requirements thereof, if constructed as follows:

(1) When measured on the cross-sections of the tread of the wheel or on the combined cross-sections of the treads of multiple wheels, such fender, splash apron or flap extends at least to each side of the width of the tire or of the combined width of the multiple tires, as the case may be; and

(2) Such fender, splash apron or flap is so constructed as to be capable at all times of arresting and deflecting such dirt, mud, water, or other substance as may be picked up and carried by such wheel or wheels.

(c) Any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10) nor more than twenty-five dollars ($25), or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not more than thirty (30) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

32-21-166. Vehicle equipment safety compact—text. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Vehicle Equipment Safety Compact."

ARTICLE I—FINDINGS AND PURPOSES

(a) The party states find that: (1) Accidents and deaths on their streets and highways present a very serious human and economic problem with a major deleterious effect on the public welfare.

(2) There is a vital need for the development of greater interjurisdictional co-operation to achieve the necessary uniformity in the laws, rules, regulations and codes relating to vehicle equipment, and to accomplish this by such means as will minimize the time between the development of demonstrably and scientifically sound safety features and their incorporation into vehicles.

(b) The purposes of this compact are to: (1) Promote uniformity in regulation of and standards for equipment.

(2) Secure uniformity of law and administrative practice in vehicular regulation and related safety standards to permit incorporation of desirable equipment changes in vehicles in the interest of greater traffic safety.

(3) To provide means for the encouragement and utilization of research which will facilitate the achievement of the foregoing purposes, with due regard for the findings set forth in subdivision (a) of this article.

(c) It is the intent of this compact to emphasize performance requirements and not to determine the specific detail of engineering in the manufacture of vehicles or equipment except to the extent necessary for the meeting of such performance requirements.

ARTICLE II—DEFINITIONS

As used in this compact: (a) "Vehicle" means every device in, upon or by which any person or property is or may be transported or drawn upon a highway, excepting devices moved by human power or used exclusively upon stationary rails or tracks.

(b) "State" means a state, territory or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(c) "Equipment" means any part of a vehicle or any accessory for use thereon which affects the safety of operation of such vehicle or the safety of the occupants.

ARTICLE III—THE COMMISSION

(a) There is hereby created an agency of the party states to be known as the "Vehicle Equipment Safety Commission" hereinafter called the commission. The commission shall be composed of one commissioner from each party state who shall be appointed, serve and be subject to removal in accordance with the laws of the state which he represents. If authorized by the laws of his party state, a commissioner may provide for the discharge of his duties and the performance of his functions on the commission, either for the duration of his membership or for any lesser period of time, by an alternate. No such alternate shall be entitled to serve unless notification of his identity and appointment shall have been given to the commission in such form as the commission may require. Each commissioner, and each alternate, when serving in the place and stead of a commissioner, shall be entitled to be reimbursed by the commission for expenses actually incurred in attending commission meetings or while engaged in the business of the commission.

(b) The commissioners shall be entitled to one vote each on the commission. No action of the commission shall be binding unless taken at a meeting at which a majority of the total number of votes on the commission are cast in favor thereof. Action of the commission shall be only at a meeting at which a majority of the commissioners, or their alternates, are present.

(c) The commission shall have a seal.

(d) The commission shall elect annually, from among its members, a chairman, a vice-chairman and a treasurer. The commission may appoint an executive director and fix his duties and compensation. Such executive director shall serve at the pleasure of the commission, and together with the treasurer shall be bonded in such amount as the commission shall determine. The executive director also shall serve as secretary. If there be no executive director, the commission shall elect a secretary in addition to the other officers provided by this subdivision.

(e) Irrespective of the civil service, personnel or other merit system laws of any of the party states, the executive director with the approval of the commission, or the commission if there be no executive director, shall appoint, remove or discharge such personnel as may be necessary for the performance of the commission's functions, and shall fix the duties and compensation of such personnel.

(f) The commission may establish and maintain independently or in conjunction with any one or more of the party states, a suitable retirement system for its full time employees. Employees of the commission shall be eligible for social security coverage in respect of old age and survivor's insurance provided that the commission takes such steps as may be necessary pursuant to the laws of the United States, to participate in such program of insurance as a governmental agency or unit. The commission may establish and maintain or participate in such additional programs of employee benefits as may be appropriate.

(g) The commission may borrow, accept or contract for the services of personnel from any party state, the United States, or any subdivision or agency of the aforementioned governments, or from any agency of two or more of the party states or their subdivisions.

(h) The commission may accept for any of its purposes and functions under this compact any and all donations, and grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials, and services, conditional or otherwise, from any state, the United States, or any other governmental agency and may receive, utilize and dispose of the same.

(i) The commission may establish and maintain such facilities as may be necessary for the transacting of its business. The commission may acquire, hold, and convey real and personal property and any interest therein.

(j) The commission shall adopt bylaws for the conduct of its business and shall have the power to amend and rescind these bylaws. The commission shall publish its bylaws in convenient form and shall file a copy thereof and a copy of any amendment thereto, with the appropriate agency or officer in each of the party states. The bylaws shall provide for appropriate notice to the commissioners of all commission meetings and hearings and the business to be transacted at such meetings or hearings.

Such notice shall also be given to such agencies or officers of each party state as the laws of such party state may provide.

(k) The commission annually shall make to the governor and legislature of each party state a report covering the activities of the commission for the preceding year, and embodying such recommendations as may have been issued by the commission. The commission may make such additional reports as it may deem desirable.

ARTICLE IV—RESEARCH AND TESTING

The commission shall have power to: (a) Collect, correlate, analyze and evaluate information resulting or derivable from research and testing activities in equipment and related fields.

(b) Recommend and encourage the undertaking of research and testing in any aspect of equipment or related matters when, in its judgment, appropriate or sufficient research or testing has not been undertaken.

(c) Contract for such equipment research and testing as one or more governmental agencies may agree to have contracted for by the commission, provided that such governmental agency or agencies shall make available the funds necessary for such research and testing.

(d) Recommend to the party states changes in law or policy with emphasis on uniformity of laws and administrative rules, regulations or codes which would promote effective governmental action or co-ordination in the prevention of equipment-related highway accidents or the mitigation of equipment-related highway safety problems.

ARTICLE V—VEHICULAR EQUIPMENT

(a) In the interest of vehicular and public safety, the commission may study the need for or desirability of the establishment of or changes in performance requirements or restrictions for any item of equipment. As a result of such study, the commission may publish a report relating to any item or items of equipment, and the issuance of such a report shall be a condition precedent to any proceedings or other action provided or authorized by this article. No less than sixty (60) days after the publication of a report containing the results of such study, the commission upon due notice shall hold a hearing or hearings at such place or places as it may determine.

(b) Following the hearing or hearings provided for in subdivision (a) of this article, and with due regard for standards recommended by appropriate professional and technical associations and agencies, the commission may issue rules, regulations or codes embodying performance requirements or restrictions for any item or items of equipment covered in the report, which in the opinion of the commission will be fair and equitable and effectuate the purposes of this compact.

(c) Each party state obligates itself to give due consideration to any and all rules, regulations and codes issued by the commission and hereby declares its policy and intent to be the promotion of uniformity in the laws of the several party states relating to equipment.

(d) The commission shall send prompt notice of its action in issuing any rule, regulation or code pursuant to this article to the appropriate motor vehicle agency of each party state and such notice shall contain the complete text of the rule, regulation or code.

(e) If the constitution of a party state requires, or if its statutes provide, the approval of the legislature by appropriate resolution or act may be made a condition precedent to the taking effect in such party state of any rule, regulation or code. In such event, the commissioner of such party state shall submit any commission rule, regulation or code to the legislature as promptly as may be in lieu of administrative acceptance or rejection thereof by the party state.

(f) Except as otherwise specifically provided in or pursuant to subdivisions (e) and (g) of this article, the appropriate motor vehicle agency of a party state shall in accordance with its constitution or procedural laws adopt the rule, regulation or code within six (6) months of the sending of the notice, and, upon such adoption, the rule, regulation or code shall have the force and effect of law therein.

(g) The appropriate motor vehicle agency of a party state may decline to adopt a rule, regulation or code issued by the commission pursuant to this article if such agency specifically finds, after public hearing on due notice, that a variation from the commission's rule, regulation or code is necessary to the public safety, and incorporates in such finding the reasons upon which it is based. Any such finding shall be subject to review by such procedure for review of administrative determinations as may be applicable pursuant to the laws of the party state. Upon request, the commission shall be furnished with a copy of the transcript of any hearings held pursuant to this subdivision.

ARTICLE VI—FINANCE

(a) The commission shall submit to the executive head or designated officer or officers of each party state a budget of its estimated expenditures for such period as may be required by the laws of that party state for presentation to the legislature thereof.

(b) Each of the commission's budgets of estimated expenditures shall contain specific recommendations of the amount or amounts to be appropriated by each of the party states. The total amount of appropriations under any such budget shall be apportioned among the party states as follows: one-third ($1/3$) in equal shares; and the remainder in proportion to the number of motor vehicles registered in each party state. In determining the number of such registrations, the commission may employ such source or sources of information as in its judgment present the most equitable and accurate comparisons among the party states. Each of the commission's budgets of estimated expenditures and requests for appropriations shall indicate the source or sources used in obtaining information concerning vehicular registrations.

(c) The commission shall not pledge the credit of any party state. The commission may meet any of its obligations in whole or in part with funds available to it under Article III (h) of this compact, provided that the commission takes specific action setting aside such funds prior to incurring any obligation to be met in whole or in part in such manner. Except where the commission makes use of funds available to it under Article III (h) hereof, the commission shall not incur any obligation prior to the allotment of funds by the party states adequate to meet the same.

(d) The commission shall keep accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements. The receipts and disbursements of the commission shall be subject to the audit and accounting procedures established under its rules. However, all receipts and disbursements of funds handled by the commission shall be audited yearly by a qualified public accountant and the report of the audit shall be included in and become part of the annual reports of the commission.

(e) The accounts of the commission shall be open at any reasonable time for inspection by duly constituted officers of the party states and by any persons authorized by the commission.

(f) Nothing contained herein shall be construed to prevent commission compliance with laws relating to audit or inspection of accounts by or on behalf of any government contributing to the support of the commission.

ARTICLE VII—CONFLICT OF INTEREST

(a) The commission shall adopt rules and regulations with respect to conflict of interest for the commissioners of the party states, and their alternates, if any, and for the staff of the commission and contractors with the commission to the end that no member or employee or contractor shall have a pecuniary or other incompatible interest in the manufacture, sale or distribution of motor vehicles or vehicular equipment or in any facility or enterprise employed by the commission or on its behalf for testing, conduct of investigations or research. In addition to any penalty for violation of such rules and regulations as may be applicable under the laws of the violator's jurisdiction of residence, employment or business, any violation of a commission rule or regulation adopted pursuant to this article shall require the immediate discharge of any violating employee and the immediate vacating of membership, or relinquishing of status as a member on the commission by any commissioner or alternate. In the case of a contractor, any violation of any such rule or regulation shall make any contract of the violator with the commission subject to cancellation by the commission.

(b) Nothing contained in this article shall be deemed to prevent a contractor for the commission from using any facilities subject to his control in the performance of the contract even though such facilities are not devoted solely to work of or done on behalf of the commission; nor to prevent such a contractor from receiving remuneration or profit from the use of such facilities.

ARTICLE VIII—ADVISORY AND TECHNICAL COMMITTEES

The commission may establish such advisory and technical committees as it may deem necessary, membership on which may include private citizens and public officials, and may co-operate with and use the services of any such committees and the organizations which the members represent in furthering any of its activities.

ARTICLE IX—ENTRY INTO FORCE AND WITHDRAWAL

(a) This compact shall enter into force when enacted into law by any six (6) or more states. Thereafter, this compact shall become effective as to any other state upon its enactment thereof.

(b) Any party state may withdraw from this compact by enacting a statute repealing the same, but no such withdrawal shall take effect until one (1) year after the executive head of the withdrawing state has given notice in writing of the withdrawal to the executive heads of all other party states. No withdrawal shall affect any liability already incurred by or chargeable to a party state prior to the time of such withdrawal.

ARTICLE X—CONSTRUCTION AND SEVERABILITY

This compact shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate the purposes thereof. The provisions of this compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state participating herein, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining party states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters.

Section 32-2201. Legislative findings.
32-2202. Legislative policy and intent.
32-2203. General definitions.

32-2201. Legislative findings. The legislative assembly recognizes that safe and efficient highway transportation is of important interest to all of the people of the state and hereby determines and declares that:

(1) Inadequate highways, roads, and streets obstruct the free flow of traffic, increase costs of motor vehicle operation, endanger the health and safety of the citizens of the state, depreciate property values, and impede generally the economic progress of the state.

(2) The problems of establishing and maintaining adequate highways, roads, and streets, eliminating congestion, reducing accident frequency, providing parking facilities, and taking all necessary steps to insure safe and convenient transportation are urgent.

(3) Therefore, adequate and integrated systems of highways, roads, and streets are essential to the general welfare of the state of Montana.

(4) Providing adequate highway facilities is a proper public use and purpose, and that this act is necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, for the promotion of the general welfare, and as a contribution to the national defense.

Judicial Review

Where state highway commission conducted investigations and held hearings to determine number of interchanges and their location with respect to new interstate highway and nearby town, and agreed that one interchange was sufficient, district court abused its discretion in issuing writ of mandamus ordering commission to construct two such interchanges since commission complied with this section and its decision cannot be disturbed unless clear abuse of discretion is shown. Erie v. State ex rel. State Highway Commission, 154 M 150, 461 P 2d 207, distinguished in 155 M 39, 47, 466 P 2d 594.

(1) The commission shall designate such public highways in the state as shall be classed as the federal-aid primary system.

(2) The commission shall in co-operation with the board of county commissioners, select such public highways in the state as shall be classed as the federal-aid secondary system, taking into consideration the traffic count on those highways, the continuity of the highways in relation to the state highway systems as they may connect or tie into a unified system of federal-aid highways, and the taxable valuations which are affected by those public highways.

(3) The commission shall, in co-operation with adjoining states, select the routes of the federal-aid interstate system.

(4) The commission shall designate such public highways in the state as shall be classed as state highways, and the department shall adopt necessary rules for the construction, repair, maintenance, and marking of state highways and bridges.

Commission Regulations as Evidence

In action for wrongful death of driver of state highway truck while sanding road in snowstorm, it was error to admit into evidence Safety Manual adopted by highway commission and requiring that engineers, supervisors and foremen erect warning devices upon highway before beginning work since requirement imposed no duty upon deceased driver to erect warning devices. Williams v. Maley, 150 M 261, 434 P 2d 398.

32-2408. Designation of highways not located entirely within the state. (1) The commission may designate highways subject to improvement under the provisions of the Federal-Aid Road Act, approved July 11, 1916, the Federal Highway Act, approved November 9, 1921, and all amendments thereto, even though those highways are not located entirely and continuously within the boundaries of the state. The designations shall meet the following conditions:

(a) That the highway is on an approved federal-aid route and eligible for improvement under the federal-aid acts.

(b) That the location of a portion of the route outside the boundaries of the state is necessary because of natural geographical or physical conditions which make the construction of the highway within the state impossible or impracticable.

(c) That the portion of the route located outside the state does not connect with and is not a part of the state highway system of the adjoining state.

(2) The department may expend funds for the construction, reconstruction, engineering, administration, betterment, and maintenance of these designated highways. It may do all things necessary or required to carry out fully the co-operation contemplated under the federal-aid acts with regard thereto.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1974, once by Ch. 255 and once by Ch. 316. Neither amendatory act mentioned 32-2425.1. Declaration of purpose. It is the purpose of this act to balance the tradition of the open range and the economic and geographic problems of raising livestock with the need for safer highways and the policy of taking all feasible measures to reduce the high incidence of traffic accidents and fatalities on Montana highways.

History: En. 32-2425.1 by Sec. 1, Ch. 255, L. 1974.

Title of Act

An act directing the department of highways to classify open range areas according to the degree of traffic hazard created by livestock and to fence out livestock in the more hazardous areas; and amending sections 32-2426, 32-2427 and 32-2412, R. C. M. 1947.

32-2426. Department to fence along state highways through open range where livestock a hazard—gates—"open range" defined. (1) The department shall fence the right of way of any part of the state highway system that is constructed or reconstructed, after July 1, 1969, through open range where livestock present a hazard to the safety of the motorist. Where a fence is constructed, adequate stock gates or stock passes, as necessary, shall be provided to make land on either side of the highway usable for livestock purposes.

(2) For the purposes of this act, as used in sections 2 through 6 [32-2426 through 32-2429, 32-2412]:

(a) "Open range" means those areas of the state where livestock is raised and maintained in sufficient numbers as to constitute a significant part of the local or county economy and where such animals graze and move about generally unrestrained by fences.

(b) A "high hazard area" is a segment of the primary highway system passing through open range where livestock moves on or across the highway often enough, in enough numbers, and with enough ease of access that such animals create a significant traffic safety hazard. Evidence bearing on whether animals on the highway pose a significant hazard includes, without limitation, past accident records, the opinions of persons qualified by experience to evaluate the relative safety of road conditions, and the terrain around the road.

(c) A "low hazard area" is a segment of the primary highway system passing through open range which is not a high hazard area.

(d) "Livestock" means cattle, sheep, swine, horses, mules, and goats.

there is a sufficient safety hazard from livestock to warrant fencing.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1974, once by Ch. 255 and once by Ch. 316. Neither amendatory act mentioned or entirely incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Title of Act

An act requiring the highway commission to fence highways that run through open range where livestock present a safety hazard to the motorist; defining open range for the purpose of this act; and authorizing the highway commission to determine where in open range areas

Amendments

Chapter 255, Laws of 1974, rewrote subsection (2) which read: "For the purpose of this act the term 'open range' means all private and public lands in the state of Montana not inclosed by a fence of not less than four (4) wires in good repair but does not include herd districts as created and defined by section 46-1501, R. C. M. 1947."

Chapter 316, Laws of 1974, substituted "Department" for "Commission" in the caption; substituted "department" for "highway commission" in subsection (1); substituted "July 1, 1969" for "the effective date of this act" in subsection (1); substituted "In section 32-2426 and 32-2427" for "For the purpose of this act" at the beginning of subsection (2); and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation.

32-2427. Department to delineate open range hazard areas. The department shall, by December 31, 1975, delineate the open range areas through which the primary highway system runs and classify, pursuant to section 4 [32-2428], such areas as high hazard areas or low hazard areas.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1974, once by Ch. 255 and once by Ch. 316. The amendment by Ch. 255 incorporated the changes made by Ch. 316 and the text of the amendment by the former act is set out below.

Amendments

Chapter 255, Laws of 1974, rewrote this section which read: "The highway commission shall designate the open range areas where livestock present a sufficient safety hazard to the motorist to warrant fencing by the highway commission."

Chapter 316, Laws of 1974, substituted references to "department" in the caption and text of the section for references to "commission" and "highway commission."

32-2428. Procedure for classifying state highways in open range. The department shall study the primary highways in each county containing open range and, applying the criteria set out in section 32-2426, shall propose a division of such areas into high hazard and low hazard areas. The department shall publish an illustrated summary of its proposed classification of a county, in a newspaper of general daily or weekly circulation in that county, and the same publication shall give notice of a public hearing in the county within four (4) weeks. The department shall conduct this hearing on its proposed classification, and the record of the hearing shall include a statement of the department's reasons for its proposal as well as the views of the citizens interested in the proposal. Within four (4) weeks after the hearing, the department shall publish its final decision on the classification in the same format and newspaper used for the publication of the notice. For the purpose of judicial review, this final decision is a rule which may be reviewed by a district court as provided in section 82-4219.

32-2429. Department to fence where it has duty. The department shall erect a fence in every high hazard area as promptly as possible, and the cost of such construction is an expenditure for the enforcement of federal-aid highway safety programs. Gates, stock underpasses, water facilities, and cattle guards may be installed where necessary to make the land on either side of the highway usable for livestock purposes or where a public right of way intersects the state highway.

So much of that money on hand at any time as may be needed to pay highway bonds and interest thereon when due and to accumulate and maintain a reserve therefor, as provided in laws and in resolutions of the state board of examiners authorizing such bonds, shall be deposited in the highway bond account in the sinking fund established by section 79-410. Subject to that provision, six-tenths of one per cent (.6%) of all money shall be deposited in the state park account in the earmarked revenue fund. All of the remainder of the money shall be used and expended by the department of highways on the federal-aid highways in this state selected and designated under the Federal-Aid Act, approved July 11, 1916, and the Federal Highway Act, approved November 9, 1921, and all amendments thereto, and on highways leading from each county seat in the state to the federal highway system

The department may enter into co-operative agreements with the national park service and the federal highway administration for the purpose of maintaining national park approach roads in Montana.

(2) Money credited to the state park account in the earmarked revenue fund shall be used only for the creation, improvement, and maintenance of state parks where motorboating is allowed, except for the payment of refunds under section 84-1855. The legislature hereby finds as a fact that of all the fuel sold in the state for consumption in internal combustion engines, not less than six-tenths of one per cent (.6%) is used for propelling boats on waterways of this state.

32-2604. Construction or reconstruction of bridges. (1) The department may allocate from state construction moneys available for the federal-aid highway system up to one million dollars ($1,000,000) in any fiscal year for the construction or reconstruction of any major bridge or system of bridges on the primary or secondary highway systems. This may be done only when the use of regularly apportioned funds would prohibit or seriously delay the orderly and necessary highway construction program in the financial districts.

(2) When the department, as a part of its finding of public necessity, declares that a particular bridge should be constructed or reconstructed on a designated portion of the primary or secondary highway, the allocation may be made. The allocation may be expended:

The deductions may be made only when the amount of these judgments would prohibit or seriously impair the highway construction program in a financial district, county or urban city.

(2) The department shall then compute the ratio between the incompleted mileage in each district and the total incompleted mileage of the federal-aid primary system in the state.

(3) The department shall then apportion available state construction funds to the federal-aid primary system in each district on the basis of the computed ratio.

(2) Funds apportioned to each district shall be further apportioned to each county in the district on the same basis, considering ratios of land area, rural population, rural road mileage, and value of rural lands. To the extent necessary to permit orderly programming and construction of projects, expenditures in any county may exceed the amount apportioned to that county to the extent of three (3) times the amount of the last apportionment to the county. The amount of any excess expenditures shall be deducted from future apportionments to that county.

(a) By paying the registration and other fees covering the maximum practical gross vehicle weight for the truck or truck-tractor, but not less than the actual operating gross weight under sections 53-114, 53-122, 32-3301 and 32-3303.

(b) By registering the trailers in accordance with sections 53-114 and 53-122, and by paying the gross vehicle weight fee prescribed for the maximum trailing load in accordance with sections 32-3302 and 32-3303 on the combined gross weight of the two (2) trailers or semitrailers, treating them as if they were a single unit.

(2) This section does not authorize axle loads in excess to those established by sections 32-1123.1 through 32-1123.11.

capacity on trucks, truck-tractors and buses, was repealed by Sec. 2, Ch. 37, Laws 1971.

32-3312. Additional fees on motor trucks, truck-tractors, trailers and semitrailers from other states. (1) In lieu of other fees for the licensing of vehicles, there shall be collected a fee for each motor truck, truck-tractor, trailer, and semitrailer already licensed for the year in another jurisdiction and operated upon an itinerant basis in this state. The fee shall be collected upon each entrance of such vehicle into the state, and shall be based upon the number of miles to be traveled in the state as shown in the application of the nonresident operator.

(2) A bond issued under subsection (1) (b) of that section may not be issued for a term longer than ten (10) years, except that:

(a) If the unexpired term of the bonds to be refunded is greater than ten (10) years, the refunding bonds may be issued for the unexpired term; or

(b) If the ten (10) year term requires an annual tax levy for payment of the refunding bonds which exceeds ten (10) mills on all property subject to taxation, the term may be so extended as to reduce the annual levy to ten (10) mills. In no event shall the term exceed twenty (20) years.

(3) All bonds issued for a term longer than five (5) years shall be redeemable at the option of the county five (5) years after the date of issue and on any payment due date thereafter before maturity. This statement shall appear on the face of each bond.

(4) Interest shall be payable semiannually.

History: En. Sec. 7-305, Ch. 197, L. 1965; amd. Sec. 30, Ch. 234, L. 1971; amd. Sec. 125, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1971 amendment deleted from the beginning of subsection (4) "The maximum rate of interest which any bonds shall bear is six per cent (6%) per annum"; and made a minor change in style.

The 1974 amendment substituted "under subsection (1)(b) of that section" in subsection (2) for "under subsection (2) of that section"; and made minor changes in phraseology and style.

32-3806. Form of bonds. (1) All bonds issued by any county shall be either amortization bonds or serial bonds. Amortization bonds shall be issued in preference to serial bonds.

(2) The term "amortization bonds" means that form of bond on which a part of the principal is required to be paid each time interest becomes due and payable. The part payment of principal increases with each following installment in the same amount the interest payment decreases, so that the combined amount payable on principal and interest is the same on each interest payment date. However, the final payment may vary in amount from the other payments to the extent resulting from disregarding fractional cents in the other payments.

(3) The term "serial bonds" means a bond issue payable in equal annual installments, one (1) installment consisting of one (1) or more bonds becoming due and payable each year. The amount to be paid and redeemed each year shall be determined by dividing the total amount of the bonds to be issued by the total number of years the issue is to run, so that the total amount of principal to be paid each year will be the same. The amount of installments becoming due and payable the first year, or the first and second years, may vary from the others to the extent which results from fixing the amounts of each bond of the other installments at one hundred dollars ($100), five hundred dollars ($500) or one thousand dollars ($1,000) as may be determined by the board.

32-3903. Purposes for which property acquired. The acquisition of lands or other property, or any interest therein, for present or future highway purposes includes, but is not limited to any of the following purposes: (1) For rights of way, including those necessary for highways within cities.

(2) For exchanging lands or other property or any interest therein for other such lands or interests for rights of way or other authorized purposes. The right of eminent domain shall not be exercised for this purpose.

History: En. Sec. 8-103, Ch. 197, L. 1965.

Market Value of Condemned Land

Where highway commission condemned land for purposes of gaining an easement for the construction and maintenance of a state highway, and not for obtaining a deposit of gravel, sand, and other materials on the land, testimony as to the value of such materials was inadmissible as speculative, remote and conjectural and not within the purpose of former section 32-1615 (c). State Highway Commission v. Mott, 142 M 402, 384 P 2d 922.

Railroad Right of Way

Former section 32-1615 (k) permitted the state to condemn land in order to provide right of way for a railroad being moved to allow construction of public highways. State ex rel. De Puy v. District Court, 142 M 328, 384 P 2d 501.

Rental of Unused Right of Way

The 1961 amendment of former section

32-1615 so as to give express authority for the rental of unused right of way rendered moot a taxpayer's action to restrain the highway commission from granting an encroachment permit, where there was no indication that the permit, when granted, would violate the terms of the statutory amendment. Wilson v. State Highway Commission, 140 M 253, 370 P 2d 486, 488.

Transfer of Land

Any manner of transferring unused highway right of way which was inconsistent with former section 32-1615 was by implication excluded. Wilson v. State Highway Commission, 140 M 253, 370 P 2d 486, 488.

The state highway commission cannot give away or loan gratuitously the use of an unused highway right of way. Wilson v. State Highway Commission, 140 M 253, 370 P 2d 486, 488.

32-3904. Exercise of right of eminent domain—presumption. (1) Whenever the department cannot acquire lands or other property or interests in the lands or property at a price or cost which it considers reasonable, it may direct the attorney general or any county attorney to procure the interests by proceedings to be instituted as provided in sections 93-9901—93-9926 against all nonaccepting landholders.

(2) It shall not so direct the attorney general or any county attorney until it adopts an order declaring that:

- (a) Public interest and necessity require the construction or completion by the state of the highway or improvement for one of the purposes set forth in section 32-3903.

(b) The interest described in the order and sought to be condemned is necessary for the highway or improvement.

(c) The highway or improvement is planned and located in a manner which will be compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury.

(3) The order creates and establishes a disputable presumption:

(a) Of the public necessity of the proposed highway or improvement.

(b) That the taking of the interest sought is necessary therefor.

(c) That the proposed highway or improvement is planned or located in a manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury.

History: En. Sec. 8-104, Ch. 197, L. 1965; amd. Sec. 127, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department" for "commission" in subsection (1); substituted "order" for "resolution" in subsection (2), subdivision (2)(b) and subsection (3); and made minor changes in phraseology.

Burden of Proof

In order to attack the presumption raised by a resolution of public interest and necessity for condemnation of a strip of land without providing for a livestock underpass, landowner must introduce evidence as to the amount of his damages if the land is taken without building an underpass. State Highway Commission v. Parini, 159 M 248, 496 P 2d 1140.

Disputable presumption, established by highway department resolution of public interest and necessity, was not overcome by evidence that a possible alternative route might have been selected. State, Department of Highways v. Higgins, — M —, 530 P 2d 776.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Burden of Proof

Where commission condemned defendant's land to build bypass through it rather than reconstruct highway through town, it became incumbent upon the defendant to show fraud, abuse of discretion or arbitrary action in order to defeat the commission's action, whereas the commission had only to establish that the taking of the property was reasonably necessary for rebuilding the highway. State Highway Commission v. Crossen-Nissen Co., 145 M 251, 400 P 2d 283, distinguished in 155 M 39, 47, 466 P 2d 594.

Judicial Interference

It is not within the province of the judicial branch of government to interfere with the exercise of eminent domain in the absence of clear and convincing evidence of arbitrariness or abuse of discretion by commission. State Highway Commission v. Crossen-Nissen Co., 145 M 251, 400 P 2d 283, distinguished in 155 M 39, 47, 466 P 2d 594.

Power To Condemn

The power of eminent domain is vested exclusively in the legislature, and can be exercised only by the legislature and those agencies to whom it has delegated the power. State Highway Commission v. Crossen-Nissen Co., 145 M 251, 400 P 2d 283.

Selection of Route

Highway commission did not abuse its discretion in taking farm land by eminent domain even though it was shown that town through which old highway had passed would be financially harmed and bypass would cost more to build, since the resulting savings in travel costs to highway users, in addition to the compensation paid the petitioners, offset disadvantages claimed by them. State Highway Commission v. Crossen-Nissen Co., 145 M 251, 400 P 2d 283, distinguished in 155 M 39, 47, 466 P 2d 594.

32-3905. Acquisition of whole parcel—sale of excess. (1) Whenever any interest in a part of a parcel of land or other real property is to be acquired for highway purposes, leaving the remainder in a shape or condition as to be of little market value, or to give rise to claims or litigation over severance or other damage, the department may acquire the whole parcel. It may sell or exchange the remainder for other property needed for highway purposes.

(2) Whenever a part of a parcel of land acquired for highway purposes is in a shape or size as to come within section 11-614, the department shall prepare and file the required plat in the office of the county clerk and recorder.

History: En. Sec. 8-105, Ch. 197, L. 1965; amd. Sec. 128, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department" for "commission" in two places; and made minor changes in phraseology. Way Commission v. Chapman, 152 M 79,

Amount of Property Which May Be Taken

Trial court did not exceed powers under statute when it limited amount of property sought to be appropriated by state to that portion of property actually needed for proposed highway improvement because question whether public interest required taking of entire parcel was question of fact to be determined by court; preliminary order of court limiting amount of appropriation to that actually required for construction of city street improvements was supported by evidence that excess land retained some value as separate parcel notwithstanding commission's argument that remaining land was financial remnant of such value as to be of little market value and give rise to claims over severance and other damages. State Highway Commission v. Chapman, 152 M 79, 446 P 2d 709.

32-3906. Power to acquire for future. (1) The power conferred by chapters 39 and 40 of this title to acquire interests in lands or other real property includes power to acquire for reasonably foreseeable future needs.

(2) The department may lease unused portions of lands or other real property which are held for highway purposes and interstate highway rights of way which are not presently needed for highway purposes on the terms and conditions which it decides. The department may repair, maintain, and care for the property in order to secure rent from it.

(3) All rent received shall be deposited to the credit of the department.

History: En. Sec. 8-106, Ch. 197, L. 1965; amd. Sec. 129, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department" for "commission" throughout the section; and made minor changes in phraseology.

32-3907. Road building materials. (1) A right of way or easement acquired by the department for construction, operation, repair, reconstruction, or maintenance of highways includes, among others, the right to use, remove, relocate, redistribute, or otherwise dispose of gravel and other road-building materials found or located within the boundaries of the right of way or easement.

(2) For the purposes of chapters 39 and 40 of this title, the gravel or materials is considered to be real property and not minerals.

History: En. Sec. 8-107, Ch. 197, L. 1965; amd. Sec. 130, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department" for "commission" in subsection (1); and made minor changes in phraseology.

32-3908. No compensation in certain cases—exceptions. (1) Whenever the department files a description and plan as provided in section 32-2413, no consideration, allowance or assessment of values or compensation shall be made in the purchase or condemnation of buildings or improvements or subdivisions placed or erected on the land covered by the plan after the filing.

(2) The establishment of the highway location covered by the description and plan shall be ineffective one year after filing if no action to condemn or acquire the property has been commenced.

(3) Nothing in this section or in section 32-2413 applies to crops or similar improvements planted on the lands described. They are governed by section 93-9913.

History: En. Sec. 8-108, Ch. 197, L. 1965; amd. Sec. 131, Ch. 316, L. 1974. department" for "commission" in subsection (1); and made minor changes in phraseology.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "de-

32-3909. Exchange of interests in real property. (1) The department may determine that an interest in real property, however acquired by it, is no longer necessary to the laying out, altering, construction, improvement, or maintenance of a highway. It may then exchange the interest, either as entire or partial consideration, for any other interest in real property needed for highway purposes. The department may establish the manner and terms and conditions for the exchange.

(2) The owner from whom the interest was originally acquired by the state, or his successor in interest, has the right to require the department to offer the land for sale in the manner set forth in sections 32-3910 and 32-3911. The department shall notify the owner or successor in interest of its intention to exchange the interest. The owner shall make his demand for sale by registered mail to the department within ten (10) days after receipt of notice from the department.

History: En. Sec. 8-109, Ch. 197, L. 1965; amd. Sec. 132, Ch. 316, L. 1974. department" for "commission" throughout the section; and made minor changes in phraseology.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "de-

32-3910. Sale of interests in real property. The department may sell an interest in real property, however acquired by it, which it determines is not necessary to the laying out, altering, construction, improvement, or maintenance of a highway. If the interest is reasonably of a value in excess of one hundred dollars ($100), sale shall be made to the highest bidder at public auction or by sealed bids as the department decides. The sale shall be conducted as provided in section 32-3911.

History: En. Sec. 8-110, Ch. 197, L. 1965; amd. Sec. 133, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department" for "commission" in two places; and made minor changes in phraseology.

Easement

Easement granting state right to use property adjoining highway as public park was not such an "interest in real property" as to require public sale of park area upon abandonment of highway and park area; quitclaim deed reconveying state's interest to fee holder was v. Department of Highways, — M —, 517 valid. Park County Rod and Gun Club P 2d 352.

32-3911. Conduct of sale. (1) The department shall publish notice of the sale in a newspaper published in the county in which the interest is located once a week for two (2) successive weeks. Sale shall be held in the county wherein the property is located unless the department finds it impractical in which case the sale will be held at the office of the department at the capitol.

(2) Before the sale of an interest having a value in excess of one hundred dollars ($100), the department shall have it appraised at a price representing a fair market value. The appraised value shall be stated in the published notice.

(3) A sale may not be made of an interest unless it has been appraised within three (3) months prior to the date of the sale. A sale may not be made for less than ninety per cent (90%) of the appraised value.

(4) Title to an interest may not pass from the state until the purchaser has paid the full amount of the purchase price into the state treasury to the credit of the department.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1974, once by Ch. 21 and once by Ch. 218. Neither amendatory act mentioned or entirely incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

Chapter 21, Laws of 1974, substituted the last sentence of subsection (1) for a sentence reading: "Sale shall be held at the office of the commission at the capitol."

Chapter 316, Laws of 1974, substituted references to "department" in subsections (1), (2), and (4) for references to "commission" and made minor changes in phraseology.

32-3912. Option of original owner or successor in interest to purchase at sale price. The owner from whom the interest was originally acquired, or his successor in interest, shall have the option to purchase the interest by offering therefor an amount of money equal to the highest bid received for the interest at the sale. The offer shall be sent to the department by registered mail within ten (10) days from the date of the sale.

History: En. Sec. 8-112, Ch. 197, L. 1965; amd. Sec. 135, Ch. 316, L. 1974.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department" for "commission."

32-3913. Private sale if no bid or offer. (1) If, after proper notice is published, the department receives neither bid at public sale nor offer from the original owner of his successor in interest, it may at any time thereafter sell the interest at private sale. At the sale, the department may accept as the purchase price an amount of money not less than ninety per cent (90%) of the appraised value.

(2) Title to an interest may not pass from the state until the purchaser has paid the full amount of the purchase price into the state treasury to the credit of the department.

(2) The department may sell at public or private sale, as it determines, maps, books, pamphlets, or other printed matter, prepared or acquired by the department. The department may sell copies of highway records to the public and may set reasonable prices for them.

(3) The proceeds from sales made under this section shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the department.

(2) The deed or patent shall contain a reservation of easements for rights of way for the benefit of the United States, and all other reservations to which the land conveyed may be subject.

32-3916. Rendering irrigable lands unusable—unpaid construction costs. (1) Whenever the department acquires irrigable land for highway purposes, or acquires land as to render other irrigable land unusable for irrigation, it shall pay to the owner of the irrigation or drainage project, in addition to other sums allowed by law, a proportionate share of the unpaid construction costs of the project or drainage district.

(2) The department shall also pay a lump-sum amount to the district sufficient to produce on an amortized basis for a reasonable period not to exceed ninety (90) years, a sum of money equal to the annual increase in operation and maintenance costs against the remaining lands under irrigation in the district resulting from the severance from the district of the lands acquired by the department and not overcome by bringing in new or additional land under irrigation. For the purpose of determining the amount of the lump-sum payment, the annual operation and maintenance assessment of the district shall be considered to be the average for the five (5) years, or so many years as the district has assessment experience, if less than five (5) years, preceding the date of acquisition.

Amendments

The 1969 amendment added the second paragraph.

The 1974 amendment substituted "department" for "commission" throughout the section; and made minor changes in phraseology and style.

Effective Date

Section 2 of Ch. 299, Laws 1969 provided the act should be in effect from and after its passage and approval. Approved March 11, 1969.

Cost of Future Operation and Maintenance

State highway commission is not obligated to pay irrigation district for future cost of operation and maintenance attributable to lands taken within irrigation district for highway purposes since lands taken will not continue to benefit from services of irrigation district, notwithstanding fact that takings have reduced total irrigable acreage of district and thereby increased per acre cost of operation and maintenance of district. Helena Valley Irrig. Dist. v. State Highway Commission, 150 M 192, 433 P 2d 791.

32-3917. Abandonment or vacation of federal-aid or state highways. Every federal-aid or state highway once established must continue until abandoned or vacated by operation of law, or by judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction, or by a proper order of the commission.

History: En. Sec. 8-117, Ch. 197, L. 1965.

32-3918. Highway crossing railroad, canal, or ditch. (1) Whenever any federal-aid or state highway is laid out on public lands across any railroad, canal, or ditch, the owners or users thereof must, at their expense, so prepare the railroad, canal, or ditch that the highway may cross it without damage or delay.

(2) When the right to cross is obtained through the judgment of any court, no damages shall be awarded.

History: En. Sec. 8-118, Ch. 197, L. 1965.

32-3919. Repealed.

Repeal

Section 32-3919. (Sec. 8-119, Ch. 197, L. 1965), relating to rights of way for toll bridges, was repealed by Sec. 209, Ch. 316, Laws of 1974.

32-3920. Acquisition of property for controlled access facility. (1) The highway authorities of the state, counties, incorporated cities and towns, respectively, or in co-operation one with the other, may acquire private or public property and property rights for controlled access highways or controlled access facilities and service roads. Such rights may include rights of access, air, view, and light. They may be acquired by gift, devise, purchase, or condemnation, in the same manner as may now or hereafter be authorized by law for the acquisition of property or property rights in connection with highways, roads, and streets in their respective jurisdictions.

(2) A right of way is hereby given, dedicated, and set apart for controlled access highways or controlled access facilities through, over, upon, or across any county road and any street or alley intersecting a controlled access highway. Acquisition of any county road, street, or alley for use as a controlled access highway or controlled access facility shall be deemed a superior and more necessary public use and purpose than the public use or purpose to which such road, street, or alley has theretofore been dedicated.

DECISIONS UNDER FORMER LAW

Judicial Determination of Necessity

In adopting former section 32-2006 (controlled access highway law) the legislature is presumed to have considered sections 93-9905 and 93-9911, R. C. M.

1947, and the power to determine the public necessity of a proposed highway or facility remains with the trial judge. State Highway Commission v. Yost Farm Co., 142 M 239, 384 P 2d 277.

32-3921, 32-3922. Repealed.

Repeal

Sections 32-3921 and 32-3922 (Secs. 1, 2, Ch. 212, L. 1969; Sec. 1, Ch. 426, L. 1971), relating to authorization for payment of moving expenses of persons affected by real property acquisitions, were repealed by Sec. 209, Ch. 316, Laws of 1974.

32-3923. Definitions. In sections 32-3923 through 32-3931:

(a) "Displaced person" means any individual, family, business or farm operation which moves from real property acquired for state highway purposes or for a federal-aid highway.

(b) "Individual" means a person who is not a member of a family.

32-3925. Compensation for moving expense as part of cost of construction—fixed payments in lieu of actual expense—dwelling—business or farm operation. (a) As a part of the cost of construction the department may compensate a displaced person for his actual and reasonable expense in moving himself, family, business or farm operation, including moving personal property, and for his actual direct losses of tangible personal property as a result of moving or discontinuing a business or farm operation, not to exceed an amount equal to the reasonable expenses that would have been required to relocate the property, as determined by the department, and actual reasonable expenses in searching for a replacement business or farm.

(b) A displaced person who moves from a dwelling may elect to receive, instead of the payments authorized by subsection (a), a moving expense allowance, determined according to a schedule established by the department, not to exceed three hundred dollars ($300), and in addition a dislocation allowance of two hundred dollars ($200).

(c) A displaced person who moves or discontinues his business or farm operation may elect to receive instead of the payment authorized by subsection (a), a fixed relocation payment in an amount equal to the average annual net earnings of the business or farm operation, except that the payment may not be less than two thousand five hundred dollars (\$2,500) nor more than ten thousand dollars (\$10,000). In the case of a business, a payment may not be made under this subsection unless the department is satisfied that the business cannot be relocated without a substantial loss of patronage, and is not a part of a commercial enterprise having at least one (1) other establishment, not being acquired, which is engaged in the same or similar business. For purposes of this subsection, the term "average annual net earnings" means one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) of any net earnings of the business or farm operation, before federal and state income taxes, during the two (2) taxable years immediately preceding the taxable year in which the business or farm operation moves from the real property acquired for the project or during such other period which the department determines to be more equitable for establishing the earnings, and includes any compensation paid by the business or farm operation to the owner, his spouse or his dependents during this two (2) year period. To be eligible for the payment authorized by this subsection, the business or farm operation must make its state income tax returns available and its financial statements and accounting records available for audit and confidential use to determine the payment authorized by this subsection.

(b) A payment, if any, which will compensate the displaced person for increased costs which the person is required to pay for financing the acquisition of a comparable replacement dwelling. This payment shall be made only if the dwelling acquired by the department was encumbered by a bona fide mortgage which was a valid lien on the dwelling for not less than one hundred eighty (180) days prior to the initiation of negotiations for the acquisition of the dwelling. The discount rate shall be the prevailing interest rate paid on savings deposits by commercial banks in the general area in which the replacement dwelling is located;

(c) The payment of reasonable expenses incurred by the displaced person for evidence of title, recording fees, and other closing costs incidental to the purchase of replacement dwelling but not including prepaid expenses.

(2) Payments shall be made only to a displaced owner who purchases and occupies a dwelling, that meets standards established by the department, within one (1) year subsequent to the date on which he is required to move from the dwelling acquired for the project.

(b) The payment, not to exceed four thousand dollars ($4,000), shall be the additional amount which is necessary to enable the individual or family to lease or rent for a period not to exceed four (4) years, or to make the down payment on the purchase of a decent, safe and sanitary dwelling of standards adequate to accommodate the individual or family in areas not generally less desirable in regard to public utilities and public and commercial facilities, except that if the amount of the down payment to purchase exceeds two thousand dollars ($2,000), the individual or family must equally match the amount in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000) in making the down payment.

Sewer Easement

County possesses sufficient interest in right of way for county road created by common-law dedication, to grant permission, without adjoining property owners' consent, for installation of municipal sewer under the road even if adjoining property owners are not allowed to connect with the sewer line. Bolinger v. City of Bozeman, 158 M 507, 493 P 2d 1062.

32-4002. Petition by freeholders to establish, change, abandon, or discontinue a county road. Any ten, or a majority, of the freeholders of a road district, taxable therein for road purposes, may petition the board in writing to open, establish, construct, change, abandon, or discontinue any county road in the district. If the county is not divided into districts the entire county shall be one road district. When the road petitioned for is on the dividing line between two counties, the same procedure must be followed, except that a copy of the petition must be presented to each board. The two boards shall act jointly.

History: En. Sec. 8-202, Ch. 197, L. 1965.

32-4003. Contents of petition. The petition must set forth: (1) The particular road or roads to be opened, established, constructed, changed, discontinued, or abandoned.

(2) The general route thereof.

(3) The lands and owners affected.

The investigation shall be sufficient to properly determine the merits or demerits of the petition.

(2) No more than one member of the board and the county surveyor shall make the investigation. After considering the petition and the results of the investigation, the board shall make an entry of its decision on the minutes.

(3) Within ten (10) days thereafter, the board shall cause notice of its decision to be sent by certified mail to all owners of land abutting on the road petitioned for. The owners shall be those listed on the last county assessment roll.

History: En. Sec. 8-204, Ch. 197, L. 1965.

32-4005. Opening of road—survey. The board may order the county surveyor, or some other competent surveyor, if the county surveyor is incompetent to survey and plat the road. He shall file his fieldnotes with the county clerk and recorder. The surveyor shall receive seven dollars ($7) per day and actual traveling expenses.

Damages shall be paid to the owner or claimant, if known, upon his showing or establishing his right or title to the lands or improvements and furnishing proper deeds and releases.

(2) Damages must be determined by estimating the benefits and damages accruing. The sum estimated as benefits must be deducted from the sum estimated as damages, and the remainder, if any, shall be the amount of damages awarded.

The board shall, by order, direct that proceedings to procure the right of way be instituted under sections 93-9901—93-9926 by the county attorney against all nonaccepting landowners.

(2) Such proceedings shall in no way be affected or invalidated by the failure of the board to give any notice or do any act provided for in this part [chapter]. Failure to give any such notice shall not be considered by any court as a defense in any proceedings for procuring right of way.

(2) The board shall investigate in the same manner as provided in section 8-204 [32-4004]. After investigation, the board may order the making of the change if it can be done without material damage, injury, or serious inconvenience to the public customarily using the road or portion.

(3) Those petitioning for the change shall bear all or such portion of the cost and expense of making it as the board may order.

History: En. Sec. 8-209, Ch. 197, L. 1965.

32-4010. Notice to district supervisor of opening of county road. When a county road is to be opened, established, constructed, changed, abandoned, or discontinued, the county clerk shall notify the supervisor of the proper district and furnish him with a certified copy of the order of the board.

History: En. Sec. 8-210, Ch. 197, L.

32-4011. Record of opening or changing road. When a county road is opened or changed, the findings of the board, the plat fieldnotes, and the report of the surveyor shall be recorded in the office of the county clerk in a book kept for that purpose.

History: En. Sec. 8-211, Ch. 197, L.

It must then be recorded in the office of the clerk of the county where the land is located.

(2) When a right of way is condemned, a certified copy of the judgment of the court must be made. It must then be filed in the office of the clerk of the county where the land is located.

(2) When the right to cross is obtained through the judgment of any court, no damages shall be awarded.

History: En. Sec. 8-213, Ch. 197, L.

32-4014. Abandonment or vacation of county roads. All county roads once established must continue to be county roads until abandoned or vacated by operation of law, or by judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction, or by the order of the board. No order to abandon any county road shall be valid unless preceded by notice and public hearing.

History: En. Sec. 8-214, Ch. 197, L.

32-4015. Stock lanes. [1] Upon presentation of a proper petition, each board may establish, alter, or vacate stock lanes when it deems it expedient and necessary for the convenience of the public and for the convenience of travel on roads now established. Any lane may adjoin and parallel a county road and shall be described in the petition for creation and in the order of the board creating it.

(2) A stock lane is a county road established and maintained for the driving and travel of livestock. It shall be not less than sixty (60) feet wide. The width shall be determined by the board in the order creating it.

(3) The provisions of sections 8-201—8-214 of this part [32-4001 to 32-4014 of this chapter] and the general laws relating to establishing, altering, and vacating county roads including the exercise of the right of eminent domain shall apply to stock lanes. References in all petitions, orders, and proceedings shall be to "stock lanes" in order to differentiate them from other highways.

- Section 32-4101. Letting of contracts on state and federal-aid highways.
 32-4102. Competitive bidding.
 32-4103. Bidder's security—contractor's bond.

32-4101. Letting of contracts on state and federal-aid highways. All contracts for work on state and federal-aid highways, including portions in cities and towns, and all contracts entered into under section 11-1023 shall be let by the commission. Except as otherwise specifically provided, the commission may enter such types of contracts and upon such terms as it may decide. All contracts shall meet the requirements of sections 41-701—41-703. Chapters 41 and 42 of this title were 32-4102. Competitive bidding. (1) When the estimated cost of any work exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000), the commission shall let the contract by competitive bidding. Award shall be made upon such notice and upon such terms as the commission may prescribe by its rules and regulations. However, except when prohibited by federal law, the commission must make awards and contracts in accordance with the provisions of sections 82-1924 and 82-1926.

(2) If the commission finds that the work may be done in some more efficient manner, it need not let the contract by competitive bidding.

(3) If, on highway construction work financed in whole or in part by federal funds, the United States secretary of transportation affirmatively finds that under the circumstances relating to a particular project some method other than competitive bidding is in the public interest, the commission may enter into contracts with a board of county commissioners. These contracts may authorize each county to acquire rights of way for, survey, and construct farm to market, secondary, or feeder roads within the county by force account, unit price, or otherwise, as may be agreed by the commission and the board.

(4) If, on any highway construction work financed in whole or in part by federal funds the commission finds that enforcement of the provisions contained in sections 84-3507 and 82-1927, relating to public contractors working beyond contract time will result in a reduction in the full benefits of the Federal Highway Act of 1921 and all amendments thereto, it may waive enforcement of such provisions.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1974, once by Ch. 278 and once by Ch. 316. Neither amendatory act mentioned or incorporated the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

Chapter 278, Laws of 1974, added subsection (4).

Chapter 316, Laws of 1974, substituted "United States secretary of transportation" for "United States secretary of commerce" in the first sentence of subsection (3) and made minor changes in phraseology.

32-4103. Bidder's security—contractor's bond. (1) Whenever the commission calls for competitive bidding, each bidder shall meet all requirements of section 6-501 [R. C. M., 1947].

(2) Every contractor awarded a contract by the commission shall meet all requirements set forth in sections 6-401—6-404 [R. C. M., 1947]. For the purposes of those sections with relation to contracts with the commission, a contract shall not be completed until the commission, while formally convened, affirmatively accepts all of the work thereunder.

(b) That it is necessary and desirable that the rights of, or easements to access, light, air, or view be acquired by the state so as to prevent such portion of highway from becoming unsafe for or impeded by unrestricted access of traffic from intersecting streets, alleys, public or private roads or ways of passage.

(2) The resolution shall contain a statement of the reasons for its adoption, and shall set forth the location, distance, and termini of the portion of the highway designated as a controlled access highway.

(2) No person shall have any right to enter upon, exit from, or cross any controlled access facility except at designated points at which access may be permitted. Terms and conditions governing such access may be specified from time to time.

(2) After the establishment of any controlled access highway or facility, no private or public highway or street which is not a part of the highway or facility shall intersect it at grade. No street, road, highway, or other public way shall be opened into or connected with any controlled access highway or facility without the prior consent and approval of the appropriate highway authority.

(3) The commission may, whenever it determines that the public safety is not thereby impaired, authorize the continued intersection at grade of lightly traveled farm entrances and minor public roads as ways of access to controlled access highways in sparsely populated rural areas. The commission shall have sole jurisdiction to determine the existence and location of any intersection with interstate highways, throughways and other federal-aid and state highways.

Chapter 316, Laws of 1974, made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation.

The 1975 amendment inserted at the beginning of the section the exception for outdoor advertising more than 660 feet from the highway; and made a minor change in style.

32-4720. Permits required — identification tags — pre-existing structures. (1) A sign authorized by subsections (i), (iv), and (v) of subsection (a) of section 32-4717 may not be constructed or maintained without a permit. Applications for permits shall be made to the department on forms furnished by it. The department shall require reasonable information to be furnished, including a statement that the owner or occupant of the land has consented to the erection or maintenance of the sign on the land. A permit must be obtained for each sign and the application for the permit must be accompanied by an initial fee of six dollars ($6).

(2) Permits shall be issued for three (3) years, assigned a permit number, and renewed every three (3) years thereafter upon payment of three dollars ($3) without the filing of a new application. All fees received shall be paid into the state highway account in the earmarked revenue fund.

(3) The department shall issue with each new permit a permanent identification tag not larger than thirty-six (36) square inches which shall be affixed to the sign in a position readily visible from the highway.

(4) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, the department shall issue permits and identification tags, upon application and payment of the requisite fee for a structure lawfully in existence on June 23, 1971, and the permits shall thereafter be renewed for a period of time as is prescribed in this section, unless the structure is removed for improper maintenance.

(5) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, the department shall issue permits and identification tags, upon application and payment of the requisite fee for outdoor advertising lawfully in existence on the day prior to the effective date of this act and made nonconforming by virtue of subsection (c) of section 32-4717, and the permits shall thereafter be renewed for a period of time as is prescribed in this section, unless the structure is removed for improper maintenance.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1975, once by Ch. 22 and once by Ch. 216. Neither amendatory act mentioned nor included the changes made by the other. Since the amendments do not appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

The 1974 amendment substituted "department" for "commission" throughout the section; substituted "in existence on June 23, 1971" in subsection (4) for "in existence on the day prior to the effective date of this act"; and made minor changes in phraseology and style.

Chapter 216, Laws of 1975, added subsection (5).

32-4721. Notice of violations—remedial action. When the department determines that a willful false or misleading statement has been made in the application for a permit or that the structure for which a permit was issued is not in a reasonable state of repair, or is unsafe, the department shall notify the holder of the permit in writing, either by certified mail or by personal service, of the violation and specify that remedial action shall be taken within sixty (60) days or the permit will be revoked and action for removal of the sign commenced as provided in section 32-4722. No notice is required prior to filing a complaint after the notice period has lapsed.

(a) When erected after June 24, 1971, contrary to this act, or erected after the effective date of this act beyond six hundred sixty (660) feet of the nearest edge of the right of way of an interstate or primary highway outside of an urban area with the purpose of its message being read from such main traveled way and visible from such main traveled way, unless such outdoor advertising meets the criteria of subsections (i), (ii) or (iii) of subsection (a) of section 32-4717; or

(b) When a permit is not obtained as prescribed in this act; or

(c) When a permittee fails to comply with a notice of violation as provided in section 32-4721.

(2) The department shall give notice in writing, either by certified mail or by personal service, to the owner or occupant of the land on which advertising believed to be unlawful is located and to the owner of the outdoor advertising structure, if the latter is known, or if unknown, by posting notice in a conspicuous place on the structure, of its intention to remove the unlawful advertising. Within forty-five (45) days after the notice, the owner of the land or of the structure may make a written request for a hearing before the commission to show cause why the structure should not be removed.

(3) If a hearing before the commission is not requested, or if there is no appeal taken from the commission's decision at the hearing, or if the commission's decision is affirmed on appeal, the department shall immediately remove, or cause to be removed, the unlawful outdoor advertising. The owner of the structure and the owner or occupant of the land are jointly and severally liable for the costs of the removal. The department may enter upon lands bearing outdoor advertising and make examination of such advertising. The department may, upon final determination by the commission that an item of outdoor advertising is unlawful, enter upon lands bearing such advertising and remove the unlawful advertising. The department incurs no liability for the entry or entries except for injuries resulting from negligence, wantonness or malice.

The department may likewise acquire by gift, purchase, agreement, exchange or eminent domain existing outdoor advertising and property rights pertaining to the advertising which were lawfully in existence on the day prior to the effective date of this act and made nonconforming by virtue of section 2 [32-4717] of this act. Eminent domain shall be exercised in accordance with the laws of the state.

(b) Just compensation shall be paid for outdoor advertising and property rights pertaining to the advertising acquired through the process of eminent domain. The department may remove outdoor advertising found in violation of sections 32-4721 or 32-4722 without payment of compensation.

Except as provided in sections 32-4721 and 32-4722, a sign may not be required to be removed unless at the time of removal or discontinuance there are sufficient funds, from whatever source, appropriated and immediately available to pay the just compensation required under this section, and unless at that time the federal funds required to be contributed under section 131 (g) of Title 23, United States Code, with respect to the outdoor advertising being removed, have been apportioned and are immediately available to this state.

A separate license is required for each establishment; however, where more than one of each type of establishment is operated on the same premises and under the same management, only one license is required which shall enumerate on the certificate thereof the types of establishments licensed. Applications for a license shall be made in writing to the department on such forms and with such pertinent information as it considers necessary. Existing licenses shall be renewed as a matter of right, unless conditions exist which are grounds for a cancellation or denial of a license.

If determination is made to deny an initial application for a license, or if a renewal application is denied and a license canceled, the denial or cancellation shall be preceded by written notice of the grounds therefor and the opportunity to request a hearing before the board to show cause why the license should be denied.

(b) Each license shall expire on December 31 following its date of issue, unless canceled for cause. Renewal may be obtained annually by paying the required annual license fee. Such license shall not be transferable nor be applicable to any premises other than that for which originally issued.

(c) Before June 30 of each year, the department shall pay to a local board of health as established under section 69-4504, 69-4506, or 69-4507, R. C. Submission to the department of an acceptable plan of correction within ten

(10) days after receipt from the department of written notice of violation, and execution of an acceptable plan within the time prescribed in the written notice of approval of the plan by the department shall be a bar to prosecution for violation.

(2) A license may not be denied or canceled by the department without delivery to the applicant or licensee of a written statement of the grounds therefor or the charge involved and an opportunity to answer at a hearing before the department to show cause, if any, why the license should not be denied or canceled. In such case, the licensee must make a written request to the board for a hearing within ten (10) days after notice of the grounds or charges has been received.

The bonds may be issued as serial bonds payable in annual installments or as term bonds or as a combination thereof. The notes and bonds shall bear interest at a rate, or rates, be in denominations, be in a form, either coupon or registered, carry registration privileges, be executed in a manner, be payable in a medium of payment, at places within or without the state, and be subject to terms of redemption as provided in resolutions. The notes and bonds of the board may be sold at public or private sale, at prices determined by the board.

(5) The total amount of notes and bonds outstanding at any one time may not exceed seventy-five million dollars ($75,000,000). (2) All funds held in the capital reserve account shall be used solely for the payment of the principal of bonds secured in whole or in part by the account or of the sinking fund payments with respect to the bonds, the purchase or redemption of the bonds, the payment of interest on the bonds or the payment of any redemption premium required to be paid when the bonds are redeemed prior to maturity. Funds in the account shall not be withdrawn at any time in an amount which reduces the amount of the account to less than the sum of minimum capital reserve requirements established for the account, except for the purpose of making, with respect to bonds secured in whole or in part by the account, payment, when due,

If any amount of the bonds is required to be redeemed on an earlier date by the operation of a sinking fund, then that amount is considered payable on those bonds during the year they are to be redeemed for the purposes of this calculation.

(4) In computing the amount of the capital reserve account, securities in which all or a portion of the account shall be invested shall be valued at par, or if purchased at less than par, at their cost to the board.

The governor shall include in the executive budget submitted to the legislature, the sum required to restore the capital reserve account to the sum of minimum capital reserve requirements. All sums appropriated by the legislature shall be deposited in the capital reserve account.

(2) All amounts appropriated to the board by the legislature under this section constitute advances to the board and, subject to the rights of the holders of any bonds or notes of the board, shall be repaid to the state's general fund without interest from available operating revenues of the board in excess of amounts required for the payment of bonds, notes or other obligations of the board, for maintenance of the capital reserve account and for operating expenses.

Amendments

The 1973 amendment deleted "Article 8, Section 1" following "constitution of Montana" in subsection (8).

36-204. Procedure. (1) Whenever any controversy exists between the spouses which may, unless a reconciliation is achieved, result in the dissolution or annulment of the marriage or in the disruption of the household, and there is any minor child of the spouses or of either of them whose welfare might be affected thereby, the conciliation court shall have jurisdiction over the controversy, and over the parties thereto and all persons having any relation to the controversy as further provided in this chapter.

(2) Prior to the filing of any action for divorce, annulment or separate maintenance, either spouse, or both spouses, may file in the conciliation court a petition invoking the jurisdiction of the court for the purpose of preserving the marriage by effecting a reconciliation between the parties, or for amicable settlement of the controversy between the spouses, so as to avoid further litigation over the issue involved.

(3) The petition shall be captioned substantially as follows:

District Court of the State of Montana

For the County of _____

Upon the petition of _____ Petitioner

Petition for Conciliation
(Under the Conciliation Court Law)

And concerning _____

Respondents.

To the Conciliation Court:

(4) The petition shall:

(a) Allege that a controversy exists between the spouses and request the aid of the court to effect a reconciliation or an amicable settlement of the controversy.

(b) State the name and age of each minor child whose welfare may be affected by the controversy.

(c) State the name and address of the petitioner, or the names and addresses of the petitioners.

(d) If the petition is presented by one spouse only, name the other spouse as a respondent, and state the address of that spouse.

(e) Also name as a respondent any other person who has any relation to the controversy, and state the address of the person, if known to the petitioner.

(f) State such other information as the court may by rule require.

(5) The clerk of the court shall provide, at the expense of the county, blank forms for petitions for filing pursuant to this chapter. The probation officers of the county and the attaches and employees of the conciliation court shall assist any person in the preparation and presentation of any such petition, when any person requests such assistance. All public officers in each county shall refer to the conciliation court all petitions and complaints made to them in respect to controversies within the jurisdiction of the conciliation court.

(6) No Fees. No fee shall be charged by any officer for filing the petition, nor shall any fee be charged by any officer for the performance of any duty pursuant to this chapter.

(7) Time and Place of Hearings. The court shall fix a reasonable time and place for hearing on the petition, and shall cause such notice of the filing of the petition and the time and place of the hearing as it deems necessary to be given to the respondents. The court may, when it deems it necessary, issue a citation to any respondent requiring him to appear at the time and place stated in the citation, and may require the attendance of witnesses as in other civil cases.

(8) For the purpose of conducting hearings pursuant to this chapter, the conciliation court may be convened at any time and place within the district, and the hearing may be had in chambers or otherwise, except that the time and place for hearing shall not be different from the time and place provided by law for the trial of civil actions if any party, prior to the hearing, objects to any different time or place.

(9) Hearings Informal. The hearing shall be conducted informally as a conference or series of conferences to effect a reconciliation of the spouses or an amicable adjustment or settlement of the issues of the controversy. To facilitate and promote the purposes of this act the court may, with the consent of both of the parties to the proceeding, recommend or invoke the aid of physicians or psychiatrists, or other specialists or scientific experts, or of the pastor or director of any religious denomination to which the parties may belong. Such aid, however, shall not be at the expense of the court or of the county, unless the county commissioners of the county specifically provide and authorize such aid.

(10) Orders—Effective Time—Reconciliation Agreement. At or after hearing, the court may make such orders in respect to the conduct of the spouses and the subject matter of the controversy as the court deems necessary to preserve the marriage or to implement the reconciliation of the spouses, but in no event shall such orders be effective for more than thirty (30) days from the hearing of the petition, unless the parties mutually consent to a continuation of such time.

Any reconciliation agreement between the parties may be reduced to writing and, with the consent of the parties, a court order may be made requiring the parties to comply fully therewith.

(11) During a period beginning upon the filing of the petition for conciliation and continuing until thirty (30) days after the hearing of the petition for conciliation, neither spouse shall file any action for divorce, annulment of marriage, or separate maintenance.

If, however, after the expiration of such period, the controversy between the spouses has not been terminated, either spouse may institute proceedings for divorce, annulment of marriage or separate maintenance. The pendency of a divorce, annulment, or separate maintenance action shall not operate as a bar to the instituting of proceedings for conciliation under this chapter.

(12) Stay of Divorce Proceedings—Where Conciliation Petition Filed First. Whenever any action for divorce, annulment of marriage, or separate maintenance is filed in the district court, and it appears to the court at any time during the pendency of the action that there is any minor child of the spouses or of either of them whose welfare may be adversely affected by the dissolution or annulment of the marriage or the disruption of the household, and that there appears to be some reasonable possibility of a reconciliation being effected, the case may be transferred to the conciliation court for proceedings for reconciliation of the spouses or amicable settlement of issues in controversy, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

(13) Jurisdiction Where No Minors Involved. Whenever application is made to the conciliation court for conciliation proceedings in respect to a controversy between spouses, or a contested action for divorce, annulment, or separate maintenance, but there is no minor child whose welfare may be affected by the results of the controversy, and it appears to the court that reconciliation of the spouses or amicable adjustment of the controversy can probably be achieved, and that the work of the court in cases involving children will not be seriously impeded by acceptance of the case, the court may accept and dispose of the case in the same manner as similar cases involving the welfare of children are disposed of. In the event of such application and acceptance, the court shall have the same jurisdiction over the controversy and the parties thereto or having any relation thereto that it has under this chapter in similar cases involving the welfare of children.

History: En. Sec. 4, Ch. 238, L. 1963.

36-205. Powers of the court. Amendments

The 1973 amendment substituted "second month" for "third month" near the beginning of the second and last paragraphs; deleted the third and fourth sentences of the second paragraph, which distinguished between debt matters and others; inserted "at least" before "five per cent (5%)" in the fourth sentence of the fourth paragraph; substituted "qualified electors" for "registered voters" in the fourth sentence of the fourth paragraph; and substituted "the election at which the proposed measure(s) will be voted upon" for "such regular general election" in the first sentence of the last paragraph.

Chapter 108, Laws of 1974 substituted references to "department of administration" for "state purchasing agent" throughout the section; substituted "no later than five (5) weeks" for "not later than the first Monday of the second month next" in the first sentence of subsection (2); substituted "no later than four (4) weeks before" for "before the second Monday in the second month next preceding" in the first sentence of subsection (5); and substituted "within two (2) weeks" for "within thirty (30) days" in the second sentence of subsection (5).

Chapter 326, Laws of 1974 inserted the numerical subsection designations at the beginning of the paragraphs; substituted references to "department of administration" for "state purchasing agent" throughout the section; deleted a third sentence in subsection (5) which read:

"The mailing of said pamphlets to electors shall be a part of the official duty of the county clerk of each of the several counties, and his official compensation shall be full compensation for this additional service"; and made minor changes in phraseology and punctuation.

The 1975 amendment deleted "in news type, each page to be six inches wide by nine inches long, and when the proposed measure constitutes less than six pages, it shall be printed flat" after "shall be printed" in subsection (3); deleted three sentences at the beginning of subsection (4) which read "When the proposed measure constitutes more than six pages, the measure shall be printed in pamphlet form, securely stapled, without cover. It shall be the duty of the state board of canvassers to proceed within thirty (30) days after the election at which such measures are voted upon, and sooner if the returns be all received, to canvass the votes given for each measure, and the governor shall forthwith issue his proclamation, giving the whole number of votes cast in the state for and against each measure and question, and declaring such measures as are approved by a majority of those voting thereon to be in effect the first day of July following its approval, unless the amendment provides otherwise, designating such measures by their titles.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1973, once by Ch. 37 and once by Ch. 454. Neither amendatory act mentioned the other. The two amendments appear to conflict with respect to the section references substituted for the former references to section 23-1812 and 23-1813; in this respect, the compiler has used the text of Chapter 454, the later in time of approval. Since the amendments do not otherwise appear to conflict, the compiler has made a composite section embodying the other changes made by both amendments.

Amendments

Chapter 37, Laws of 1973, substituted a reference to sections 23-3314 and 23-4015 near the end of the first sentence for a reference to former sections 23-1812 and 23-1813; deleted from the second sentence a requirement that the governor's proclamation be published "in two daily newspapers printed at the capital"; substituted July 1 following approval for the date of the proclamation as the effective date of approved measures; inserted "unless the amendment provides otherwise" near the end of the section; and made minor changes in phraseology and style.

Chapter 454, Laws of 1973, substituted the reference to section 23-4015 near the end of the first sentence for a reference to former sections 23-1812 and 23-1813; and inserted "at which such measures are voted upon" near the beginning of the second sentence.

37-109. (107) Who may petition—false signature—penalties. Each qualified elector of the state of Montana may sign a petition for the referendum or for the initiative or for constitutional referendum or constitutional initiative. Any person signing any name other than his own to a petition, or signing one more than once for the same measure at one election, or who is not, at the time of signing a petition, a qualified elector of this state, or any officer or any person willfully violating any provision of this statute, shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment in the penitentiary not exceeding two (2) years, or by both.

History: En. Sec. 9, Ch. 62, L. 1907; Sec. 114, Rev. C. 1907; re-en. Sec. 107, R. C. M. 1921; amd. Sec. 4, Ch. 35, L. 1973; amd. Sec. 8, Ch. 454, L. 1973.

Compiler's Notes

This section was amended twice in 1973, once by Ch. 35 and once by Ch. 454. Neither amendatory act mentioned the other. Since the changes made by Ch. 35 included the change made by Ch. 454, the compiler has used the text of Ch. 35 above.

Amendments

Chapter 35, Laws of 1973, added references to the constitutional referendum and constitutional initiative at the end of the first sentence; substituted "qualified elector" for "legal voter" in the middle of the second sentence; deleted "in the discretion of the court before which such conviction shall be had" at the end of the section; and made numerous minor changes in phraseology and style.

Chapter 454, Laws of 1973, substituted "qualified elector" for "legal voter" in the middle of the second sentence.

(1) Resolutions may be proposed by the legal voters of any county in this state, in the manner provided in this act. Fifteen per cent (15%) of the legal voters of any county may propose to the board of county commissioners a resolution on a subject within the legislative jurisdiction and powers of such county commissioners, or a resolution amending or repealing any prior resolution or resolutions. Petitions shall be filed with the county clerk. The county clerk shall present the same to the board at its first meeting next following the filing of the petition. The board may, within sixty (60) days after the presentation of the petition to the board, adopt the resolution as set forth in the petition. Before submitting such resolution to the people, the board may direct that a suit be brought in the district court in and for the county to determine whether the petition and ordinance are regular in form, and whether the ordinance so proposed would be valid and constitutional. If the board determines that a suit must be brought, the suit shall be filed within fifteen (15) days after presentation of the petition to the board. The procedure for judicial review shall be the same as that provided for the cities in section 11-1104 (4) and (5).

such resolution or any resolution so similar thereto as not to be materially different therefrom. If during such two (2) year period the board enacts a resolution similar to the one repealed pursuant to initiative of the voters, a suit may be brought to determine whether the new resolution is a re-enactment without material change of the one so repealed. The same procedures set forth for cities shall apply to such suit and determination of the issues arising thereon. Nothing herein contained shall prevent exercise of the initiative herein provided for, at any time, to procure a re-enactment of a resolution repealed pursuant to initiative of the voters.

(4) In the case of a person who has been admitted to a residential facility for up to thirty (30) days of evaluation and treatment, or who, pursuant to the recommendation of a professional person, may be admitted to a residential facility for an extended course of habilitation, a waiver of rights can be knowingly and intentionally made only with the concurrence of the person's counsel, if any, his parents or guardian, and the responsible person appointed by the court, if any.

(5) In the case of a minor, the waiver of rights can be knowingly and intentionally made:

(c) when the minor is over the age of twelve (12) and the minor and his parents do not agree, the minor can make an effective waiver of his rights only with the advice of counsel

If the court believes that there may be a conflict of interest between a minor and his parents or guardian, the court may appoint a responsible person or guardian ad litem for the minor.

38-1204. Assistance of professional person. (1) The parents or guardian of any person alleged to be developmentally disabled or the person himself may at any time request the assistance of a professional person in determining whether the person is developmentally disabled, the extent of such disability, and the most appropriate course of treatment, habilitation and education for the person alleged to be developmentally disabled.

(2) Whenever the parents or guardian of a person alleged to be developmentally disabled or the person himself request a course of evaluation and treatment, they shall ascertain, with the professional person who undertakes the case, the least restrictive means of evaluating and treating the person alleged to be developmentally disabled. Evaluation and treatment in a residential facility shall take place only upon certification by the professional person in charge of the case that adequate community-based facilities are not available reasonably near the place of residence of the person alleged to be developmentally disabled. Residential evaluation and treatment shall not be for more than thirty (30) days without subsequent proceedings before the court.

History: En. 38-1204 by Sec. 4, Ch. 468, L. 1975.

38-1205. Procedure for reporting developmentally disabled. (1) Any person who believes that there is a person who is developmentally disabled and in need of developmental disability services may report the situation to a professional person. If the professional person believes from the facts given to him that the person may be developmentally disabled and in need of developmental disability services, he shall contact the parents or guardian of the person alleged to be developmentally disabled or the person himself. If any of the persons so contacted refuse to co-operate with the professional person and if the professional person believes from all the circumstances of the case that the person may be developmentally disabled and in need of developmental disabilities services he shall request the county attorney to file a petition alleging that there is a person in the county who is developmentally disabled and in need of developmental disabilities services.

(2) The petition shall contain the name and address of:

(a) the professional person and any other person requesting the petition, and their interest in the case;

(b) the name and address of the respondent;

(c) the name and address of the parents or guardian of the respondent, and of any other person believed to be legally responsible for the care, support and maintenance of the respondent;

(d) the name and address of the respondent's next of kin, to the extent known;

(e) the name and address of any person whom the county attorney believes might be willing and able to be appointed responsible person; and

(f) a statement of the rights of the respondent and his parents or guardian which shall be in conspicuous print and identified by a suitable heading.

(3) Upon presentation to the court by the county attorney, the court shall immediately consider the petition with or without a hearing to determine if there is probable cause to believe that the respondent is developmentally disabled and in need of evaluation and treatment. If the court finds no such probable cause it shall dismiss the petition. If the court finds that probable cause does exist it shall direct a professional person to examine the respondent and to make an inquiry concerning the circumstances of the case. Such examination shall not exceed four (4) hours in length. If probable cause is found the court may appoint a responsible person other than the respondent's parents or guardian to protect the interests of the respondent. The responsible person shall be notified as soon as possible that a petition has been filed. Notice of the petition and the finding of probable cause shall be mailed or delivered to the respondent and to all other persons named in the petition and to any person who would have been named in the petition had his name, address, and relationship to the respondent been known at the time.

(4) When the professional person first contacts the respondent, before he begins any examination, he shall give the respondent a copy of the petition and explain to the respondent the nature of the proceeding and his rights as set forth in the petition. If the respondent is incapable of understanding the explanation and proceeding, the professional person shall give the petition and make the explanation to the parents or guardian of the respondent. Before making any inquiry of the parents or guardian of the respondent, the professional person shall give them a copy of the petition, explain the nature of the proceeding and their rights as set forth in the petition.

History: En. 38-1205 by Sec. 5, Ch. 468, L. 1975.

38-1206. Petition dismissal—hearing—counsel—treatment. (1) If the professional person, based on his examination and inquiry, determines that the respondent is not developmentally disabled or is not in need of developmental disability services, he shall report this finding in writing to the court and the petition shall be dismissed. If the professional person concludes that the respondent is developmentally disabled and in need of developmental disability services, he shall report this conclusion to the court in writing together with his recommendations for evaluation and treatment. The report shall include an explanation of the basis on which the professional person has reached his conclusion and shall include a description of any tests or evaluation devices he has employed. If the professional person's recommendation is for further evaluation and treatment, notice of this recommendation shall be sent to the respondent, his parents or guardian, the next of kin, the responsible person appointed by the court, if any, any attorney representing the respondent or his parents or guardian. If no responsible person has yet been appointed, the court may appoint one at this time.

(2) If the respondent, his parents or guardian, the responsible person, if any, or counsel for any party requests a hearing on the recommendation, the court shall set a time and place for hearing. The hearing shall be before the court without a jury. The rules of civil procedure shall apply.

(3) Prior to any hearing held pursuant to this section, the court shall appoint counsel to represent the respondent, if the respondent has not retained independent counsel. The parents or guardian shall be informed of their right to counsel and if they are indigent the court shall, on their request, appoint counsel for them. In no case shall the same attorney represent the respondent and his parents or guardian.

(4) If the hearing is waived or if the court finds, after hearing, that the respondent is developmentally disabled and in need of further evaluation and treatment, the court shall order that the respondent undergo such evaluation and treatment. Evaluation and treatment ordered pursuant to this subsection shall be for no more than thirty (30) days. It shall take place in the least restrictive environment in which the necessary evaluation and treatment can be accomplished. Evaluation and treatment in a residential facility shall be ordered only if the necessary evaluation and treatment cannot be accomplished through the use of community-based facilities.

History: En. 38-1206 by Sec. 6, Ch. 468, L. 1975.

38-1207. Recommendation—hearing on certain treatment. (1) If as a result of the evaluation and treatment ordered by the court, the professional person in charge of the case recommends a course of habilitation and treatment at the community level making use of community and regional based services for the developmentally disabled, he shall report his recommendation in writing to the court. The recommendation shall be accompanied by a written report indicating the factual basis for the recommendation and describing any tests or evaluation devices which the professional person has employed in evaluating the respondent. If this course of treatment and habilitation is agreed to by the parents, guardian, person evaluated, responsible person, if any, and counsel for the person evaluated, if any, then this community-based course of treatment shall be commenced as soon as practicable, and the petition shall be dismissed.

(2) If any of the parties listed in the preceding paragraph object to the community-based course of treatment, they may request the court to conduct a hearing on the matter. If a responsible person has not yet been appointed, the court may appoint a responsible person prior to the hearing. Notice of the time, date and place of the hearing shall be mailed or delivered to all of the parties listed in the preceding paragraph, and to the attorney for the parents or guardian, if any. The hearing shall be held before the court without a jury. The rules of civil procedure shall apply. If the court finds that the respondent is developmentally disabled and in need of community-based developmental disabilities services, it shall order that the respondent undertake a community-based course of treatment and habilitation.

History: En. 38-1207 by Sec. 7, Ch. 468, L. 1975.

38-1208. Recommendation to residential facility. (1) If as a result of the evaluation and treatment either agreed to by the parents, guardian, or the person himself pursuant to section 38-1204 or ordered by the court, the professional person in charge of the case concludes that the person evaluated is seriously developmentally disabled and recommends that treatment and habilitation be had in a residential facility on an extended basis, the professional person shall file his written recommendation and report with the court and request that the court order the admission. The report shall include the factual basis for the recommendation, and shall describe any tests or evaluation devices which have been employed in evaluating the patient. If no responsible person has yet been appointed, the court may appoint one at this time. If there is no parent or guardian the court shall appoint a responsible person. At the request of the respondent, his parents or guardian or the responsible person, the court shall appoint counsel for the respondent. If the parents or guardian are indigent and if they request it, the court shall appoint counsel for the parents or guardian. Notice of the recommendation shall be mailed or delivered to the respondent, his parents or guardian, the responsible person, next of kin, if known, and the attorney for the respondent, if any, and for the parents or guardian, if any.

(2) The respondent, his parents or guardian, the responsible person, or the attorney for any party may request that a hearing be had on the recommendation. If a hearing is requested, the court shall mail or deliver notice of the date, time and place of the hearing to each of the parties listed at the beginning of this subsection. The hearing shall be to the court without jury. The rules of civil procedure shall apply.

(3) If the court finds that the respondent is seriously developmentally disabled and that available community-based services are not adequate, it shall order the respondent admitted to a residential facility for an extended course of treatment and habilitation. If the court finds that the respondent is developmentally disabled, and in need of developmental disabilities services but that available community-based services are adequate, it shall order the respondent to undertake a community-based course of treatment and habilitation. If the court finds that the respondent is not developmentally disabled or is not in need of developmental disability services, it shall dismiss the request.

(4) If none of the parties notified of the recommendation request a hearing, the court may issue an order authorizing the person to be admitted to the residential facility for an extended period of treatment and habilitation, or the court may initiate its own inquiry as to whether the order should be granted. The court may refuse to authorize admission of a person to a residential facility for an extended period of treatment and habilitation if such admission is not in the best interests of the person.

(5) If any person is admitted to a residential facility for an extended course of habilitation without a hearing, and if subsequent to such admission one of the parties who could have requested a hearing learns that an alternative course of treatment is available which is more suitable to the needs of the resident, the party may request the professional person in charge of the resident to release the resident to the alternative, if it is a community-based alternative, or transfer the resident to the alternative, if it is a residential alternative. Any such transfer or release shall comply with the requirements of section 38-1209. If the professional person in charge of the resident refuses to authorize the release or transfer, then the party may petition the court for a hearing to determine whether the present residential alternative should be continued. The hearing shall comply with the procedures set forth in subsection (2) of this section.

History: En. 38-1208 by Sec. 8, Ch. 468, L. 1975.

38-1209. Admission to residential facility. (1) No person shall be admitted to a residential facility for longer than thirty (30) days except on approval of the court. Whenever a person is admitted to a residential facility for longer than thirty (30) days, the court may appoint a person other than the parents or guardian to act as responsible person for the resident. If there is no parent or guardian, the court shall appoint a responsible person.

(2) The court order approving the admission shall specify the maximum period of time for which the person is admitted to the residential facility. In no case shall this maximum period exceed one (1) year.

(3) If at any time during the period for which a person is admitted to a residential facility for an extended period of habilitation and treatment, the professional person in charge of the resident decides that there exist sufficient community-based alternatives to provide adequate treatment and habilitation for the resident, or that it is in the best interests of the resident that he be transferred to another residential facility, then he may release the resident to such community-based alternative or transfer the resident to the other residential facility no less than fifteen (15) days after sending notice of the proposed release or transfer to the resident, his parents or guardian, the attorney who most recently represented the resident, if any, the responsible person appointed by the court, if any, and the court which ordered the admission. If any of the parties so notified objects to the release or transfer, they may petition the court for a hearing to determine whether the release or transfer should be allowed. The hearing shall comply with the procedures set forth in section 38-1208. The court may on its own initiative inquire concerning the propriety of the release or transfer. Nothing in this subsection shall prevent the transfer of a resident to a hospital or other medical facility for necessary medical treatment, or emergency transfer of a resident to a mental health facility, provided such emergency transfer complies with the statutory requirements for emergency detention of the mentally ill. Within twenty-four (24) hours of an emergency medical or psychiatric transfer, notice shall be given to the parents or guardian of the resident, the responsible person appointed by the court, if any, and the court.

(4) If the professional person in charge of the resident determines that the admission to the residential facility should continue beyond the period specified in the court order, he shall, at least fifteen (15) days before the end of the period set out in the court order, send written notice of his recommendation and request for renewal of the order to the court which issued the order, the resident, his parents or guardian, the next of kin, if known, the attorney who most recently represented the resident, if any, and the responsible person appointed by the court, if any. The recommendation and request shall be accompanied by a written report which shall describe the habilitation plan which has been undertaken for the resident and the future habilitation plan which is anticipated by the professional person.

(5) If any person so notified requests a hearing, the court shall set a time and place for the hearing and shall mail or deliver notice to all of the persons informed of the recommendation. The hearing shall be conducted in the manner set out in section 38-1208. If the court finds that the residential admission is still justified, it may order continuation of the admission to that residential facility or transfer of the resident to a different residential facility. If the court finds that the resident is still in need of developmental disabilities services but does not require residential treatment, it shall order an appropriate course of community-based habilitation, or, if all parties are willing for the resident to participate in a community-based program of habilitation, it shall dismiss the petition. If the need for developmental disabilities services no longer exists, the court shall dismiss the petition. The court shall not order continuation of admission to a residential facility which does not have an individualized habilitation plan for the resident. In its order, the court shall make findings of fact on which its order is based. The court may on its own initiative inquire concerning the suitability of continuing an admission to a residential facility.

Except that at the request of any party, or the professional person who must be present at the hearing, a hearing may be held in the district court for the district where the respondent is undergoing evaluation, treatment or habilitation in a residential facility, or is undergoing community-based evaluation, treatment or habilitation. The cost of any hearing held pursuant to this act shall be borne by the county where the respondent resides.

History: En. 38-1210 by Sec. 10, Ch. 468, L. 1975.

38-1211. Appeal. Any order issued by a court after a hearing held pursuant to any provision of this act may be appealed to the Montana supreme court in the same manner as for civil appeals generally.

History: En. 38-1211 by Sec. 11, Ch. 468, L. 1975.

History: En. 38-1214 by Sec. 14, Ch. 468, L. 1975.

38-1215. Limitation on who takes treatment. No person who has reached the age of majority shall be compelled against his will to undertake a course of treatment and habilitation solely because he is developmentally disabled, but only if such disability causes him to be unable to protect his life and health.

History: En. 38-1215 by Sec. 15, Ch. 468, L. 1975.

38-1216. Emergency admission. The parents, guardian, the person himself, or a professional person may admit a person believed to be developmentally disabled to a residential facility on an emergency basis when necessary to protect the person from death or serious bodily harm. However, if requested by the parents, guardian or the person admitted on an emergency basis, a petition as set out in section 38-1205 shall be filed on the next judicial day by the county attorney of the county where the person resides. If a petition is filed, the professional person assigned by the court to conduct the examination and inquiry shall report back to the court on the next judicial day following the filing of the petition. Once a petition is filed, continued detention in the residential facility shall be allowed only on order of the court when necessary to protect the respondent from death or serious bodily harm. In no case shall an emergency admission to a residential facility continue for longer than thirty (30) days without subsequent proceedings before the court.

History: En. 38-1216 by Sec. 16, Ch. 468, L. 1975.

38-1217. Denial of legal rights. (1) Unless specifically stated in an order by the court, a person admitted to a residential facility for an extended course of habilitation shall not forfeit any legal right or suffer any legal disability by reason of the provisions of this act except in so far as it may be necessary to detain the person for habilitation, evaluation or care.

(2) Whenever any person is admitted to a residential facility for a period of more than thirty (30) days, for an extended course of habilitation, the court ordering the admission may make an order stating specifically any legal rights which are denied the respondent and any legal disabilities which are imposed on him. As part of its order, the court may appoint a person to act as conservator of the respondent's property. Any conservatorship created pursuant to this section shall terminate upon the conclusion of the admission if not sooner terminated by the court. A conservatorship or guardianship extending beyond the period of the admission may not be created except according to the procedures set forth under Montana law for the appointment of conservators and guardians generally.

(3) Any person who has been admitted to a residential facility pursuant to this act shall be automatically restored upon the termination of the admission to all of his civil and legal rights which may have been lost when he was admitted. This subsection shall not affect, however, any guardianship or conservatorship created independently of the admission proceedings, according to the provisions of Montana law relating to the appointment of conservators and guardians generally. Any person who leaves a residential facility following a period of evaluation and habilitation shall be given a written statement setting forth the substance of this subsection.

(4) Any person admitted to a residential facility prior to the effective date of this act shall enjoy all the rights and privileges of a person admitted after the effective date of this act.

History: En. 38-1217 by Sec. 17, Ch. 468, L. 1975.

38-1218. Placement in a nonstate facility. (1) If a person is admitted to a residential facility under the provisions of this act and is eligible for hospital care, treatment or habilitation by an agency of the United States, and if a certificate of notification from such agency showing that facilities are available and that the person is eligible for care or treatment therein is received, the court may order the person to be placed in the custody of the agency for hospitalization. The chief officer of any hospital or residential facility operated by the agency and in which the person is admitted shall, with respect to the person, be vested with the same powers as the superintendent of the Boulder River school and hospital with respect to detention, custody, transfer and release of the person. Jurisdiction shall be retained in the appropriate courts of this state to inquire into the mental condition of persons so admitted, and to determine the necessity for continuance of their admission.

(2) Consistent with other provisions of this act, a person admitted to a residential facility under this act for a period more than thirty (30) days may be committed by the court to the custody of friends or next of kin residing outside the state or transferred to a residential facility located outside the state, if the out-of-state facility agrees to receive the person, provided, however that no such commitment or transfer shall be for a longer period of time than is permitted within the state. If the person is indigent, the expense of supporting him in an out-of-state facility and the expense of transportation shall be borne by the state of Montana.

(3) The transfer of persons admitted to a residential facility under the provisions of this act out of Montana or under the laws of another jurisdiction into Montana shall be governed by the provisions of the interstate compact on mental health.

(2) No other nonmedical or nonhabilitative photographs shall be taken or used without consent of the resident's parents or guardian or the responsible person appointed by the court.

History: En. 38-1220 by Sec. 20, Ch. 468, L. 1975.

(1) Residents shall have a right to dignity, privacy and humane care.

(2) Residents shall be entitled to send and receive sealed mail. Moreover, it shall be the duty of the facility to foster the exercise of this right by furnishing the necessary materials and assistance.

(3) Residents shall have the same rights and access to private telephone communication as patients at any public hospital, except to the extent that a professional person responsible for formulation of a particular resident's habilitation plan writes an order imposing special restrictions and explains the reasons for any such restrictions. The written order must be renewed monthly if any restrictions are to be continued. Residents shall have an unrestricted right to visitation, except to the extent that a professional person responsible for formulation of a particular resident's habilitation plan writes an order imposing special restrictions and explains the reasons for any such restrictions. The written order must be renewed monthly if any restrictions are to be continued.

(4) Residents shall have a right to receive suitable educational services regardless of chronological age, degree of retardation or accompanying disabilities or handicaps.

(5) Each resident shall have an adequate allowance of neat, clean, suitably fitting and seasonable clothing. Except when a particular kind of clothing is required because of a particular condition, residents shall have the opportunity to select from various types of neat, clean, and seasonable clothing. Such clothing shall be considered the resident's throughout his stay in the institution. Clothing both in amount and type shall make it possible for residents to go out of doors in inclement weather, to go for trips or visits appropriately dressed, and to make a normal appearance in the community. The facility shall make provision for the adequate and regular laundering of the residents' clothing.

(6) Each resident shall have the right to keep and use his own personal possessions except in so far as such clothes or personal possessions may be determined to be dangerous, either to himself or to others, by a professional person.

(7) A resident has a right to a humane physical environment within the residential facilities. These facilities shall be designed to make a positive contribution to the efficient attainment of the habilitation goals of the resident. To accomplish this purpose:

(a) Regular housekeeping and maintenance procedures which will ensure that the facility is maintained in a safe, clean and attractive condition shall be developed and implemented.

(b) Pursuant to an established routine maintenance and repair program, the physical plant shall be kept in a continuous state of good repair and operation so as to ensure the health, comfort, safety and well-being of the residents and so as not to impede in any manner the habilitation programs of the residents.

(c) The physical facilities must meet all fire and safety standards established by the state and locality. In addition, the facility shall meet such provisions of the life safety code of the national fire protection association as are applicable to it.

(d) There must be special facilities for nonambulatory residents to assure their safety and comfort, including special fittings on toilets and wheelchairs. Appropriate provision shall be made to permit nonambulatory residents to communicate their needs to staff.

(8) Residents shall have a right to receive prompt and adequate medical treatment for any physical ailments and for the prevention of any illness or disability. Such medical treatment shall meet standards of medical practice in the community.

(9) Corporal punishment shall not be permitted.

(10) The opportunity for religious worship shall be accorded to each resident who desires such worship. Provisions for religious worship shall be made available to all residents on a nondiscriminatory basis. No individual shall be compelled to engage in any religious activities.

(11) Residents shall have a right to a nourishing, well-balanced diet. The diet for residents shall provide at a minimum the recommended daily dietary allowance as developed by the national academy of sciences. Provisions shall be made for special therapeutic diets and for substitutes at the request of the resident, or his parents or guardian or next of kin, or the responsible person appointed by the court, in accordance with the religious requirements of any resident's faith. Denial of a nutritionally adequate diet shall not be used as punishment.

(12) Residents shall have a right to regular physical exercise several times a week. It shall be the duty of the facility to provide both indoor and outdoor facilities and equipment for such exercise. Residents shall have a right to be outdoors daily in the absence of contrary medical considerations.

(13) Residents shall have a right, under appropriate supervision, to suitable opportunities for the interaction with members of the opposite sex, except where a professional person responsible for the formulation of a particular resident's habilitation plan writes an order to the contrary and explains the reasons therefor. The order must be renewed monthly if the restriction is to be continued.

History: En. 38-1221 by Sec. 21, Ch. 468, L. 1975.

38-1222. Other rights while in a residential facility. (1) Persons admitted to residential facilities shall have a right to habilitation, including medical treatment, education and care, suited to their needs, regardless of age, degree of retardation or handicapping condition. Each resident has a right to a habilitation program which will maximize his human abilities and enhance his ability to cope with his environment. Every residential facility shall recognize that each resident, regardless of ability or status, is entitled to develop and realize his fullest potential. The facility shall implement the principle of normalization so that each resident may live as normally as possible.

(2) Residents shall have a right to the least restrictive conditions necessary to achieve the purposes of habilitation. To this end, the facility shall make every attempt to move residents from:

- (a) more to less structured living;
- (b) larger to smaller facilities;
- (c) larger to smaller living units;
- (d) group to individual residence;
- (e) segregated from the community to integrated into the community living;
- (f) dependent to independent living.

(3) Within thirty (30) days of his admission to a residential facility, each resident shall have an evaluation by appropriate specialists for programming purposes.

(4) Each resident shall have an individualized habilitation plan formulated by the facility. This plan shall be developed by appropriate professional persons and implemented as soon as possible but no later than fourteen (14) days after the resident's admission to the facility. An interim program of habilitation, based on the preadmission evaluation conducted pursuant to this act, shall commence promptly upon the resident's admission. Each individualized habilitation plan shall contain:

- (a) a statement of the nature of the specific limitations and specific needs of the resident;
- (b) a description of intermediate and long-range habilitation goals with a projected timetable for their attainment;
- (c) a statement of, and an explanation for, the plan of habilitation for achieving these intermediate and long-range goals;
- (d) a statement of the least restrictive setting for habilitation necessary to achieve the habilitation goals of the resident;
- (e) a specification of the professional persons and other staff members who are responsible for the particular resident's attaining these habilitation goals;

(f) criteria for release to less restrictive settings for habilitation, including criteria for discharge and a projected date for discharge.

(5) As part of his habilitation plan, each resident shall have an individualized post-institutionalization plan. This plan shall be developed by a professional person who shall begin preparation of such plan upon the resident's admission to the institution and shall complete such plan as soon as practicable. The parents or guardian or next of kin of the resident, the responsible person appointed by the court, if any, and the resident, if able to give informed consent, shall be consulted in the development of such plan and shall be informed of the content of such plan.

(6) In the interests of continuity of care, one professional person shall whenever possible be responsible for supervising the implementation of the habilitation plan, integrating the various aspects of the habilitation program, and recording the resident's progress as measured by objective indicators. This professional person shall also be responsible for ensuring that the resident is released when appropriate to a less restrictive habilitation setting.

(7) The habilitation plan shall be continuously reviewed by the professional person responsible for supervising the implementation of the plan and shall be modified if necessary. In addition, six (6) months after admission and at least annually thereafter, each resident shall receive a comprehensive psychological, social, educational and medical diagnosis and evaluation, and his habilitation plan shall be reviewed by an interdisciplinary team of no less than two (2) professional persons and such resident care workers as are directly involved in his habilitation and care. A habilitation plan shall be reviewed monthly.

(8) Each resident discharged to the community shall have a program of transitional habilitation assistance.

(9) The professional person in charge of the residential facility shall report in writing to the parents or guardian of the resident, or the responsible person, at least every six (6) months on the resident's educational, vocational and living skills progress and medical condition. Such report shall also state any appropriate habilitation program which has not been afforded to the resident because of inadequate habilitation resources.

(10) The parents or guardian of each resident, or the responsible person appointed by the court, shall promptly upon resident's admission receive a written copy of all the above standards for adequate habilitation. Each resident, if the resident is able to comprehend, shall promptly upon his admission be orally informed in clear language of the above standards and, where appropriate, be provided with a written copy.

38-1227. Hazardous treatment — physical restraint. (1) Residents of a residential facility shall have a right not to be subjected to any unusual or hazardous treatment procedures without the express and informed consent of the resident, if the resident is able to give such consent, and of his parents or guardian or the responsible person appointed by the court, after opportunities for consultation with independent specialists and legal counsel. Such proposed procedures shall first have been reviewed and approved by the mental disabilities board of visitors before such consent shall be sought.

(2) Physical restraint shall be employed only when absolutely necessary to protect the resident from injury to himself or to prevent injury to others. Restraint shall not be employed as punishment, for the convenience of staff, or as a substitute for a habilitation program. Restraint shall be applied only if alternative techniques have failed and only if such restraint imposes the least possible restriction consistent with its purpose. Only a professional person may authorize the use of restraints. Orders for restraints by a professional person shall be in writing and shall not be in force for longer than twelve (12) hours. Whenever physical restraint is ordered suitable provision shall be made for the comfort and physical needs of the person restrained.

(3) Seclusion, defined as the placement of a resident alone in a locked room for nontherapeutic purposes, shall not be employed. Legitimate "time out" procedures may be utilized under close and direct professional supervision as a technique in behavior-shaping programs.

(4) Behavior modification programs involving the use of noxious or aversive stimuli shall be reviewed and approved by the mental disabilities board of visitors and shall be conducted only with the express and informed consent of the affected resident, if the resident is able to give such consent, and of his parents or guardian or the responsible person appointed by the court, after opportunities for consultation with independent specialists and with legal counsel. Such behavior modification programs shall be conducted only under the supervision of and in the presence of a professional person who has had proper training in such techniques.

(5) No resident shall be subjected to a behavior modification program which attempts to extinguish socially appropriate behavior or to develop new behavior patterns when such behavior modifications serve only institutional convenience.

(6) Electric shock devices shall be considered a research technique for the purpose of this act. Such devices shall only be used in extraordinary circumstances to prevent self-mutilation leading to repeated and possibly permanent physical damage to the resident and only after alternative techniques have failed. The use of such devices shall be subject to the conditions prescribed by this act for experimental research generally and shall be used only under the direct and specific order of the professional person in charge of the residential facility.

Residents of a residential facility shall have a right not to be subjected to experimental research without the express and informed consent of the resident, if the resident is able to give such consent, and of his parents or guardian or the responsible person appointed by the court after opportunities for consultation with independent specialists and with legal counsel. Such proposed research shall first have been reviewed and approved by the mental disabilities board of visitors before such consent shall be sought. Prior to such approval the board shall determine that such research complies with the principles of the statement on the use of human subjects for research of the American association on mental deficiency and with the principles for research in-

38-1229. Resident labor. The following rules shall govern resident labor:

(1) No resident shall be required to perform labor which involves the operation and maintenance of the facility or for which the facility is under contract with an outside organization. Privileges or release from the facility shall not be conditioned upon the performance of labor by this provision. Residents may voluntarily engage in such labor if the labor is compensated in accordance with the minimum wage laws of the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. sec. 206, as amended.

(2) No resident shall be involved in the care (feeding, clothing, bathing), training or supervision of other residents unless he:

- (a) has volunteered;
- (b) has been specifically trained in the necessary skills;
- (c) has the humane judgment required for such activities;
- (d) is adequately supervised; and
- (e) is reimbursed in accordance with the minimum wage laws of the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. sec. 206, as amended.

(3) Residents may be required to perform vocational training tasks which do not involve the operation and maintenance of the facility, subject to a presumption that an assignment of longer than three (3) months to any task is not a training task, provided the specific task or any change in task assignment is:

- (a) an integrated part of the resident's habilitation plan and approved as a habilitation activity by a professional person responsible for supervising the resident's habilitation;
- (b) supervised by a staff member to oversee the habilitation aspects of the activity.

(4) Residents may voluntarily engage in rehabilitative labor at non-program hours for which the facility would otherwise have to pay an employee, provided the specific labor or any change in labor is:

- (a) an integrated part of the resident's habilitation plan and approved as a habilitation activity by a professional person responsible for supervising the resident's habilitation;
- (b) supervised by a staff member to oversee the habilitation aspects of the activity; and
- (c) compensated in accordance with the minimum wage laws of the Fair Labor Standards Act, 29 U.S.C. sec. 206, as amended.

(5) If any resident performs rehabilitative labor which involves the operation and maintenance of a facility, but due to physical or mental disability is unable to perform the labor as efficiently as a person not so physically or mentally disabled, then the patient may be compensated at a rate which bears the same approximate relation to the statutory minimum wage as his ability to perform that particular job bears to the ability of a person not so afflicted.

(6) Residents may be required to perform tasks of a personal house-keeping nature such as the making of one's own bed.

(7) Deductions or payments for care and other charges shall not deprive a resident of a reasonable amount of the compensation received pursuant to this section for personal and incidental purchases and expenses.

(8) Staffing shall be sufficient so that the facility is not dependent upon the use of residents or volunteers for the care, maintenance or habilitation of other residents or for income-producing services. The facility shall formulate a written policy to protect the residents from exploitation when they are engaged in productive work.
